Small Business Standards (SBS) is the European association that represents small and medium-sized enterprises' (SMEs) interests in the standardisation process at both European and international level. SBS was established in 2013 to meet the European Union's aspiration to make the standardisation system as inclusive, transparent and open as possible in line with Regulation 1025/2012 on the European Standardisation System.

The European DIGITAL SME Alliance (DIGITAL SME) is the continent's largest network of ICT small and medium-sized enterprises, representing around 20,000 digital SMEs. DIGITAL SME is a member of SBS and is a joint effort of 28 national and regional SME associations from EU Member States and neighbouring countries to put digital SMEs at the centre of the EU agenda.

In the framework of the EU-funded actions for support to SMEs in standardisation by SBS, the European DIGITAL SME Alliance developed an SME Guide for the implementation of ISO/IEC 27001 on information security management.

This Guide was developed by the DIGITAL SME "WG27K" working group. The WG27K is made up of experts familiar with standardisation issues for information security management system and they fully understand SMEs' needs in this field. These experts were proposed by SME organisations from different EU countries and their selection was based on their competencies, to ensure the group's compositional diversity. SBS and DIGITAL SME are the sole proprietors of this free and publicly available Guide.

Disclaimer: this Guide is informative in its contents. Implementing this Guide does not imply full compliance with ISO/IEC 27001. This document is not intended and cannot be used as a substitute for certification according to ISO/IEC 27001. This Guide only reflects Small Business Standards' and European DIGITAL SME Alliance's views.
