

An Introduction to Ship Automation and Control Systems

Revised Edition

Alex Stefani ME (Marine Engineer)

A photograph of a ship's bridge control panel. The panel is light blue and features a large, tilted touchscreen display on the right side, which shows a complex interface with various data fields and graphs. Below the screen are several control elements, including a numeric keypad with red and black buttons, a smaller keypad, and several rectangular control panels with buttons and switches. A black microphone is mounted on the panel. In the background, white storage cabinets with drawers are visible. A black office chair is partially visible on the left side of the frame. The entire image has a teal-colored circular overlay on the left side, which contains the title and author information.
