Inclusive Tourism Development Regina Scheyvens, Robin Biddulph, 2020-12-17 This comprehensive volume seeks out ways in which those who are typically marginalized by or excluded from tourism can be brought into the industry in ways that directly benefit them. It addresses the central questions asked by an inclusive tourism approach: Who is included? On what terms? With what significance? Tourism is often understood and experienced as an exclusive activity accessible only to the relatively wealthy. This volume seeks to counter that tendency by exploring how marginalized groups can gain more control over tourism. The book starts by defining the concept of inclusive tourism and discussing seven different elements which might indicate inclusivity in tourism. Research from a wide range of geographical contexts from Cambodia to Australia, Sweden, Turkey, and Spain have been drawn upon to illustrate the need for more inclusive tourism. The examples encompass the actions of a multinational tour operator, hotel owners, and social enterprises while also examining how to ensure tourism is accessible for those with disabilities. Inclusive tourism is offered here as both an analytical concept and an aspirational ideal. The authors hope that this book inspires a restless quest to find ways to include new actors and new places in tourism on terms that are equitable and sustainable. The chapters were originally published as a special issue of the journal Tourism Geographies.

Tourism and Sustainable Development Goals Jarkko Saarinen, 2020-06-29 This comprehensive volume comprises some of the best scholarship on sustainable tourism in recent years, demonstrating the rich body of past research that provides a fertile and critical ground for studies on the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) by tourism geographers and other social scientists in the future. Since the turn of the 1990s, many international development and policy-making organisations have perceived the tourism industry with its local and regional connections as a high potential tool for putting sustainable development into practice. The capacity of tourism to work for sustainable development was highlighted in relation to the United Nations SDGs which were adopted in 2015. The SDGs define the agenda for global development to 2030 by addressing pertinent challenges such as poverty, inequality, climate change, environmental degradation, and peace and justice. Tourism geographers and allied disciplines have held strong and long-term interest in sustainability issues, and their chapters in this collection contribute significantly to this emerging and highly policy-relevant research field. This book was originally published as an online special issue of the journal Tourism Geographies.

Ethics for Global Mental Health Elena Cherepanov, 2018-08-06 Ethics for Global Mental Health examines the limitations of current normative approaches to global mental health (GMH) work and argues for a values-based framework that prioritizes accountability and contextual relevance of humanitarian and profession-specific values. It cautions against using aspirational ideals as operational guidance. Chapters are organized around challenges arising in humanitarian research, disaster relief, post-conflict recovery, fieldwork, and refugee resettlement and are designed to equip readers with strategies for resolving professional dilemmas and negotiating conflicting priorities. Also included is a sample training curriculum as well as case studies and exercises that help professionals address countertransference and burnout and recognize ethically questionable practices such as trauma tourism rescuer fantasy or savior complex

Nongovernmental Organization Culture and Ethics in Kenya Douglas Kimemia, 2024-01-08 The Non Governmental sector has played a noble role in providing needed support following market failure and government failure all over the world In developing countries and Africa in particular this sector has become an important arm of economic development and civic engagement However there is growing suspicion accompanied by increased evidence that these organizations have been tolerating corrupt practices such as lack of accountability and transparency nepotism and favoritism in their governing systems and finances Douglas Kimemia's Nongovernmental Organization Culture and Ethics in Kenya focuses on the relationship between the intersection of corruption and organizational culture among NGOs in Kenya Kimemia stresses that NGOs should model strong culture to increase confidence among the various organizational stakeholders to showcase high integrity transparency and sound governance that does not tolerate any corrupt practices This book offers solutions to strengthen the existing culture within NGOs and examines how organizational culture impacts engagement in corrupt practices

Gendered Tropes in War Photography Marta Zarzycka, 2016-09-13 Photographic stills of women appearing in both press coverage and relief campaigns have long been central to the documentation of war and civil conflict Images of non Western women in particular regularly function as symbols of the misery and hopelessness of the oppressed Featured on the front pages of newspapers and in NGO reports they inform public understandings of war and peace victims and perpetrators but within a discourse that often obscures social and political subjectivities Uniquely this book deconstructs in a systematic gender sensitive way the repetitive circulation of certain images of war conflict and state violence in order to scrutinize the role of photographic tropes in the globalized visual sphere Zarzycka builds on feminist theories of representations of war to explore how the concepts of femininity and war secure each other's intelligibility in photographic practices This book examines the complex connections between photographic tropes and the individuals and communities they represent in order to rethink the medium of photography as a discursive and political practice This book interrogates both the structure and transmission of contemporary encounters with war violence and conflict It will appeal to advanced students and scholars of gender studies visual studies media studies photography theory cultural anthropology cultural studies and trauma and memory studies
