Quality Assurance and Accreditation in Distance Education and e-Learning Insung Jung,Colin Latchem,2012-04-05 Quality assurance QA in open and distance learning ODL can be a contentious issue Some argue that it should be judged by the same criteria and methods as face to face education while others claim that it is so different in its organization enrolments and operations that conventional QA mechanisms cannot apply Some advocate the use of specific guidelines and standards for e learning others believe that regardless of the technology the basic principles of quality teaching and learning should apply Providers who have enjoyed freedom from external scrutiny may resist attempts at external regulation and auditing and look upon QA as yet another imposition of corporatization and bureaucracy on education Others see it as a means of establishing a culture of quality self reflection and self improvement There is little research based literature to guide policy makers managers and practitioners in applying QA in education and training to ensure the right balance is found between accountability and autonomy as well as assuring quality for the time and costs involved In this respect Quality Assurance and Accreditation in Distance Education and e Learning is a book that is long overdue It explains what is involved in QA and accreditation in education It describes and analyzes applications of these practices in open distance dual mode and conventional universities throughout Europe North America Africa and the Asia Pacific looking at open schooling e learning in conventional schools non formal adult and community education and corporate and small to medium enterprises Quality Assurance and Accreditation in Distance Education and e Learning is edited and authored by experts with extensive international experience in ODL e learning and QA who give careful consideration to the possibilities and challenges involved The book will be an invaluable guide for all policy makers managers practitioners and researchers in the field

The Economist ,2007 Archaeology in the PPG16 Era Timothy Darvill,Kerry Barrass,Vanessa Constant,Ehren Milner,Bronwen Russell,2018-12-31 The Archaeological Investigations Project AIP funded by English Heritage systematically collected information about the nature and outcomes of more than 86 000 archaeological projects undertaken between 1990 and 2010 This volume looks at the long term trends in archaeological investigation and reporting places this work within wider social political and professional contexts and reviews its achievements Information was collected through visits to public and private organizations undertaking archaeological work Planning Policy Guidance Note 16 Archaeology and Planning known as PPG16 published in 1990 saw the formal integration of archaeological considerations with the UK town and country planning system that and set out processes for informed decision making and the implementation of post determination mitigation strategies defined a formative era in archaeological practice and established principles that underpin today s planning policy framework The scale of activity represented more 1000 excavations per year for most of the PPG16 Era is more than double the level of work undertaken at peak periods during the previous three decades This comprehensive review of the project presents a wealth of data A series of case studies examines the illustrate different types of development project revealing many ways in which projects develop how archaeology is integrated with planning and execution and the range of outputs documenting the process and identified a series of ten important lessons that can be learned from these investigations Looking into the post PPG16 Era the volume considers anticipated developments in the changing worlds of planning property development and archaeological practice and proposes the monitoring of archaeological investigations in England using a two pronged approach that involves self reporting and periodic strategic overviews
