The Islamic Veil Across Europe Bbc News:

The Oxford Handbook of European Islam Jocelyne Cesari, 2015 For centuries Muslim countries and Europe have engaged one another through theological dialogues diplomatic missions political rivalries and power struggles In the last thirty years due in large part to globalization and migration from Islamic countries to the West what was previously an engagement across national and cultural boundaries has increasingly become an internalized encounter within Europe itself Questions of the Hijab in schools freedom of expression in the wake of the Danish Cartoon crisis and the role of Shari'a have come to the forefront of contemporary European discourse The Oxford Handbook of European Islam is the first collection to present a comprehensive approach to the multiple and changing ways Islam has been studied across European countries Parts one to three address the state of knowledge of Islam and Muslims within a selection of European countries while presenting a critical view of the most up to date data specific to each country These chapters analyze the immigration cycles and policies related to the presence of Muslims tackling issues such as discrimination post colonial identity adaptation and assimilation The thematic chapters in parts four and five examine secularism radicalization Shari'a Hijab and Islamophobia with the goal of synthesizing different national discussions into a more comparative theoretical framework The Handbook attempts to balance cutting edge assessment with the knowledge that the content itself will eventually be superseded by events Featuring eighteen newly commissioned essays by noted scholars in the field this volume will provide an excellent resource for students and scholars interested in European Studies immigration Islamic studies and the sociology of religion

Islamic Law and International Human Rights Law Anver M. Emon, Mark Ellis, Benjamin Glahn, 2012-10-11 The relationship between Islamic law and international human rights law has been the subject of considerable and heated debate in recent years The usual starting point has been to test one system by the standards of the other asking is Islamic law compatible with international human rights standards or vice versa This approach quickly ends in acrimony and accusations of misunderstanding By overlaying one set of norms on another we overlook the deeply contextual nature of how legal rules operate in a society and meaningful comparison and discussion is impossible In this volume leading experts in Islamic law and international human rights law attempt to deepen the understanding of human rights and Islam paving the way for a more meaningful debate Focusing on central areas of controversy such as freedom of speech and religion gender equality and minority rights the authors examine the contextual nature of how Islamic law and international human rights law are legitimately formed interpreted and applied within a community They examine how these fundamental interests are recognized and protected within the law and what restrictions are placed on the freedoms associated with them By examining how each system recognizes and limits fundamental freedoms this volume clears the ground for exploring the relationship between Islamic law and international human rights law on a sounder footing In doing so it offers a challenging and distinctive contribution to the literature on the subject and will be an invaluable reference for students academics and policy makers engaged in the legal and religious debates surrounding Islam and the West

National Identities and the Right to Self-Determination of Peoples Hilly Moodrick-Even Khen, 2016-06-10 In National Identities and the Right to Self-Determination of Peoples Hilly Moodrick-Even Khen revisits the legal right to self-determination of peoples and suggests an integrative model for securing the cohesion of the various nationalities within multinational states The model set on both legal and political science theories departs from civic nationalism but calls to strengthen it with more immediate and emotional means such as shared national symbols and multicultural education Moodrick-Even Khen explores the political history of Canada Belgium and Spain and touches upon other divided societies such as South Africa Northern Ireland and Cyprus Drawing upon these cases she suggests a future model for a cohesive society in Israel which is currently nationally divided between Arabs and Jews

Nothing Has to Make Sense Sherene H. Razack, 2022-04-19 How Western nations have consolidated their whiteness through the figure of the Muslim in the post 9/11 world While much has been written about post 9/11 anti-Muslim racism often termed Islamophobia insufficient attention has been given to how anti-Muslim racism operates through law and is a vital part of law's protection of whiteness This book fills this gap while also providing a unique new global perspective on white supremacy Sherene H Razack a leading critical race and feminist scholar takes an innovative approach by situating law within media discourses and historical and contemporary realities We may think of law as logical but argues Razack its logic breaks down when the subject is Muslim Tracing how white subjects and majority white nations in the post 9/11 era have consolidated their whiteness through the figure of the Muslim Razack examines four sites of anti-Muslim racism efforts by American evangelical Christians to ban Islam in the school curriculum Canadian and European bans on Muslim women's clothing racial science and the sentencing of Muslims as terrorists and American national memory of the torture of Muslims during wars and occupations Arguing that nothing has to make sense when the subject is Muslim she maintains that these legal and cultural sites reveal the dread phobia hysteria and desire that mark the encounter between Muslims and the West Through the prism of racism Nothing Has to Make Sense argues that the figure of the Muslim reveals a world divided between the deserving and the disposable where people of European origin are the former and all others are confined in various ways to regimes of disposability Emerging from critical race theory and bridging with Islamophobia critical religious studies it demonstrates that anti Muslim racism is a revelatory window into the operation of white supremacy as a global force

Governing International Labour Migration Christina Gabriel, Hélène Pellerin, 2008 This book offers a critical examination of the way in which the nature and governance of international labour migration is changing within a globalizing environment It examines how labour mobility and the governance of labour migration are changing by exploring the links between political economy and differentiated forms of labour migration Additionally it considers the effects of new social models of inclusion and exclusion on labour migration Therefore the book troubles the conventional dichotomies and categorizations permanent vs temporary skilled vs unskilled legal vs illegal that have informed migration studies and regulatory frameworks Theoretically this volume contributes to an ongoing project of reframing the study of migration within politics and international relations Bringing together an interdisciplinary group of scholars drawing on examples from the European Union North America and Asia Governing International Labour Migration will be of interest to students and scholars of migration studies IPE international relations and economics

Islamic Minorities in Europe Roberta Aluffi Beck-Peccoz, Giovanna Zincone, 2004 In all countries of the European Union the Muslim communities numbering about 15 000 000 people represent a substantial religious minority although it is a very varied group both in terms of religious practice and national origin The very weight of this minority forces the legal systems to come to terms with its presence However these changes are highly diversified and are evolving rapidly not necessarily towards greater tolerance This volume provides a brief sketch of these changes describing the situation of some member countries of the European Union Austria Belgium France Germany Greece Italy the Netherlands Portugal Spain Sweden and UK and of one of the enlargement candidate countries Romania The book also contains an initial attempt at comparison between European countries and the USA and an overall analysis of the problems posed by the Islamic presence in Europe and the strategies to manage them This work allows readers to draw some general conclusions on convergences and divergences within the European Union and the factors that determine them It's Not Just about Black and White, Miss Sally Elton-Chalcraft, 2009 Features nine and ten year olds who speak about their ideas on race This book shows they internalised the prevailing western mindset whatever their own ethnicity Muslim Societies in the Age of Mass Consumption Johanna Pink, 2009 The papers in this anthology present innovative approaches to a wide range of issues that have so far barely received scholarly attention The topics range from the changing spaces of consumption to Islamic branding from the marketing of religious music to the consumption patterns of Muslim minority groups Report, 2007 Temple international and comparative law journal, 2005 Muslim Communities in the New Europe Gerd Nonneman, Tim Niblock, Bogdan Szajkowski, 1996 This text examines the evolving fate of Europe's Muslims comparing the status role and perceptions of these communities across Europe and Western Europe following the demise of communist authoritarianism Yale Journal of Law & the Humanities, 2005 *U.C.
