The Computer Supported Collaborative Learning (CSCL) Conference 2013, Volume 1 ISLS,2014-04-23 The Computer Supported Collaborative Learning CSCL Conference 2013 proceedings Volume 1 Education in Singapore Yew-Jin Lee,2022-04-06 This edited book is a comprehensive resource for understanding the history as well as the current status of educational practices in Singapore It is a one stop reference guide to education and educational issues concerns here There are three sections Part 1 provides a sectorial overview of how education has been organized in this country such as preschool special needs primary and secondary and adult education divisions In Part 2 contributors critically delve into issues and policies that are pertinent to understanding education here such as underachievement leadership language education assessment and meritocracy to question what Part 1 might have taken for granted Part 3 contains the largest number of contributors because it offers a scholarly examination into specific subject histories This section stands out because of the comparative rarity of its subject matter history of Physical Education Art Music Geography Education etc in Singapore

Toward a Better Future Fredriksen Birger,Sing Kong Lee,Chor Boon Goh,2008-04-18 Toward a Better Future provides a comprehensive analysis of education development in Singapore since 1965 giving particular attention to the strategic management that has enabled Singapore to transform its education and training system from one similar to that of many Sub Saharan African countries four decades ago into one of the world s best performing systems It is one of a pair of concurrently published books presenting materials originally developed for a 2006 study tour to Singapore and Vietnam for senior education officials from Cameroon Ethiopia Ghana Lesotho Madagascar and Mozambique The second book An African Exploration of the East Asian Education Experience presents five country studies as well as regional comparative analyses highlighting insights gained during the study tour and putting them in the context of Sub Saharan Africa Together the two books aim to foster knowledge exchange between Sub Saharan African and East Asian countries on good practices in the design and implementation of education policies and programs By facilitating the cross country fertilization of ideas between two regions with relatively limited contact in the past these books fill a clear gap in the current literature on development practice in education RELC Research in Language, 1968-1981 Regional Language Centre,1982 Brookings Papers on Education Policy: 2003 Diane Ravitch,2010-12-01 In 1983 the seminal report issued by the National Commission on Excellence in Education A Nation at Risk charged that most American high schoolers were following a general course of instruction choosing neither the college preparatory track nor the vocational option This pattern the report complained had fostered low expectations and a curricular hodge podge of classes that failed to prepare students for college or work. The commission called on states to implement academic requirements for all students regardless of background including four years of English and three years each of science, mathematics, and social studies. Students should not be sorted by their presumed future destinations; the commission reasoned but should be offered an equal opportunity to get a high quality education to fit them either for postsecondary education or the modern workplace. Two decades after the commission called on states to reform the high school environment and raise graduation requirements, the Brown Center on Education Policy at the Brookings Institution convened a group of prominent scholars to explore the current state of America's high schools, focusing on new research about reforming these institutions that are so important in the lives of the nation's adolescents. The questions considered reflected the diversity of the participants and covered a variety of areas: historical, international, sociological, and practical. Data gathered by the U.S. Department of Education show students today are taking many more advanced courses in mathematics and the sciences while at the same time test scores do not reflect the increases in enrollments in academic courses. In addition, large score gaps remain among students from different social groups. Reform of the high schools must take into account the elementary and middle schools that prepare students and the postsecondary institutions to which students aspire. Adolescent culture and students' views about school and academic work play important roles in student achievement, as do the family and contemporary society in shaping of adolescent behavior. No matter their background, all participants agreed that the key to a successful high school rests with the extent to which it recognizes and strengthens its commitment to the intellectual growth of its students.

Putting Higher Education to Work Emanuela di Gropello, Prateek Tandon, Shahid Yusuf, 2011-11-03. This book assesses whether East Asian higher education is providing research and innovation for growth and delivering its graduates with the skills necessary for productivity in the labor market. It also seeks to determine how higher education systems could be improved in order to deliver these outcomes. It features new data and diagnostic material to better understand labor markets, what skills firms want, and what skills graduates have. It shows how countries can become more innovative and describes in detail the key areas of reform needed for higher education to be a larger engine of East Asian growth. It will be of interest to policymakers, governments, academia, donors, NGOs, students, researchers, and lower and middle income countries looking to break the middle income trap.

International Guide to Student Achievement John Hattie, Eric M. Anderman, 2013-01-17. The International Guide to Student Achievement brings together and critically examines the major influences shaping student achievement today. There are many often competing claims about how to enhance student achievement, raising the questions of What works and What works best. World renowned bestselling authors John Hattie and Eric M. Anderman have invited an international group of scholars to write brief empirically supported articles that examine predictors of academic achievement across a variety of topics and domains. Rather than telling people what to do in their schools and classrooms, this guide simply provides the first ever compendium of research that summarizes what is known about the major influences shaping students academic achievement around the world Readers can apply this knowledge base to their own school and classroom settings The 150 entries serve as intellectual building blocks to creatively mix into new or existing educational arrangements and aim for quick easy reference Chapter authors follow a common format that allows readers to more seamlessly compare and contrast information across entries guiding readers to apply this knowledge to their own classrooms their curriculums and teaching strategies and their teacher training programs
