Script Melancholia Lars Von Trier:

Lars von Trier Beyond Depression Linda Badley, 2022-02-15 Lars von Trier built a reputation as a provocateur from the start but in the late 2000s he entered an even more inflammatory phase Amid Cannes controversies Antichrist 2009 Melancholia 2011 Nymphomaniac 2013 14 and The House That Jack Built 2018 brandished the cinematic virtuosity von Trier once banned under the Dogme 95 Manifesto while subjecting audiences to extreme cinema Following von Trier's experience of clinical depression in 2006 and 2007 these films took an aggressively personal and retrospective turn against the backdrop of the director's controversy courting public appearances Playing against widespread assumptions Linda Badley takes a reparative approach offering an in depth examination of these four films and the contexts that produced them Drawing on numerous interviews with the director and his collaborators as well as inside access to archival materials she provides a thorough and comprehensive account of von Trier's preproduction and creative process Highlighting a transmedial turn Badley tracks von Trier's artistic touchstones from Wagner Proust and the Marquis de Sade to Scandinavian erotic cinema and serial killer genre tropes She considers his portrayals of mental illness and therapy gender and sexuality nature and extinction shedding light on the thematic concerns that unite these films as a distinct cycle Offering nuanced readings of these films the book emphasizes the significance of von Trier's work for current critical and philosophical debates showing how they engage with notions of the Anthropocene dark ecology and the postcinematic

Honig, Lori Jo Marso, 2016 The disturbing and intense films of Lars von Trier are often dismissed as misogynist misanthropic or anti humanist This book however invites us to engage with his work to found a new feminist vision and discover what might be distinctively hopeful for the future of our fragile human condition Lars von Trier's Cinema Rebecca Ver Straten-McSparran, 2021-11-11 This book offers a bold and dynamic examination of Lars von Trier's cinema by interweaving philosophy and theology with close attention to aesthetics through style and narrative It explores the prophetic voice of von Trier's films juxtaposing them with Ezekiel's prophecy and Ricoeur's symbols of evil myth and hermeneutics of revelation The films of Lars von Trier are categorized as extreme cinema inducing trauma and emotional rupture rarely paralleled while challenging audiences to respond in new ways This volume argues that the spiritual biblical content of the films holds a key to understanding von Trier's oeuvre of excess Spiritual conflict is the mechanism that unpacks the films notorious excess with explosive centrifugal force By confronting the spectator with spiritual conflict through evil von Trier's films truthfully and prophetically expose the spectator's complicity in personal and structural evil forcing self examination through theological themes analogous to the prophetic voice of the transgressive Hebrew prophet Ezekiel his prophecy and its form of delivery Placed in context with the prophetic voices of Dante Milton Dostoyevsky O'Connor and Tarkovsky this volume offers a theoretical framework beyond von Trier It will be of great interest to scholars in film studies film and philosophy film and theology FilmCraft: Producing Geoffrey Macnab, Sharon Swart, 2013-07-04 Responsible for hiring all members of cast and crew from the director onwards the producer's role is central to the making of any film and responsibilities can include everything from script development to securing financing to masterminding a film's marketing campaign While few film producers are household names they wield a degree of control that only the biggest name directors can aspire to As with all of the FilmCraft titles this book is based on new indepth interviews and features such greats as Tim Bevan Marin Karmitz Jeremy Thomas Jon Kilik Lauren Shuler Donner Jan Chapman and Peter Aalbak Jensen Cultivating Extreme Art Cinema Simon Hobbs, 2018-08-01 Using paratextual theory to address the accusations of gimmickry often directed towards extreme art films Cultivating Extreme Art Cinema focuses upon the DVD and Blu ray object analysing how sleeve designs blurbs and special features shape the identity of the film Sacrifice and Modern Thought Julia Meszaros, Johannes Zachhuber, 2013-10-03 Sacrifice has always been central to the study of religion yet attempts to understand and assess the concept have usually been controversial The present book which is the result of several years of interdisciplinary collaboration suggests that in many ways the fascination with sacrifice has its roots in modernity itself Theological developments following the Reformation the rediscovery of Greek tragedies and the encounter with the practice of human sacrifice in the Americas triggered a complex and passionate debate in the sixteenth century which has never since abated Contributors to this volume leading experts from theology anthropology and literary and cultural studies describe and discuss how this modern fascination for the topic of sacrifice has evolved how it has shaped theological debate the literary imagination and anthropological theory Individual chapters discuss in depth major theological trajectories theories of sacrifice including those of Marcel Mauss and Ren Girard and current feminist criticism They engage with sacrifice in the context of religious and philosophical thought works of literature and film They explore different yet overlapping aspects of modernity's obsession with sacrifice The book does not intend to impose a single narrative over all these diverse contributions but brings them into a conversation around a common centre

