Dr Ambedkar Buddhism And Social Change:

Dr. Ambedkar, Buddhism and Social Change A. K. Narain, D. C. Ahir, 2009 Papers presented at the Workshop on Dr Ambedkar Buddhism and Social Change held at Sarnath during 29-31 March 1991 Doctor Ambedkar, Buddhism and Social Change A. K. Narain, D. C. Ahir, 2010 Papers presented at the Workshop on Dr Ambedkar Buddhism and Social Change held at Sarnath during 29-31 March 1991 Western and Eastern Perspectives on Religion and Religiosity Sarah Demmrich, Ulrich Riegel, 2020-12-23 The concept of religiosity is a highly individual aspect of religion. The understanding of it was shaped in Protestant circles in the Western context and it has inspired a huge body of research and further developments in theology as well as in religious education. However, both charismatic movements within Christianity and orthopractic religious traditions such as Islam raise the question of whether an individualized account of religiosity is able to grasp the spectrum of lived religion comprehensively. Furthermore, with increasing globalization, even Asian worldviews like Hinduism or Buddhism are part of daily experience and have expanded the notion of what can be perceived of as religion. These changes were discussed at the international conference Religiosity in East and West: Conceptual and Methodological Challenges at the University of Münster, Germany, from 25 to 27 June 2019. With this volume of conference proceedings, we pay special attention to the most significant conference contributions relevant to religious education and practical theology.

The Ashgate Research Companion to Modern Imperial Histories John Marriott, 2016-03-23 Written by leading scholars, this collection provides a comprehensive and authoritative overview of modern empires. Spanning the era of modern imperial history from the early sixteenth century to the present, it challenges both the rather insular focus on specific experiences and gives due attention to imperial formations outside the West, including the Russian, Japanese, Mughal, Ottoman, and Chinese. The companion is divided into three broad sections. Part I: Times surveys the three main eras of modern imperialism. The first was that dominated by the settlement impulse, with migrants many voluntarily and many more by force, making new lives in the colonies. This impulse gave way, most especially in the nineteenth century, to a period of busy and rapid expansion, which was less likely to promote new settlement and in which colonists more frequently saw their sojourn in colonial lands as temporary and related to the business, mostly of governance and trade. Lastly, in the twentieth century, in particular, empires began to fail and to fall. Part II: Spaces studies the principal imperial formations of the modern world. Each chapter charts the experience of a specific empire while, at the same time, placing it within the complex patterns of wider imperial constellations. The individual chapters thus survey the broad dynamics of change within the empires themselves and their relationships with other imperial formations and reflect critically on the ways in which these topics have been approached in the literature. In Part III: Themes, scholars think critically about some of the key features of imperial expansion and decline. These chapters are brief and many are provocative. They reflect the current state of the field and suggest new lines of inquiry which may follow from more comparative perspectives on empire. The broad range of themes captures the vitality and diversity of contemporary scholarship on questions of empire and colonialism encompassing political economic and cultural processes central to the formation and maintenance of empires as well as institutions ideologies and social categories that shaped the lives both of those implementing and those experiencing the force of empire In these pages the reader will find the slave and the criminal the merchant and the maid the scientist and the artist alongside the structures which sustained their lives and their livelihoods Overall the companion emphasises the diversity of imperial experience and process Comprehensive in its scope it draws attention to the particularities of individual empires rather than over generalising as if all empires at all times and in all places behaved in a similar manner It is this contingent and historical specificity that enables us to explore in expansive ways precisely what constituted the modern empire

Dalits in Modern India S. M. Michael, 2007-05-08 This second revised and enlarged edition looks back at the aspirations and struggle of the marginalised Dalit masses and looks forward to a new humanity based on equality social justice and human dignity Within the context of Dalit emancipation it explores the social economic and cultural content of Dalit transformation in modern India These articles by some of the foremost researchers in the field are presented in four parts Part I deals with the historical material on the origin and development of untouchability in Indian civilisation Part II contests mainstream explanations and shows that the Dalit vision of Indian society is different from that of the upper castes Part III offers a critique of the Sanskrit perspective of traditional Indian society and fieldwork based portraits of the Hinduisation of Adivasis in Gujarat Dalit patriarchy in Maharashtra and Dalit power politics in Uttar Pradesh Part IV concentrates on the economic condition of the Dalits

Untouchable S. M. Michael, 1999 Exploring the enduring legacy of untouchability in India this book challenges the ways in which the Indian experience has been represented in Western scholarship The authors introduce the long tradition of Dalit emancipatory struggle and present a sustained critique of academic discourse on the dynamics of caste in Indian society Case studies complement these arguments underscoring the perils and problems that Dalits face in a contemporary context of communalized politics and market reforms

World Religions and Multiculturalism , 2010-10-05 This book is about new forms of religiosity and religious activity emerging in the context of their dialectic relations with contemporary multicultural realities World religions are effectively a major agent of the multiculturalization of contemporary societies However multiculturalism pushes them not only toward change and reforms but also toward new conflicts between and within them This process should remind us of the Jewish legend of the Golem an animated being created by man which finally challenges the latter's control over it a dialectic relation indeed World religions today greatly contribute to a world dis order that is multicultural both when viewed as a whole and from within most societies that compose it It is a development that contrasts both with the assumption that globalization implies one way homogenization and convergence to Western modernity and the expectation that globalization would be bound to polarize homogeneous civilizations

Social Action , 2001 Shared Devotion, Shared Food Jon Keune, 2021-04-22 Shared Devotion Shared Food explores how people in western India wrestled for centuries with two competing values a theological vision that God welcomes all people and the social hierarchy of the caste system Jon Keune examines the ways in which food and stories about food were important sites where this debate played out particularly when people of high and low social status ate together By studying Marathi manuscripts nineteenth century publications plays and films Shared Devotion Shared Food reveals how the question of caste inclusivity and equality was formulated in different ways over the course of three centuries and it explores why social equality remains so elusive in practice Caste, Community, and Conflict in Social Change Virendra Prakash Singh,1992 Contributed articles excerpts etc most in the Indian context socioanthropological approach Asian Leadership in Policy and Governance Evan Berman,M.
