Doing Business in the Philippines

The Philippines is the gateway to the vast flourishing markets of the ASEAN nations. Unlike her neighbours lying far from the European sea and hence the major markets of the region, ie. EU, the Netherlands has successful access and her close trade links to business the largest market for imported foreign goods originating in the Philippines. Many excellent reasons to explore the Philippines are readily available: rich resources, a developing infrastructure for regional growth, a flourishing tourism and service sector, access to capital & tech.

The Philippine economy withstood the recent global economic downturn better than any other ASEAN country, apart from being severely affected by international economic, the Philippines enjoys rampant domestic consumption, low dependence on exports and large amounts of remittances flowing into the country from the millions of Filipinos working abroad. With a stable banking system, a well performing stock market, a constantly expanding tourism, manufacturing industry and record high levels of international reserves, the prospects for the Philippine economy remain positive. Furthermore, the Asian Development Bank (ADB), which offers a broad range of business opportunities in the region is located in Manila. These indicators, in combination with a low day rate of 98.9% as against 100% in elsewhere provides many business opportunities for Dutch entrepreneurs. This is particularly true for the service environment sector.

Priority sectors

Transport & Infrastructure

While challenges remain in the area of public infrastructure, the increased public spending on infrastructure has led to less serious transportation impediments through better roads and more flights.

The next few years will see additional investments from the government and increasing private investments in the Philippine transport sector. The Philippines is also developing other facilities to be an international gateway to being an all shipping, cargo, air, domestic and international carrier. Due to the growing dependence on transport and logistics, business opportunities for Dutch companies can be explored for airport and port development, bulk handling and export express facilities for sea-food, horticulture and other products (e.g. cold storage, freezing, post-harvest storage facilities).

Maritime

The Netherlands and the Philippines have strong and long-standing bilateral political and economic cooperation in the maritime sector. The Philippines is the "diamond capital of the world" and is the primary source of diamonds for the Dutch fleet. The country's strategic nature makes it a strategic hub for ports, shipping and maritime regulation within the Asia-Pacific region. Given the substantial economic interests involved for the Dutch shipping sector, more and more Dutch shipping companies are seeking to expand their business presence in the Philippines instead of just partnering with local transport agencies. Notably, both governments strongly tend the need to continue on Manila Agreements (MANA), a high-level bilateral meeting to strengthen maritime cooperation.

Handbook on Water Security Claudia Pahl-Wostl, Anik Bhaduri, Joyeeta Gupta, 2016-01-29 Water security has received increasing attention in the scientific and public policy communities in recent years The Handbook on Water Security is a much needed resource that helps the reader navigate between the differing interpretations of water security It explains the various dimensions of the topic by approaching it both conceptually and thematically as well as in relation to experiences in different regions of the world The international contributors explore the various perspectives on water security to show that it has multiple meanings that cannot easily be reconciled Topics discussed include challenges from human security to consumerism how trade policies can help to achieve water security in a transboundary setting the potential of risk based governance arrangements and the ecology of water security Scholars and postgraduate students in the social sciences working on water related issues will find this book to be of substantial interest It will strongly appeal to policymakers and practitioners looking at the strengths and limitations of water security Southeast Asian Personalities of Chinese Descent Leo Suryadinata, 2012 This is a bold project recording the lives of a particular group of Southeast Asians Most of the people whose biographies are included here have settled down in the ten countries that constitute the region Each of them has either self identified as Chinese or is comfortable to be known as someone of Chinese ancestry There are also those who were born in China or elsewhere who came here to work and do business including seeking help from others who have ethnic Chinese connections With the political and economic conditions of the region in a great state of flux for the past two centuries it is impossible to find consistency in the naming process Confucius had stressed that correct names make for the best relationships In this case Professor Leo Suryadinata has been pursuing for decades the elusive goal of finding the right name to give to the large numbers of people who have in one way or another made their homes in or made some difference to Southeast Asia I believe that when he and his colleagues selected the biographies to be included here they have taken a big step towards the rectification of identities for many leading personalities In so doing he has done us all a great service Professor Wang Gungwu National University of Singapore Trade Associations Directory, 2007 Climate Emergency in the Philippines Kristoffer B. Berse, Juan M. Pulhin, Antonio G. M. La Viña, 2024-05-18 This book provides a snapshot of the manifestations of the climate emergency in the Philippines from a wide array of disciplines including physical sciences social sciences arts and humanities management and law Researchers and faculties at the University of the Philippines contributed to this compilation where each chapter provides policymakers and the public a clear picture of why climate change must be confronted with a sense of urgency and near desperation Divided into three main parts the first one zeroes in on climate vulnerable sectors such as water food and agriculture health and coastal communities in the Philippines to introduce readers to the current pressing impacts of the climate emergency The second part presents case studies of local experiences from the country's three island regions namely Luzon Visayas and Mindanao and it situates the readers in different environments and contexts The third part features transdisciplinary responses to the climate emergency including salient challenges in relation to planning financing communication and education The concluding chapter highlights eight areas for action to tackle the climate emergency Each chapter comes with an overview and a Summary for Policymakers which provides clear guidance for action to be taken by both local and national policymakers The Philippine Lumberman ,2000 Philippine Business Report ,2010 The Journal of Horticulture and Home Farmer ,1908 Forests for People Anne M Larson,Deborah Barry,Ganga Ram Dahal,2012-09-10 Who has rights to forests and forest resources In recent years governments in the South have transferred at least 200 million hectares of forests to communities living in and around them This book assesses the experience of what appears to be a new international trend that has substantially increased the share of the world s forests under community administration Based on research in over 30 communities in selected countries in Asia India Nepal Philippines Laos Indonesia Africa Burkina Faso Cameroon Ghana and Latin America Bolivia Brazil Guatemala Nicaragua it examines the process and outcomes of granting new rights assessing a variety of governance issues in implementation access to forest products and markets and outcomes for people and forests Forest tenure reforms have been highly varied ranging from the titling of indigenous territories to the granting of small land areas for forest regeneration or the right to a share in timber revenues While in many cases these rights have been significant new statutory rights do not automatically result in rights in practice and a variety of institutional weaknesses and policy distortions have limited the impacts of change Through the comparison of selected cases the chapters explore the nature of forest reform the extent and meaning of rights transferred or recognized and the role of authority and citizens networks in forest governance They also assess opportunities and obstacles associated with government regulations and markets for forest products and the effects across the cases on livelihoods forest condition and equity Published with CIFOR Extreme Environmental Events Robert A.
