The Valley I Never Touched Mannat

Sharma, 2025-06-22 The Valley I Never Touched is a deeply reflective exploration of Kashmir its history politics silences and survival written by someone who has never lived there but has spent years listening from afar This book is not an attempt to speak for Kashmir but to understand its complexity with care and humility Through vivid storytelling historical context and cultural insight the author traces the lived experiences of communities often reduced to footnotes Kashmiri Pandits Muslims Sikhs Gujjars and more amid shifting borders broken promises and erasures The narrative journeys through chapters that span from the abrogation of Article 370 to the loss of heritage the exodus of families and the resilience of forgotten voices It sheds light on the emotional and political consequences of conflict while emphasizing the need for remembrance in the face of silence Richly researched and written with restraint the book blends personal reflection with documented truth It does not offer solutions it asks the questions that often go unasked The Valley I Never Touched is a tribute to empathy dignity and the quiet urgency of bearing witness

The Mughal Aviary: Women's Writings in Pre-Modern India Sabiha

Huq, 2022-04-15 This volume delves into the literary lives of four Muslim women in pre modern India Three of them Gulbadan Begam 1523 1603 the youngest daughter of Emperor Babur Jahanara 1614 1681 the eldest daughter of Emperor Shah Jahan and Zeb un Nissa 1638 1702 the eldest daughter of Emperor Aurangzeb belonged to royalty Thus they were inhabitants of the Mughal zenana an enigmatic liminal space of qualified autonomy and complex equations of gender politics Amidst such constructs Gulbadan Begam's Humayun Nama biography of her half brother Humayun reflecting on the lives of Babur's wives and daughters Jahanara's hagiographies glorifying Mughal monarchy and Zeb un Nissa's free spirited poetry that landed her in Aurangzeb's prison are discursive literary outputs from a position of gendered subalternity While the subjective selves of these women never much surfaced under extant rigid conventions their indomitable understanding of home world antinomies determinedly emerge from their works This monograph explores the political imagination of these Mughal women that was constructed through statist interactions of their royal fathers and brothers and how such knowledge percolated through the relatively cloistered communal life of the zenana The fourth woman Habba Khatoon 1554 1609 famously known as the Nightingale of Kashmir offers an interesting counterpoint to her royal peers As a common woman who married into royalty her husband Yusuf Shah Chak was the ruler of Kashmir in 1579 1586 her happiness was short lived with her husband being treacherously exiled by Emperor Akbar Khatoon's verse which voices the pangs of separation was that of an ascetic who allegedly roamed the valley and is famed to have introduced the lol lyric into Kashmiri poetry Across genres and social positions of all these writers this volume intends to cast hitherto unfocused light on the emergent literary sensibilities shown by Muslim women in pre modern India
