Wong,2011-03-07 A common challenge faced by junior marketing faculty is to build a substantial track record of research within the first few years of appointment Academic publishing can be mysterious and not many people know where to start This book guides you through the necessary steps to have your first marketing journal article published successfully Advance Praise for Putting a Stake in the Ground Professor Ken Wong has written a clear systematic and detailed guidebook that describes the practical mechanics of academic manuscript preparation and submission It describes the submission process and explains how to resolve almost any issue that might arise This useful resource should be in the hands of every researcher Dr Ronald E Goldsmith Editor The Service Industries Journal The Richard M Baker Professor of Marketing Florida State University USA This is a valuable resource for anyone publishing in the academic world working on publishing in the academic world or interested in knowing more about the academic world The author offers his insight in the game and identifies ways for users to become a better player in the academic publishing world Dr Winnie Chan Research Economist Statistics Canada The Oxford Guide to Library Research Thomas Mann,2015 The information world has undergone drastic changes since the publication of the 3rd edition of The Oxford Guide to Library Research in 2005 and Thomas Mann a veteran reference librarian at the Library of Congress has extensively revised his text to reflect those changes This book will answer two basic questions First what is the extent of the significant research resources you will miss if you confine your research entirely or even primarily to sources available on the open Internet Second if you are trying to get a reasonably good overview of the literature on a particular topic rather than just something quickly on it what are the several alternative methods of subject searching which are not available on the Web that are usually much more efficient for that purpose than typing keywords into a blank search box with the results displayed by relevance ranking computer algorithms This book shows researchers how to do comprehensive research on any topic It explains the variety of search mechanisms available so that the researcher can have the reasonable confidence that s he has not overlooked something important This includes not just lists of resources but discussions of the ways to search within them how to find the best search terms how to combine the terms and how to make the databases and other sources show relevant material even when you don t know how to specify the best search terms in advance The book s overall structuring by nine methods of searching that are applicable in any subject area rather than by subjects or by types of literature is unique among guides to research Also unique is the range and variety of concrete examples of what to do and of what not to do The book is not about the Internet it is about the best alternatives to the Internet the sources that are not on the open Web to begin with that can be found only through research libraries and that are more than ever necessary for any kind of substantive scholarly research More than any other research guide available this book directly addresses and provides solutions to the serious problems outlined in recent studies documenting the profound lack of research skills possessed by today s digital natives

Gaming the Metrics Mario Biagioli, Alexandra Lippman, 2020-01-28 How the increasing reliance on metrics to evaluate scholarly publications has produced new forms of academic fraud and misconduct The traditional academic imperative to publish or perish is increasingly coupled with the newer necessity of impact or perish the requirement that a publication have impact as measured by a variety of metrics including citations views and downloads Gaming the Metrics examines how the increasing reliance on metrics to evaluate scholarly publications has produced radically new forms of academic fraud and misconduct The contributors show that the metrics based audit culture has changed the ecology of research fostering the gaming and manipulation of quantitative indicators which lead to the invention of such novel forms of misconduct as citation rings and variously rigged peer reviews The chapters written by both scholars and those in the trenches of academic publication provide a map of academic fraud and misconduct today They consider such topics as the shortcomings of metrics the gaming of impact factors the emergence of so called predatory journals the salami slicing of scientific findings the rigging of global university rankings and the creation of new watchdogs and forensic practices
