Lingua Franca in the Corporate Environment Sonja Schricker, 2016-12-06 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2013 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade 2.0 University of Applied Sciences Südwestfalen
Meschede language English abstract This bachelor thesis aims to evaluate the opportunities and risks that the use of English as a common language within an enterprise poses. It addresses the resulting challenges and offers possible ways to approach these. In particular, the need to assess employees' language proficiency will be examined more in depth. Two popular language tests, the TOEIC and the BULATS test, will be introduced and compared in order to appraise their value to a company that plans to intensify the corporate use of English. Also, the specific challenges that arise regarding the training of employees will be explained in detail as well as those in establishing the use of English in the enterprise. Furthermore, this thesis intends to give insight on the definition of the term Lingua Franca in former times as well as its modern usage. To enhance the understandability of why it is English that is chosen as the universal language, the history of the language is briefly described. Finally, from the entirety of investigations, conclusions on the choice of English as company language shall be drawn and an outlook on the possible future of English as the World Language shall be given.

English in Japan in the Era of Globalization P. Seargeant, 2011-01-01 Leading scholars in the field examine the role played by the English language in contemporary Japanese society. Their various chapters cover the nature, status and function of English in Japan, focusing on the ways in which globalization is influencing language practices in the country.

The Evolution of English Language Learners in Japan Yoko Kobayashi, 2018-01-19 This book seeks a better understanding of the sociocultural and ideological factors that influence English study in Japan and study abroad contexts such as university bound high schools, female dominant English classes at college, ESL schools in Canada and private or university affiliated ESL programs in Singapore and Malaysia. The discussion is based not only on data garnered from Japanese EFL learners and Japanese overseas educators but also on official English language policies and commercial magazine discourses about English study for Japanese people. The book addresses seemingly incompatible themes that are either entrenched in or beyond Japan's EFL context such as Japan's decades long poorly performing English education vs its equally long lived status as an economic power, Japanese English learners' preference for native English speakers' norms in at home Japanese EFL contexts vs their friendship with other Asian students in western study abroad contexts, Japanese female students' dream of using English to further their careers vs Japanese working women's English study for self enrichment, Japanese society's obsession with globalization through English study vs the Japanese economy sustained by monolingual Japanese businessmen, Japanese business magazines' frequent cover issues on global business English study vs Japanese working women's magazines' less frequent and markedly feminized discourses about English study.
