Transcultural Negotiations of Gender Saugata Bhaduri, Indrani Mukherjee, 2015-09-18 Transcultural Negotiations of Gender probes into how gender is negotiated along the two axes of belonging and longing the twin desires of being located within a cultural milieu while yearning for either what has passed by or what is yet to come It also probes into the category of transculturality itself by examining how not only does it pertain to the coming together of cultures from diverse spatial locations but how shifts over time and changing performative modes and technological means of articulation within what may be presumed to be the same culture can also lead to the transcultural The volume comprises four sections Part I Be longing in Time examines negotiation of gender through transcultural acts of myths rituals and religious practices being revised and revisited over time Part II Be longing in Space studies how gender is renegotiated when people from different spaces interact as also when public spaces and domains themselves become sites of such negotiations In Part III Performing Be longing such transcultural negotiations are located in the context of changing modes of performance considering particularly that gender itself is performative The final section Modernity Technology and Be longing traces how gender becomes transculturally negotiated in a space like India with the advent of modernity and its companion technology Enhancing Capabilities through Labour Law Supriya Routh, 2014-03-26 In 2002 the International Labour Organization issued a report titled Decent work and the informal economy in which it stressed the need to ensure appropriate employment and income rights at work and effective social protection in informal economic activities Such a call by the ILO is urgent in the context of countries such as India where the majority of workers are engaged in informal economic activities and where expansion of informal economic activities is coupled with deteriorating working conditions and living standards This book explores the informal economic activity of India as a case study to examine typical requirements in the work lives of informal workers and to develop a means to institutionalise the promotion of these requirements through labour law Drawing upon Amartya Sen's theoretical outlook the book considers whether a capability approach to human development may be able to promote recognition and work life conditions of a specific category of informal workers in India by integrating specific informal workers within a social dialogue framework along with a range of other social partners including state and non state institutions While examining the viability of a human development based labour law in an Indian context the book also indicates how the proposals put forth in the book may be relevant for informal workers in other developing countries This research monograph will be of great interest to scholars of labour law informal work and workers law and development social justice and labour studies Human Rights, Realities and Possibilities L.J.
