Splitting the Day of the Lord Wayne Brouwer, 2018-10-24 As ancient Israel s size and influence declined her prophets began to increasingly predict a new act from God that would accomplish three things on a global scale 1 a purifying judgment that would reset the scales of justice and remove the degrading effects of evil 2 the carving out of a remnant community deeply devoted to Yahweh expanding to include international participation and 3 the ushering in of a messianic age in which goodness harmony and righteousness would pervade every dimension of life on earth Jesus disciples connected the prophetic Day of the Lord with his coming and redemptive work Yet many questioned whether the full impact was made manifest in Jesus since wars did not cease broad judgment on sin and evil was not unleashed and the full blessings of the predicted messianic age were not evident Jesus did something that no one had anticipated however by splitting the Day of the Lord into two divine acts instead of one This is what distinguishes Christianity from its Jewish roots as well as its Islamic successor neither of which acknowledge this unique aspect of Jesus person and work or the reworking of how and when the Day of the Lord would take place

Silk Berit Hildebrandt,2017-02-28 Already in Greek and Roman antiquity a vibrant series of exchange relationships existed between the Mediterranean regions and China including the Indian subcontinents along well defined routes we call the Silk Roads Among the many goods that found their way from East to West and vice versa were glass wine spices metals like iron precious stones as well as textile raw materials and fabrics and silk a luxury item that was in great demand in the Roman Empire These collected papers connect research from different areas and disciplines dealing with exchange along the Silk Roads These historical philological and archaeological contributions highlight silk as a commodity gift and tribute and as a status symbol in varying cultural and chronological contexts between East and West including technological aspects of silk production The main period concerns Rome and China in antiquity ending in the late fifth century CE with the Roman Empire being transformed into the Byzantine Empire while the Chinese chronology covers the Han dynasty the Three Kingdoms the Western and Eastern Jin and Sixteen Kingdoms ending in 420 CE In addition both earlier and later epochs are also considered in order to gather an understanding of developments and changes in long distance and longer term relations that involved silk

The English East India Company at the Height of Mughal Expansion Margaret R. Hunt,Philip J. Stern,2019-08-06 Utilizing a previously unpublished diary by an English officer who participated in the 1689 Siege of Bombay English East India Company at the Height of Mughal Expansion chronicles the armed conflict between the East India Company and the Mughal Empire Crossroads of Cuisine Paul David Buell, Eugene N. Anderson, Montserrat de Pablo Moya, Moldir Oskenbay, 2020-11-04 Crossroads of Cuisine offers history of food and cultural exchanges in and around Central Asia It discusses geographical base and offers historical and cultural overview A photo essay binds it all together The book offers new views of the past ReOrienting the Sasanians Khodadad Rezakhani, 2017-03-15 A narrative history of Central Asia after the Greek dynasties and before Islam Central Asia is commonly imagined as the marginal land on the periphery of Chinese and Middle Eastern civilisations At best it is understood as a series of disconnected areas that served as stop overs along the Silk Road However in the mediaeval period this region rose to prominence and importance as one of the centres of Persian Islamic culture from the Seljuks to the Mongols and Timur Khodadad Rezakhani tells the back story of this rise to prominence the story of the famed Kushans and mysterious aAsian Huns and their role in shaping both the Sasanian Empire and the rest of the Middle East Contextualises Persian history in relation to the history of Central Asia Extends the concept of late antiquity further east than is usually done Surveys the history of Iran and Central Asia between 200 and 800 bc and contextualises the rise of Islam in both regions The One Belt One Road (OBOR) Initiative and the Port of Piraeus Tatiana Gontika, 2021-08-05 This book provides the reader with a better understanding of the One Belt One Road OBOR initiative its various projects around the world and its consequences at a local as well as an international level Background information on both Chinese and Greek sociopolitical history and their maritime industry is provided The book also provides readers with the opinions of people directly involved with the Piraeus Port China Ocean Shipping Group Company COSCO deal through interviews conducted and included in the book OBOR a signature initiative of Chinese President Xi Jinping is currently one of the most frequently discussed enterprises worldwide This controversial mix of worldwide projects has put both China and Xi at the center of attention and not in a positive way Of course not all projects included in the initiative have been or are likely to be successful but the initiative has far ranging economic cultural and political potential OBOR in its essence is an attempt by the Chinese government to secure a paramount position in global finance for the country and ensure that primacy extends far into the future In particular it is an attempt to ensure that there are enough natural resources for China to support itself in the long term Therefore the areas selected for the implementation and development of OBOR are deliberately strategic One of the countries that China has chosen to invest in is Greece specifically the Port of Piraeus The OBOR initiative has many similarities with the ancient Silk Road Although the ancient route and modern concept are in no way identical many similarities become evident when the two are compared To understand China s motivation to build such a network looking back at history is required This project was long in the making Various discussions took place both on an international and a domestic level until all parties came to an agreement The deal at Piraeus between Greece and China affected more people than the politicians and the shipowners it affected everyone involved in the operations of the port as well as the residents of the area To further comprehend the impact on their lives one must see things through their eyes and there is no better way than contacting individuals and conversing with them In conclusion the specific deal at Piraeus and the OBOR initiative as a whole have the potential of benefiting the international and local communities However specific measures must be taken and governments must collaborate in order for the deal in Piraeus and the OBOR initiative to have the most beneficial and the least negative impact

Praise for the series: An indispensable addition to modern sinology. China Review International. The English translation has been done meticulously. Choice. The Silk Road Valerie Hansen, 2017. The Silk Road. We have a hazy mental image: a lone traveler carrying silk on a camel moves along a desert. Where exactly is he going and what goods is he carrying? This book offers concrete answers based on newly discovered documents preserved in the sands of the Taklamakan Desert. It is amazing what has been dug up and how the new materials, both documents and artifacts, radically challenge our understanding of the Silk Road. Historians have only recently begun to piece together and make sense of these materials, which give a far clearer picture of actual Silk Road. Placing these documentary finds at the heart of the narrative, this book also tells the story of the different explorers who found these documents and it teases out the implications of these documents for our understanding of the Silk Road. We learn, for example, that the Silk Road was not really a road and that no one used the term Silk Road in the past. The book focuses on the seven most important Silk Road sites that have produced documents and objects from the Silk Road: Six Niya, Kucha, Turfan, Dunhuang, Khotan, and Xi'an are located in northwest China; the seventh, Samarkand, is in modern Uzbekistan. This college edition includes a selection of excerpted primary sources in each chapter. The range is enormous: memoirs of medieval Chinese monks and modern explorers; letters written by women; descriptions of towns; language learning materials for traveling monks; and contracts among others. Instructors can select the documents they find most interesting to discuss in class; students can use these materials to write papers. Many of these are difficult to find and the author has checked all the translations to enhance their readability. The college edition also includes a new final chapter that examines the Silk Road during the period of Mongol rule to c. 1400 CE.
