

References and citation procedures in anthropology

Anthropology Department, Sept. 2003

Notes: this guide is based on the style guide for American Anthropologist, a leading journal. Other journals may have different requirements and formats. See http://www.aaanet.org/pubs/style_guide.pdf for the complete document.

This style guide uses The Chicago Manual of Style (14th edition, 1993) and Merriam-Webster's Collegiate Dictionary (10th edition, 2000).

Proper citation practices and plagiarism:

Citing your sources is a way to show your participation in a community of scholarship, not a cunning strategy for professors to give students more work. In academic writing, citing sources is a mark of engagement with other people's ideas, and is a source of pride. The issue of academic honesty has become particularly important now that computer technology has made it easy to 'cut and paste' text from a web page or to purchase papers. Those that do this cheat themselves and demean the value of a UVM education for everyone. It is all too easy to take 'lazy notes' by cutting, pasting, and forgetting your sources. To avoid the unpleasantness of an Academic Judicial Board hearing, be scrupulous in your citation procedures. A good rule of thumb is that any time you use an entire phrase or sentence of 10 or more words, you should cite the original work. Paraphrasing (restatement of another person's idea with slightly altered language) without citation also counts as plagiarism. If you feel you have no choice but to paraphrase to express an idea well, that's your brain's signal that it's time to quote and cite.

Selected style topics of importance for student writing:

- ❖ Notes: Standard anthropological practice uses endnotes, not footnotes. These endnotes usually function to explain a point in more detail rather than to provide a reference. Put references in the text.
- ❖ Quotations: All published quotations must be cited with year and page number(s):
 - "Vermont is a state in crisis," as Jones noted (1992:7-8).
 - Or "Vermont is a state in crisis" (Jones 2002:124) -- not (Jones 2002, p. 124)
- ❖ Format for block quotes:
 - If extract takes more than four manuscript lines, make it a single-spaced block quote.
 - Use brackets for citation at the end of a block; put sentence period before citation
... made a remarkable contribution to anthropology. [Jones 2002:124]
- ❖ Avoid biased and pejorative language
 - Try to use the proper nouns that social groups use to identify themselves.
 - African-American or Black (not 'Negro' or 'Afro-American' in current usage)
 - The Sambia people of New Guinea (avoid the term 'tribe' unless in your source).
 - 'Gay men' and 'lesbians' are now preferred over the term 'homosexuals.' Avoid categories that define what is 'normal' or 'abnormal.'
 - Do not use 's/he', 'him/her', or 'his/her' when you can use 'they', 'him or her', etc.
 - Note that 'gender' refers to culture, while 'sex' refers to biology.