The Big Screen David Thomson,2012-10-16 An engaging primer on film history examining the rise of movies their influence and the technology that conveys them New York Times Book Review The Big Screen tells the enthralling story of the movies and their signal role in modern life their rise and spread their remarkable influence over us and the technology that made the screen smaller now but ever more ubiquitous as important as the images it carries At first film was a waking dream the gift of appearance delivered for a nickel to huddled masses sitting in the dark But soon and abruptly movies began transforming our societies and our perceptions of the world The celebrated film authority David Thomson takes us around the globe through time and across many media moving from Eadweard Muybridge to Steve Jobs from Sunrise to I Love Lucy from John Wayne to George Clooney from television commercials to streaming video to tell the complex gripping paradoxical story of the movies Does the big screen take us out into the world or merely mesmerize us That is Thomson's question in this grand adventure of a book This passionate and provocative feat of storytelling is vital to anyone trying to make sense of the age of screens the age that more than ever we are living in Erudite and entertaining Lisa Schwarzbaum Entertainment Weekly Thomson has a deft conversational style across an amazing range of topics fresh and insightful Clint O'Connor The Plain Dealer Cleveland For those who take their films seriously The Big Screen will have you both rethinking some mainstream ideas and reorganizing your Netflix queue Neal Justin Star Tribune Minneapolis Knowing It When You See It Patrick O'Donnell, 2021-02-01 Perched as he was at the beginning of literary modernism and the evolution of film as a medium Henry James addressed a cluster of epistemological and aesthetic issues related to the visualization of reality In Knowing It When You See It Patrick O'Donnell compares several late novels and stories by Henry James with a series of films directed by Michael Haneke Alfred Hitchcock Quentin Tarantino Christopher Nolan and Lars Von Trier O'Donnell argues that these issues find parallels in films made at the other end of an arc extending from the last decades of the nineteenth century to the initial years of the twenty-first In mapping affinities between literature and film he is not concerned with adaptation or discursivity but rather with how the visual is represented in two mediums with how seeing becomes knowledge how framing what is seen becomes a critical part of the story that is conveyed and how the perspective of the camera or the narrator shapes reality Both James and these later auteurs think visually in ways that interilluminate their fictions and films and newly bring into relief the trajectory of modernity in relation to visuality Sad Planets Dominic Pettman, Eugene Thacker, 2024-03-28 Everything is sad wrote the Ancient poets But is this sadness merely a human experience projected onto the world or is there a gloom attributable to the world itself Could the universe be forever weeping the tears of things In this series of meditations Dominic Pettman and Eugene Thacker explore some of the key negative affects both eternal and emergent associated with climate change environmental destruction and cosmic solitude In so doing they unearth something so obvious that it has gone largely unnoticed the question of how we should feel about climate change Between the information gathered by planetary sensors and the simple act of breathing the air new unsettling moods are produced for which we currently lack an adequate language Should we feel grief over the loss of our planet Or is the strange feeling of witnessing mass extinction an indicator that the planet was never ours to begin with Sad Planets explores this relationship between our all too human melancholia and a more impersonal sorrow nestled in the heart of the cosmic elements Spanning a wide range of topics from the history of cosmology to the existential threat of climate change this book is a reckoning with the limits of human existence and comprehension As Pettman and Thacker observe never before have we known so much about the planet and the cosmos and yet never before have we felt so estranged from that same planet to say nothing of the stars beyond Cinema at the Margins Wheeler Dixon, 2013-12 More and more just a few canonical classics such as Michael Curtiz's Casablanca 1942 or Victor Fleming's Gone With The Wind 1939 are representing the entire film output of an era to a new generation that knows little of the past and is encouraged by popular media to live only in the eternal present. What will happen to the rest of the films that enchanted informed and transported audiences in the 1930s 1940s and even as recently as the 1960s? This collection of essays aims to highlight some of the lesser known treasures of the past, those titles that have been pushed aside by today's wave of cinema amnesia.

