My belief about myself as a learner when I entered the class was a positive one. I attended a college prep school for high school and went to Oregon State University last year. I had plenty of practice with different learning techniques and found what works well for me. I believe I'm more of a visual learner than an auditory learner. It is easier to see a powerpoint and retain the knowledge then listen to a lecture and have the same retention. Entering the class I thought I liked working in groups more than working individually on projects, but that has since changed. I think it is more beneficial to me to work alone because I can get more done. When I entered the class I believed that reading the material closer to the due date was a better idea because I may not remember what I had read if I didn't.

What I have discovered about myself, as a learner over the term is vast. I learned that I can read the material way in advance and just briefly skim over the text and remember just about everything, were as I thought reading closer was more beneficial. I also learned that working in groups really isn't my specialty. I prefer working by myself because I'm able to get a lot more done and not have to worry about other people forgetting their part of the project. I don't like having to worry about other people not following through. I also learned that looking at the daily record in advanced helped me performance based assessments to engage and challenge students School leaders and instructional coaches can also benefit from the variety of teacher friendly supports to foster rigorous learning in their schools Ultimately Rigor by Design Not Chance helps educators empower students to take greater ownership of their own learning Handbook of Research on Advising and Developing the Pre-Health Professional Student Schwartz, Lisa S.,Ganjoo, Rohini,2022-04-29 Despite significant demand for healthcare professionals in the workforce admission to health professional graduate programs is highly competitive with less than half of all medical school applicants gaining admission annually The application process is nuanced complex and costly which can often be a significant barrier to otherwise highly qualified students particularly those from backgrounds underrepresented in the healthcare workforce Further understanding of the best practices in navigating the application processes academia and professional development is crucial for those advising pre health students The Handbook of Research on Advising and Developing the Pre Health Professional Student considers current practices and research regarding academic and extracurricular preparation of undergraduate students who wish to enter health professions and offers new pre health professional advisors as well as more seasoned advisors and other administrators a resource to assist them in their professional journey Covering a range of topics such as advisor relationships and lifelong learning skills this major reference work is ideal for advisors healthcare professionals academicians researchers practitioners scholars instructors and students International Perspectives on Teaching the Four Skills in ELT Anne Burns,Joseph Siegel,2017-11-10 This book offers a range of perspectives and insights from around the world on the teaching and learning of listening speaking reading and writing It brings together contributors from across six continents who analyse a wide range of teaching and learning contexts including primary secondary tertiary private and adult ESL EFL classes In doing so they provide locally relevant accounts that nonetheless resonate with other contexts and wider concerns This informative and practical edited collection will appeal to students and scholars who are interested in the four building blocks of language learning as well as language education and teacher education Literary and Philosophical Essays: French, German and Italian Gotthold Ephraim Lessing,Immanuel Kant,Friedrich Schiller,Ernest Renan,Charles Augustin Sainte-Beuve,Giuseppe Mazzini,Michel de Montaigne,2019-11-20 Literary and Philosophical Essays French German and Italian is an impressive gathering of European intellectual exploration and literary expression This anthology encapsulates a vibrant tapestry of philosophical musings and literary reflections spanning nations and cultures within the French German and Italian spheres The breadth of styles from thought provoking essays to poignant reflections enriches the overarching theme of human introspection and societal evaluation Standout pieces delve into the intricacies of moral philosophy cultural critique and the essence of artistic beauty offering readers a profound cross cultural scholarly experience The collection features works from luminaries such as Gotthold Ephraim Lessing Immanuel Kant Friedrich Schiller Ernest Renan Charles Augustin Sainte Beuve Giuseppe Mazzini and Michel de Montaigne These influential figures bring together a mosaic of perspectives rooted in the Enlightenment Romanticism and Renaissance humanism enriching the anthology's narrative depth. Each author, a pioneering thinker of their time, channels historical and cultural legacies through articulations that challenge and expand contemporary thought, inviting a dialogue across time and space. This anthology is indispensable for anyone seeking to immerse themselves in the profound dialogues that shaped modern thought. It offers a unique opportunity to explore a diverse array of perspectives through distinguished essays, ensuring a multi-faceted educational experience. As the authors' voices resonate with timeless relevancy, readers are encouraged to engage with these essays to connect with the continuum of European intellectual tradition, unraveling the layered interactions between distinct yet interconnected worldviews. Everyone Can

Write Peter Elbow, 2000-03-30 This new collection of essays brings together the best of Elbow's writing since the publication of Embracing Contraries in 1987. The volume includes sections on voice, the experience of writing, teaching and evaluation. Implicit throughout is Elbow's commitment to humanizing the profession and his continued emphasis on the importance of binary thinking and nonadversarial argument. The result is a compendium of a master teacher's thoughts on the relation between good pedagogy and good writing; it is sure to be of interest to all professional teachers of writing and will be a valuable book for use in graduate composition courses. The Art of the Personal Essay Phillip Lopate, 1997-01-15 For more than four hundred years, the personal essay has been one of the richest and most vibrant of all literary forms. Distinguished from the detached formal essay by its friendly conversational tone, its loose structure, and its drive toward candor and self-disclosure, the personal essay seizes on the minutiae of daily life: vanities, fashions, foibles, oddballs, seasonal rituals, love and disappointment, the pleasures of solitude, reading, taking a walk, to offer insight into the human condition and the great social and political issues of the day. The Art of the Personal Essay is the first anthology to celebrate this fertile genre. By presenting more than seventy-five personal essays, including influential forerunners from ancient Greece, Rome, and the Far East; masterpieces from the dawn of the personal essay in the sixteenth century; and a wealth of the finest personal essays from the last four centuries, editor Phillip Lopate himself, an acclaimed essayist, displays the tradition of the personal essay in all its historical grandeur, depth, and diversity. Critical Thinking Skills for your Education Degree Jane Bottomley, Kulwinder Maude, Steven Prymachuk, David Waugh, 2025-02-28

Critical Thinking Skills for your Education Degree provides you with a sound knowledge and understanding of the nature of critical thinking and its relevance and importance in HE; how to adopt a critical approach to all aspects of your studies within education; the importance of active critical reading and how it allows you an efficient, principled, effective assessment of the literature in your field; the need to adopt a critical approach to writing, characterised by analytical and evaluative use of sources and the development of your own voice. If you are embarking on a university education or teaching degree, the books in this series will help you acquire and develop the knowledge, skills, and strategies you need to achieve your goals. They provide support in all areas important for university study, including institutional and disciplinary policy and practice, self-management and research, and communication. Tasks and activities are designed to foster aspects of learning which are valued in higher education including learner autonomy and critical thinking and to guide you towards reflective practice in your study and work life      Teaching EFL Writing in the 21st Century Arab World Abdelhamid Ahmed,Hassan Abouabdelkader,2016-08-20 Teaching EFL Writing in the 21st Century Arab World addresses a range of issues related to researching and teaching EFL writing in different countries in the Arab World including Egypt Morocco Oman Palestine Tunisia UAE and Yemen Both theoretically and practically grounded chapters within discuss the different contexts in which EFL writing is taught from primary school to university The book sheds light on how EFL writing is learned and taught at each educational stage exposing the different challenges encountered in the teaching and learning The focus on EFL writing in the Arab World makes this a unique and long overdue contribution to the field of research around EFL writing and will be an invaluable resource for researchers curriculum designers and students
