Fantasies of Self-Mourning Ruben Borg,2019-01-07 In Fantasies of Self Mourning Ruben Borg describes the formal features of a posthuman cyborgian imaginary at work in modernism The book s central claim is that modernism invents the posthuman as a way to think through the contradictions of its historical moment Borg develops a posthumanist critique of the concept of organic life based on comparative readings of Pirandello Woolf Beckett and Flann O Brien alongside discussions of Alfred Hitchcock Chris Marker B la Tarr Ridley Scott and Mamoru Oshii The argument draws together a cluster of modernist narratives that contemplate the separation of a cybernetic eye from a human body or call for a tearing up of the body understood as a discrete organic unit capable of synthesizing desire and sense perception Jacques Ranciere: An

Och,Kirsten Strayer,2013-10-15 This volume investigates the horror genre across national boundaries including locations such as Africa Turkey and post Soviet Russia and different media forms illustrating the ways that horror can be theorized through the circulation reception and production of transnational media texts Perhaps more than any other genre horror is characterized by its ability to be simultaneously aware of the local while able to permeate national boundaries to function on both regional and international registers The essays here explore political models and allegories questions of cult or subcultural media and their distribution practices the relationship between regional or cultural networks and the legibility of international horror iconography across distinct media The book underscores how a discussion of contemporary international horror is not only about genre but about how genre can inform theories of visual cultures and the increasing permeability of their borders

McBride, 2013-09-13 Sartre s French Contemporaries and Enduring Influences This final volume examines Sartre s best known philosophical contemporaries in France Albert Camus Maurice Merleau Ponty and Simone de Beauvoir in terms of both their own philosophical insights and their relationship to Sartre s thought The articles also offer some suggestive connections between Sartre s thought and subsequent developments in European philosophy notably structuralism poststructuralism and postmodernism The comparatively recent nature of much of this scholarship is solid testimony to the enduring influence of Sartrean existentialism

Edwards, 1997 In laboratories all over the world life even the idea of life is changing And with these changes whether they result in square tomatoes or cyborgs come transformations in our social order sometimes welcome sometimes troubling Changing Life offers a close look at how the mutable forms and concepts of life link the processes of science to those of information finance and commodities These essays about planetary management and genome sequencing ecologies and cyborgs address actual and imagined transformations at the center and at the margins of transnational relations during the post Cold War era and in times to come

Thinking Revolution Through Film Hanno Berger, 2022-09-20 This book aims to redefine the relationship between film and revolution Starting with Hannah Arendt s thoughts on the American and French Revolution it argues that from a theoretical perspective revolutions can be understood as describing a relationship between time and movement and that ultimately the spectators and not the actors in a revolution decide its outcome Focusing on the concepts of time movement and spectators this study develops an understanding of film not as a medium of agitation but as a way of thinking that relates to the idea of historicity that opened up with the American and French Revolution a way of thinking that can expand our very notion of revolution The book explores this expansion through an analysis of three audiovisual stagings of revolution Abel Gance's epic on the French Revolution Napoléon Warren Beatty's essay on the Russian Revolution Reds and the miniseries John Adams about the American Revolution The author thereby offers a fresh take on the questions of revolution and historicity from the perspective of film studies

Kinematic Rhetoric Joddy Murray, 2020-04-24 Joddy Murray in Kinematic Rhetoric puts forward a theory of rhetoric that adds the elements of movement sound image affect and duration to traditional accounts of digital visual and multimodal rhetorics His concept of time affect images provides a complex and nuanced theory for composing that builds upon his earlier concept of nondiscursive texts By turning to Deleuze's work on cinema Murray presents the time affect image which generates and amplifies affectivity through duration and motion and is the key concept in this rhetorical theory Motion he argues creates meaning that is independent of the content and like all images carries with it the potential for persuasion through the affective domain

Arctic Cinemas and the Documentary Ethos Anna Westerstahl Stenport, 2019-02-18 A collection of essays analyzing the representation of the Arctic region in documentary films Beginning with Robert Flaherty's Nanook of the North 1922 the majority of films that have been made in about and by filmmakers from the Arctic region have been documentary cinema Focused on a hostile environment that few people visit these documentaries have heavily shaped ideas about the contemporary global Far North In Arctic Cinemas and the Documentary Ethos contributors from a variety of scholarly and artistic backgrounds come together to provide a comprehensive study of Arctic documentary cinemas from a transnational perspective This book offers a thorough analysis of the concept of the Arctic as it is represented in documentary filmmaking while challenging the notion of The Arctic as a homogenous entity that obscures the environmental historical geographic political and cultural differences that characterize the region By examining how the Arctic is imagined understood and appropriated in documentary work the contributors argue that such films are key in contextualizing environmental indigenous political cultural sociological and ethnographic understandings of the Arctic from early cinema to the present Understanding the role of these films becomes all the more urgent in the present day as conversations around resource extraction climate change and sovereignty take center stage in the Arctic's representation Highly recommended Choice A thorough exploration of the inexorable links between the circumpolar regions and historic and contemporary documentary filmmaking It will be valuable to Arctic humanities specialists particularly as a welcome addition to scholarship on visual depictions of the Arctic by authors such as Ann Fienup Riordan Richard Condon Russell Potter and Peter Geller as well as Mackenzie and Westerstahl Stenport's earlier co-edited volume Films on Ice It will also be of use to anyone interested in ways of studying linkages between filmmaking environments and local and outsider communities Sarah Pickman Yale University H Environment January 2020

York City returned to an exploration of the cinematic across mediums Vera Dika considers their work within a greater cultural context and probes for a deeper understanding of the practice

Charlie Chaplin, Director Donna Kornhaber, 2014-03-05 Charlie Chaplin was one of the cinema's consummate comic performers yet he has long been criticized as a lackluster film director In this groundbreaking work the first to analyze Chaplin's directorial style Donna Kornhaber radically recasts his status as a filmmaker Spanning Chaplin's career Kornhaber discovers a sophisticated Chaplinesque visual style that draws from early cinema and slapstick and stands markedly apart from later classical stylistic conventions His is a manner of filmmaking that values space over time and simultaneity over sequence crafting narrative and meaning through careful arrangement within the frame rather than cuts between frames Opening up aesthetic possibilities beyond the typical boundaries of the classical Hollywood film Chaplin's filmmaking would profoundly influence directors from Fellini to Truffaut To view Chaplin seriously as a director is to re-understand him as an artist and to reconsider the nature and breadth of his legacy

Animal Worlds Laura McMahon, 2019-05-29 Focusing on a recent wave of international art cinema Animal Worlds offers the first sustained analysis of the relations between cinematic time and animal life Through an aesthetic of extended duration films such as Bestiaire 2010 The Turin Horse 2011 and A Cow's Life 2012 attend to animal worlds of sentience and perception while registering the governing of life through biopolitical regimes Bringing together Gilles Deleuze's writings on cinema and on animals while drawing on Jacques Derrida Jean Christophe Bailly Nicole Shukin and others the book argues that these films question the biopolitical reduction of animal life to forms of capital opening up realms of virtuality becoming and alternative political futures