Eco-Freud From A to Z Michael Marder, 2025-08-21 An unprecedented conceptual portrait of Freud as an ecological thinker, this book analyzes our current approaches to ecology and the environmental crisis through the lens of psychoanalysis. Conceived as a theoretical tool kit, the alphabetically arranged entries from Geo psycho analysis to Trauma extensions and from Fetishism and the Climate to Obsessive Self Blaming guide the reader toward a deeper appreciation of the unconscious forces at work in our green dreams and nightmares. Along the way, an intriguing image of psychic life emerges through a careful rereading of Freud's oeuvre, where the ego is eco, while minerals, animals, and plants are all given their due for the shaping of human existence.

European Cinema and Continental Philosophy Thomas Elsaesser, 2019-01-01 This groundbreaking volume for the Thinking Cinema series focuses on the extent to which contemporary cinema contributes to political and philosophical thinking about the future of Europe's core Enlightenment values. In light of the challenges of globalization, multi-cultural communities, and post-nation state democracy, the book interrogates the borders of ethics and politics and roots itself in debates about post-secular, post-Enlightenment philosophy. By defining a cinema that knows that it is no longer a competitor to Hollywood, i.e. the classic self-other construction, Elsaesser also thinks past the kind of self-exoticism or auto-ethnography that is the perpetual temptation of such a co-produced, multi-platform, national cinema as world cinema. Discussing key filmmakers and philosophers like Claire Denis and Jean-Luc Nancy, Aki Kaurismäki, abjection, and Julia Kristeva, Michael Haneke, the paradoxes of Christianity, and Slavoj Žižek, Fatih Akin, Alain Badiou, and Jacques Rancière, Elsaesser is able to approach European cinema and assesses its key questions within a global context. His combination of political and philosophical thinking will surely ground the debate in film philosophy for years to come.

The Philosophy of Environmental Emotions Ondřej Beran, Laura Candiotti, Niklas Forsberg, Antony Fredriksson, David Rozen, 2024-12-09 This volume presents new philosophical perspectives on environmental emotions. It explores the motivating nature of emotions such as anger, grief, and hope in relation to the current climate crisis. Many of our emotional responses to the climate crisis take a distressed form, like anxiety, despair, or grief. However, these emotions almost always coexist with hope, a drive toward action, or a strengthened sense of relationality and belonging. This book explores the different levels at which these tensions take place. Part I discusses the conceptual and linguistic notions we use to make sense of our ecological predicament Part II looks at the embedded dimension of our emotions how we feel about the climate crisis as members of our communities and how our emotions are interconnected with what we do and how we work in and for our communities Several chapters in this section explicitly discuss hope Finally Part III has a phenomenological and existential focus it explores the nature of the rootedness and how it shapes our emotional experiences during the climate crisis The Philosophy of Environmental Emotions will appeal to scholars and graduate students working in environmental philosophy philosophy of emotion and environmental psychology

Apocalyptic Visions in 21st Century Films Elizabeth A. Ford, Deborah C. Mitchell, 2018-07-02 The apocalypse on the big screen has expanded beyond the familiar end of the world movies Romantic comedies teen adventures and even children's films frequently feature apocalyptic imagery disintegrating cities extreme weather events extinctions rogue military forces epidemics zombie armies and worlds colliding Using sophisticated CGI effects filmmakers are depicting the end of the world ever more stunningly The authors explore the phenomenon of the cinematic apocalypse and its origins in both our anxieties and our real world events and they identify some flashes of hope in the desolate landscape
