"I felt violated in front of my peers. I was called out, and it was taking time from my education" ("Shame: A Documentary"). "It made me feel embarrassed and ashamed" ("Shame: A Documentary"). These are quotes from students at Woodford County High School who created a documentary called Shame to share their opinions on how harmful dress codes can be on a person's emotions. There must no longer be a dress code in schools. The codes are a problem because they do not protect children. Not only that, but also boys are not allowed to dress in female attire, the dress codes are inconsistent, and girls are targeted and sexualized. It is common for school administrators and teachers to believe if there is not a dress code, students will come to school without enough clothing, and/or they will be a distraction to other students. What these administrators do not understand is these problems would not exist if students were able to adjust to no longer "shut-shaming" and judging other students based solely on their attire. The most shocking, yet exceptional solution to these problems is to diminish the dress code all together.

In Colorado a third-grader was suspended after shaving her head to show support for a friend battling cancer because she had violated her school's dress code banning shaved heads (Hoewel, 1). In 2013, 5-year-old Cooper Barton from Oklahoma City was told to turn his University of founders of the modern Turkey created a National Assembly and which served as the early steps to the representative democracy There were series of reforms on the education military system women s rights and general dress code for public places However although Ataturk and his friends contribution to the Turkish modernization is undeniable it should be made clear that his ideas were inspired both by the realities of his time and more importantly the reforms of the late Ottoman period Thus contrary to what primary level education which is taught in state schools in Turkey suggests it is hard to claim that he singlehandedly invented all the ideas and reforms concerning the Turkish modernization In fact the idea of Turkish modernization long predates the foundation of the secular republic There had been reforms from top to down during the nineteenth century These were followed by a new group of intellectuals who were influenced by the ideas of Enlightenment and French Revolution who were called Young Turks The Young Turk movement which was emerged among the students of higher learning schools of Istanbul attracted many other members of the society The members of the movement were united in their opposition to the personal rule of the Sultan and created the backbone of the modern democratic reforms happened during early years of the modern Turkish Republic Hanioglu 2011
