expansion of demography Assessing the Demographic Impact of Development Projects A. S. Oberai, 2022-08-30
 First published in 1992 Assessing the Demographic Impact of Development Projects based on studies in developing countries focuses on conceptual methodological and policy issues related to development projects It considers whether demographic effects can be assessed and why development planners should be interested in such an assessment A S Oberai examines the extent to which economic and social changes generated by specific development interventions have influenced demographic behaviour in a particular context He suggests how desired effects can be enhanced and undesired effects minimized by policy makers and planners in developing countries in order to deal with problems of population growth and its distribution The major shortcomings of existing methodologies are identified and the author indicates the future direction which research might take in order to be more scientifically valid and useful to policy makers This book is a must read for scholars and researchers of development studies political economy and labour economy Growth, Structural Change and Regional Inequality in Malaysia Asan Ali Golam Hassan, 2017-11-30 Economic development in the long run is seen as a process of structural change that is affected by economic growth Malaysia is one of the middle income economies that are going through rapid structural change Since the mid 1980s it has changed to an industrially based economy with large scale export of electrical and electronic components However thirty years after Malaysia's redistributive policies have been exercised regional inequality still exists This book examines the nature and impact of regional policies in relation to the patterns of demographic and economic structural change and in relation to growth distribution and income disparities across regions in Peninsular Malaysia The book also explores the degree to which differences in regional manufacturing distribution and concentration have contributed to regional inequality It concludes with a number of recommendations for regional policies that will reduce this inequality Labour and Population Programme International Labour Office, 1991 Provides bibliographic references of some 500 publications and documents issued by the Labour and Population Programme between 1972 and 1990 with abstracts from the ILO's LABORDOC data base The book covers research education and training as well as particular target groups such as women Agricultural Land Reform in South Africa Johan Van Zyl, Johann Kirsten, Hans P. Binswanger, 1996 The fiercely contested issue of land reform is crucial to the success of the Reconstruction and Development Programme In this broad ranging yet rigorous study leading researchers provide the theoretical framework and a major South African land reform initiative The book places the issue of land at the center of the debate about the RDP provides comprehensive coverage of the latest research findings policies and proposals gives a clear understanding of the arguments around land reform and of the principles underlying a market assisted redistribution process and analyzes international experience and the South African policy and legal environment in order to evaluate land reform options and make far reaching proposals Scholarly and topical Agricultural Land Reform in South Africa is an indispensable resource for academics students development economists practitioners and policy makers and will be valuable in the development of agricultural land reform programs both local and international Bibliography of Published Research of the World Employment Programme International Labour Office,1991 Resettlement and Rural Development in Ethiopia Comitato internazionale per lo sviluppo dei popoli,1992 The Politics of Migration in Indonesia and Beyond Riwanto Tirtosudarmo,2019-01-22 This book examines the social and political dimensions of migration from a perspective between the realms of demography and politics It approaches the issue of migration by highlighting the important power relations that have previously been neglected in studies in the area The book starts by investigating Indonesian migration to provide an understanding of internal migration It then looks beyond its national borders for a wider understanding of Asia and showcases several case studies both in Indonesia and beyond to illustrate the intricate politics of migration Further it considers the politics of migration from the sending country perspective and unravels the link between migration and security The book provides reviews of the wider literature relating to population mobility and distribution and shows readers how to adopt a new perspective in the study of movement of people an issue that is becoming increasingly important as movement of people unfolds globally in terms of both volume and direction This book is a valuable resource for students academics and researchers in the area of demography and social politics especially those interested in migration and refugees It also offers insights for those interested in understanding decentralization in greater depth Abstracts on Rural Development in the Tropics ,1990 Bibliographic Note ,1983 Land Settlement Policies and Population Redistribution in Developing Countries A. S. Oberai,1988-01-26 Land Settlement Policies and Population Redistribution in Developing Countries provides a comparative analysis initiated by the International Labour Office of land settlement policies and programs in developing countries under various socioeconomic conditions It reports the findings of nine case studies conducted in countries which have established resettlement schemes The major focus of the studies is the identification of the factors that have contributed to the success or failure of resettlement schemes from the point of view of the populations concerned in relation to the original objectives of the policymakers and with respect to development objectives other than population distribution Livelihoods and Land Use Change in Rural South Africa Brent McCusker,2001 Migration

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is an exceptional and thrilling novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
