The Intellectual Foundation Of Information Organization Digital Libraries And Electronic Publishing:

The Intellectual Foundation of Information Organization Elaine Svenonius, 2000 Integrating the disparate disciplines of descriptive cataloging subject cataloging indexing and classification the book adopts a conceptual framework that views the process of organizing information as the use of a special language of description called a bibliographic language The FRBR Family of Conceptual Models Richard P. Smiraglia, Pat Riva, Maja Žumer, 2014-10-29 Since 1998 when FRBR Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records was first published by IFLA the effort to develop and apply FRBR has been extended in many innovative and experimental directions Papers in this volume explain and expand upon the extended family of FRBR models including Functional Requirements for Authority Data FRAD Functional Requirements for Subject Authority Data FRSAD and the object oriented version of FRBR known as FRBRoo Readers will learn about dialogues between the FRBR Family and other modeling technologies specific implementations and extensions of FRBR in retrieval systems catalog codes employing FRBR a wide variety of research that uses the FRBR model and approaches to using FRBR for the Semantic Web Librarians of all stripes as well as library and information science students and researchers can use this volume to bring their knowledge of the FRBR model and its implementation up to date This book was published as a special issue of Cataloging Classification Quarterly

Philosophy of Emerging Media Juliet Floyd, James Everett Katz, 2016 The term emerging media responds to the big data now available as a result of the larger role digital media play in everyday life as well as the notion of emergence that has grown across the architecture of science and technology over the last two decades with increasing imbrication The permeation of everyday life by emerging media is evident ubiquitous and destined to accelerate No longer are images institutions social networks thoughts acts of communication emotions and speech the media by means of which we express ourselves in daily life linked to clearly demarcated stable entities and contexts Instead the loci of meaning within which these occur shift and evolve quickly emerging in far reaching ways we are only beginning to learn and bring about This volume s purpose is to develop broaden and spark future philosophical discussion of emerging media and their ways of shaping and reshaping the habitus within which everyday lives are to be understood Drawing from the history of philosophy ideas of influential thinkers in the past intellectual path makers on the contemporary scene offer new philosophical perspectives laying the groundwork for future work in philosophy and in media studies On diverse topics such as identity agency reality mentality time aesthetics representation consciousness materiality emergence and human nature the questions addressed here consider the extent to which philosophy should or should not take us to be facing a fundamental transformation

Computable Models of the Law , 2008-10-14 Information technology has now pervaded the legal sector and the very modern concepts of e law and e justice show that automation processes are ubiquitous European policies on transparency and information society in particular require the use of technology and its steady improvement Some of the revised papers presented in this book originate from a workshop held at the European University Institute of

Florence Italy in December 2006 The workshop was devoted to the discussion of the different ways of understanding and explaining contemporary law for the purpose of building computable models of it especially models enabling the development of computer applications for the legal domain During the course of the following year several new contributions provided by a number of ongoing or recently finished European projects on computation and law were received discussed and reviewed to complete the survey This book presents 20 thoroughly refereed revised papers on the hot topics under research in different EU projects legislative XML legal ontologies semantic web search and meta search engines web services system architecture dialectic systems dialogue games multi agent systems MAS legal argumentation legal reasoning e justice and online dispute resolution The papers are organized in topical sections on knowledge representation ontologies and XML legislative drafting knowledge representation legal ontologies and information retrieval argumentation and legal reasoning normative and multi agent systems and online dispute resolution
