Agroecology Miguel A Altieri, 2018-02-19 This book incorporates new insights and concepts in the hope of helping guide agricultural students researchers and practitioners to a deeper understanding of the ecology of agricultural systems that will open the doors to new management options with the objectives of sustainable agriculture

Renewing innovation systems in agriculture and food E. Coudel, H. Devautour, C.T. Soulard, G. Faure, B. Hubert, 2013-03-15 Present day society asks more from agriculture than just the production of food Agriculture is now required to be concerned with the quality of food ecosystem services inclusion of marginalized populations revitalization of rural territories energy production etc This opening up of the future of agriculture encourages rural actors to experiment with new farming systems using imagination creativity and determination to replace dominant models At the same time low cost mass production systems continue on their way with promises of a future based on green technologies In this discussion it is important to consider what kind of sustainable development societies really want Which innovations will help in achieving these developments What role can research and public policies play in supporting the emergence of these innovations This book takes the debate beyond the purely technical options and considers social and institutional innovations as well It demonstrates that innovation is the result of a confrontation between visions of actors who often have divergent interests There is no single path towards sustainable development and we must find ways to encourage the emergence and co existence of different types of agriculture and food systems The success of transitions will not only depend on our capacity to rethink existing models but especially on our willingness to embark on a creative learning process from which we will inevitably emerge transformed

Integrating Concepts of Sustainability Into Education for Agriculture and Rural Development Wout van den Bor,2000 The book deals with the issue of sustainability as a whole and to its application in the context of higher agricultural education in particular It contains a wide range of international experiences on the subject deriving from case studies projects and research performed in Europe North America and Oceania This publication provides a key contribution to the debate on sustainability at university level and on how it is applied to agriculture and rural development

Institutionalization of a Farming Systems Approach to Development Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,1992 Developing Technology with Farmers Laurens van Veldhuizen,Ann Waters-Bayer,Henk de Zeeuw,1997 This manual is written for trainers in governmental and non governmental development organizations who are preparing their staff to work together with farmers in developing technologies appropriate to ecological agriculture and using few external inputs The training is designed to stimulate active learning by participants who draw on their own experience an approach which mirrors the type of interaction between facilitator and farmers in Participatory Technology Development PTD
