linking this with the question of how he writes readers can better understand what he writes Murakami's fiction in other words can be read as a search for self therapy In five chapters which explore Murakami's fourteen novels to date this book argues that there are four prominent therapeutic threads woven through Murakami's fiction that can be traced back to his personal traumas most notably Murakami's falling out with his late father and the death of a former girlfriend and which have also transcended them in significant ways as they have been transformed into literary fiction The first thread looks at the way melancholia must be worked through for mourning to occur and healing to happen the second thread looks at how symbolic acts of sacrifice can help to heal intergenerational trauma the third thread looks at the way people with avoidant attachment styles can begin to open themselves up to love again the fourth thread looks at how individuation can manifest as a response to nihilism Meticulously researched and written with sensitivity the result is a sophisticated exploration of Murakami's published novels as an evolving therapeutic project that will be of great value to all scholars of Japanese literature and culture Murakami Haruki and Our Years of Pilgrimage Gitte Marianne Hansen, Michael Tsang, 2021-08-19

This book is a timely and expansive volume on Murakami Haruki arguably Japan's most high profile contemporary writer With contributions from prominent Murakami scholars this book approaches the works of Murakami Haruki through interdisciplinary perspectives discussing their significance and value through the lenses of history geography politics gender and sexuality translation and literary influence and circulation Together the chapters provide a multifaceted assessment on Murakami's literary oeuvre in the last four decades vouching for its continuous importance in understanding the world and Japan in contemporary times The book also features exclusive material that includes the cultural critic Kat Norihiro's final work on Murakami his chapter here is one of the few works ever translated into English to interviews with Murakami and discussions from his translators and editors shedding light not only on Murakami's works as literature but as products of cross cultural exchanges Murakami Haruki and Our Years of Pilgrimage will prove a valuable resource for students and scholars of Japanese studies comparative and world literature cultural studies and beyond 1Q84 Bog 1 Haruki

History of European Literature Walter Cohen, 2017 Walter Cohen argues that the history of European literature and each of its standard periods can be illuminated by comparative consideration of the different literary languages within Europe and by the ties of European literature to world literature World literature is marked by recurrent systematic features outcomes of the way that language and literature are at once the products of major change and its agents Cohen tracks these features from ancient times to the present distinguishing five main overlapping stages Within that framework he shows that European literature's ongoing internal and external relationships are most visible at the level of form rather than of thematic statement or mimetic representation European literature emerges from world literature before the birth of Europe during antiquity whose Classical languages are the heirs to the complex heritage of Afro Eurasia This legacy is later transmitted by Latin to the various vernaculars The uniqueness of the process lies in the gradual displacement of the learned language by the vernacular long dominated by Romance literatures That development subsequently informs the second crucial differentiating dimension of European literature the multicontinental expansion of its languages and characteristic genres especially the novel beginning in the Renaissance This expansion ultimately results in the reintegration of European literature into world literature and thus in the creation of today s global literary system The distinctiveness of European literature is to be found in these interrelated trajectories

The Future of the Word Tiffany Eberle Kriner,2014

In scripture Jesus promises a future that potentially infuses all texts my words will not pass away Matt 24 35 This book argues that textseven literary texts have an eschatology too a part in Gods purpose for the cosmos They with all creation move toward participation in the new creation in the Trinitys expanding creative love This eschatological future for texts impacts how we understand meaning making from the level of semiology to that of hermeneutics This book tells the story of how readers participate in the future of the word the eschatology of texts If texts have a future in the kingdom of God then readers engagements with themeverything from preservation and utterance to translation criticism and call and responsecan cultivate those futures in the love of the Trinity Kriner explores how the fallenness and failures of texts alongside readers own failures while seeming to challenge the future of the word ultimately point to reading as a posture of reconciliation in which reader and text meet in the Maranatha of all text

Haruki Murakami Storytelling and Productive Distance studies the evolution of the monogatari or narrative and storytelling in the works of Haruki Murakami Author Chikako Nihei argues that Murakami s power of monogatari lies in his use of distancing effects storytelling allows individuals to cross into a different context through which they can effectively observe themselves and reality His belief in the importance of monogatari is closely linked to his generation s experience of the counter culture movement in the late1960s and his research on the 1995 Tokyo Sarin Gas Attack caused by the Aum shinrikyo cult major events in postwar Japan that revealed many people s desire for a stable narrative to interact with and form their identity from *1Q84. Thinking About Love Diane Enns,Antonio Calcagno,2015-11-10 Does love command an ineffability that remains inaccessible to the philosopher Thinking About Love considers the nature and experience of love through the writing of well known Continental philosophers such as Hannah Arendt Simone de Beauvoir Jacques Derrida and Maurice Merleau Ponty Evolving forms of social organization rapid developments in the field of psychology and novel variations on relationships demand new approaches to and ways of talking about love Rather than offering prescriptive claims this volume explores how one might think about the concept philosophically without attempting to resolve or alleviate its ambiguities paradoxes and limitations The essays focus on the contradictions and limits of love manifested in such phenomena as trust abuse grief death violence politics and desire An erudite examination of the many facets of love this book fills a lacuna in the philosophy of this richly complicated topic Along with the editors the contributors are Sophie Bourgault John Caruana Christina M Gschwandtner Marguerite La Caze Alphonso Lingis Christian Lotz Todd May Dawne McCance Dorothea Olkowski Felix Murchadha Fiona Utley and M lanie Walton
