The Challenge For Africa Wangari Maathai:

The Challenge for Africa Wangari Maathai, 2010-10-19 In this groundbreaking work the Nobel Peace Prize winner and founder of the Green Belt Movement offers a new perspective on the troubles facing Africa today Too often these challenges are portrayed by the media in extreme terms connoting poverty dependence and desperation Wangari Maathai the author of Unbowed sees things differently and here she argues for a moral revolution among Africans themselves Illuminating the complex and dynamic nature of the continent Maathai offers hardheaded hope and realistic options for change and improvement She deftly describes what Africans can and need to do for themselves stressing all the while responsibility and accountability Impassioned and empathetic The Challenge for Africa is a book of immense importance

The Challenge for Africa Wangari Maathai, 2009-01-01 Maathai argues that Africans need to revive their sense of identity their cultural inheritance and a shared sense of common purpose to face the challenges posed by endemic corruption the legacies of colonialism and the Cold and civil wars poverty and most urgently climate change Endless images of nameless starving children aimed at guilt tripping westerners have been internalised leading to a demoralised passive inertia among millions of citizens Elections may have spread but the true fabric of democracy is often still tragically absent Only once the continent has rediscovered its own cultural inheritance can it take active responsibility for its own future Ultimately what Africa needs is a revolution in leadership but this cannot be ushered in by western governments well meaning NGOs or even Bono and Sharon Stone it must happen within African civil society itself As in Unbowed Maathai's voice is decisive authoritative and unsentimental

The Politics of Africa's Economic Recovery Richard Sandbrook,1993-04 The waning of the Cold War means that major political powers no longer feel compelled to support African authoritarianism Revised official consensus holds that in Africa as elsewhere political reform must accompany economic adjustment According to this view African recovery requires a reduction in the size and economic role of monopolistic and inefficient states and their transformation into accountable liberal democracies Is this a desirable and practicable political programme Certainly all over Africa the number of liberal democracies is growing But can they survive and are they compatible with renewed economic growth Richard Sandbrook answers these questions and assesses the feasibility of the new political programme in reinforcing Africa's economic recovery. He argues that the programme has merit in the short term but in the longer term a more self-reliant state directed approach should be adopted to ensure prosperity and durable democracy in the region. The Politics of Biography in Africa Anaïs Angelo, 2021-08-31

Bringing together historians, political scientists and literary analysts, this volume shows how biographical narratives can shed light on alternative, little known or under researched aspects of state power in African politics. Part 1 shows how biographical narratives breathe new life into subjects who upon decolonization had been reduced to silence: women workers and radical politicians. The contributors analyze the complex relationship between biographical narratives and power, questioning either the power of biographical codes peculiar to western colonial origins or the power to shape public memory. Part 2 reflects on the act of auto biography writing as an exercise of power, one that blurs the lines between truth and invention. Auto biographical narratives appear as politicized, ambiguous stories. Part 3 focuses on female leadership during and after colonization, exploring how women gained, lost or reinvented power. Brought together, the contributions of this volume show that the function of biographical narratives should no longer oscillate between romanticized narratives and historical evidence; their varied formats all offer fruitful opportunities for a multidisciplinary dialogue. This book will be of interest to scholars from various disciplinary backgrounds working on the African postcolonial state, the decolonization process, women's and gender studies and biography writing. The Democratic Challenge in Africa Emory University. Governance in Africa Program. Seminar, 1994. The Democratic Challenge in Africa, 1994. Library Journal, 2008. African Women Writing Resistance Jennifer Browdy de Hernandez, Pauline Dongala, Omotayo Jolaosho, 2010-08-19. African Women Writing Resistance is the first transnational anthology to focus on women's strategies of resistance to the challenges they face in Africa today. The anthology brings together personal narratives, testimony, interviews, short stories, poetry, performance scripts, folktales and lyrics. Thematically organized, it presents women's writing on such issues as intertribal and interethnic conflicts, the degradation of the environment, polygamy, domestic abuse, the controversial traditional practice of female genital cutting, Sharia law, intergenerational tensions and emigration and exile. Contributors include internationally recognized authors and activists such as Wangari Maathai and Nawal El Saadawi, as well as a host of vibrant new voices from all over the African continent and from the African diaspora. Interdisciplinary in scope, this collection provides an excellent introduction to contemporary African women's literature and highlights social issues that are particular to Africa but are also of worldwide concern. It is an essential reference for students of African studies, world literature, anthropology, cultural studies, postcolonial studies and women's studies.
