

DuPont™ FM-200®

FIRE EXTINGUISHING AGENT

Technical Information

Description

DuPont™ FM-200® is the world's most widely selected clean agent for use in new applications and as a Halon 1301 replacement. It is suitable for use in a wide range of fire extinguishing applications, including total flooding, streaming, and inerting applications. FM-200® (HFC-227ea, $\text{CF}_3\text{CH}_2\text{FCF}_3$) is a safe, clean, and electrically nonconductive agent that protects people, high value assets and the continuity of business operations.

FM-200® has been validated by independent agencies and has received component approval from Underwriters Laboratories (UL) and Factory Mutual Research Corporation (FM). It is listed as an acceptable agent for the replacement of Halon 1301 and for new applications in the United States Environmental Protection Agency's Significant New Alternative Policy (SNAP) program in both total flooding and streaming systems. FM-200® has a zero ozone depletion potential and is the environmentally preferred alternative to Halon 1301. FM-200® is included in the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) 2001 Clean Agent Standard and the International Standards Organization (ISO) 14520 Clean Agent Standard.

Applications

Total Flooding of Class A Hazards

FM-200® is an ideal choice for new applications and the replacement of Halon 1301 in total flooding applications involving Class A (plastic, cellulose, solid) hazards. FM-200® is suitable for use in Class A applications where people are normally present (normally occupied spaces). Class A fire hazards represent greater than 90% of all commercial protection scenarios. Examples of applications where FM-200® is an excellent choice for a total flood fire suppression system where people are present include: computer rooms, telecommunication switch stations and facilities, semiconductor manufacturing facilities, data processing centers, clean rooms, industrial process control rooms, museums, libraries and historical sites.

Total Flooding of Class B Hazards

FM-200® is suitable for the protection of Class B (liquid and gas) fire hazards. Examples of these applications include: engine compartments, petrochemical facilities, chemical storage rooms, paint lockers and other areas where hydro-carbon-based materials are stored or handled.

Total Flooding of Class C Hazards

In certain instances, equipment remains electrically energized during and after fire extinguishing system activation. FM-200® is also suitable for the protection of these Class C (electrically energized) fire hazards.

Explosion Suppression

FM-200® is also suitable for use in explosion suppression applications. Such systems typically employ extremely rapid detection and suppression system activation.

Streaming Applications

FM-200® is suitable for the replacement of Halon 1301 or Halon 1211 in certain streaming applications, such as portable fire extinguishers, for the protection of Class A, B and C hazards.
