Building Systems Integration for Enhanced Environmental Performance Shahin Vassigh, Jason R. Chandler, 2011
Looks at the issues of sustainability and environmental impact in the field of building design and architecture This book addresses sustainability in building design through development of a series of examples presented as three dimensional models of well integrated building systems

Tall Buildings Mehmet Günel, Hüseyin Ilgin, 2014-06-27 The structural challenges of building 800 metres into the sky are substantial and include several factors which do not affect low rise construction This book focusses on these areas specifically to provide the architectural and structural knowledge which must be taken into account in order to design tall buildings successfully In presenting examples of steel reinforced concrete and composite structural systems for such buildings it is shown that wind load has a very important effect on the architectural and structural design The aerodynamic approach to tall buildings is considered in this context as is earthquake induced lateral loading Case studies of some of the world s most iconic buildings illustrated with full colour photographs structural plans and axonometrics will bring to life the design challenges which they presented to architects and structural engineers The Empire State Building the Burj Khalifa Taipei 101 and the HSB Turning Torso are just a few examples of the buildings whose real life specifications are used to explain and illustrate core design principles and their subsequent effect on the finished structure

Restorative Cities Jenny Roe, Layla McCay, 2021-07-15 Overcrowding noise and air pollution long commutes and lack of daylight can take a huge toll on the mental well being of city dwellers With mental healthcare services under increasing pressure could a better approach to urban design and planning provide a solution The restrictions faced by city residents around the world during the COVID 19 pandemic has brought home just how much urban design can affect our mental health and created an imperative to seize this opportunity Restorative Cities explores a new way of designing cities one which places mental health and wellness at the forefront Establishing a blueprint for urban design for mental health it examines a range of strategies from sensory architecture to place making for creativity and community and brings a genuinely evidence based approach that will appeal to designers and planners health practitioners and researchers alike and provide compelling insights for anyone who cares about how our surroundings affect us Written by a psychiatrist and public health specialist and an environmental psychologist with extensive experience of architectural practice this much needed work will prompt debate and inspire built environment students and professionals to think more about the positive potential of their designs for mental well being

The global capitalism has entered into a new and distinct phase wherein liberalisation privatisation and globalisation commonly called LPG is a central theme Almost every country particularly the developing countries are on the agenda of international monopolies and international financial capital which are controlled and regulated by the industrially developed nations The vulnerable economies all over the world are being forced to liberalise their economies resulting in unfavourable balance of competitive forces on their side Free trade rules are dismantling the License Raj meant for business and industry under the dictate of global corporations Market forces have been given once again a primacy to make the major economic decisions The free trade systems of small producers and poor consumers are being dismantled and being made illegal in order to create free trade systems for big business and global corporations 1 All these have been the outcome of certain policy initiatives and developments that have taken place at the national and international level especially since the 1980s

Architect: The evolving story of a profession Eleanor Jolliffe,Paul Crosby,2023-06-01 The architect s role is constantly adapting Throughout history it has shifted significantly shaped by social cultural technological and economic forces The very definition of what an architect is and does has evolved over time from lead builder or master mason to principal designer A collaborative and reactive profession it is inextricably linked to the power of the patron whether the client is an influential and affluent individual or a political commercial civic or religious organisation From Ancient Egypt where architects were members of the ruling class tied into the running of the empire to the 21st century when questions are being raised about the future of the profession this book with its engaging narrative explores the constant threads that remain as the profession adapts While architects are no longer deified their ability to imagine a new impending reality in built form implies a visionary dimension to their work By focusing on both the practicalities of the profession and the more intangible motivations behind design humans need to make a mark upon their surroundings this volume provides a critical overview of over 3000 years of practice and education Looking at the key questions of where the architectural profession originated in the Western tradition why it is how it is today and where it might be going next the authors postulate that architects ability to adapt and reinvent themselves in the past will stand them in good stead for the uncertainties of the future Designing for Zero Waste

Steffen Lehmann,Robert Crocker,2013-07-03 Designing for Zero Waste is a timely topical and necessary publication Materials and resources are being depleted at an accelerating speed and rising consumption trends across the globe have placed material efficiency waste reduction and recycling at the centre of many government policy agendas giving them an unprecedented urgency While there has been a considerable literature addressing consumption and waste reduction from different disciplinary perspectives the complex nature of the problem requires an increasing degree of interdisciplinarity Resource recovery and the optimisation of material flow can only be achieved alongside and through behaviour change to reduce the creation of material waste and wasteful consumption This book aims to develop a more robust understanding of the links between lifestyle consumption technologies and urban development Green Building Trends Jerry

Yudelson,2012-07-16 The green building revolution is a worldwide movement for energy efficient environmentally aware architecture and design Europe has been in the forefront of green building technology and Green Building Trends Europe provides an indispensable overview of these cutting edge ideas and applications In order to write this book well known U S green building expert Jerry Yudelson interviewed a number of Europe s leading architects and engineers and visited many exemplary projects With the help of copious photographs and illustrations Yudelson describes some of the leading contemporary green buildings in Europe including the new Lufthansa headquarters in Frankfurt the Norddeutsche Landesbank in Hannover a new school at University College London the Beaufort Court Zero Emissions building the Merck Serono headquarters in Geneva and a zero net energy all glass house in Stuttgart In clear jargon free prose Yudelson provides profiles of progress in the journey towards sustainability describes the current regulatory and business climates and predicts what the near future may bring He also provides a primer on new technologies systems and regulatory approaches in Western Europe that can be adopted in North America including building integrated solar technologies radiant heating and cooling systems dynamic facades that provide natural ventilation innovative methods for combining climate control and water features in larger buildings zero netenergy homes built like Thermos bottles and strict government timetables for achieving zero carbon buildings Green Building Trends Europe is an essential resource for anyone interested in the latest developments in this rapidly growing field

Islamic charities and Islamic humanism in troubled times Jonathan Benthall, 2016-05-01 Islamic charities and Islamic humanism in troubled times is the fruit of twenty years reflection on Islamic charities both in practical terms including allegations of complicity with terrorism and as a key to understanding the crisis in contemporary Islam On one hand Islam is undervalued as a global moral and political force whose admirable qualities are exemplified in its strong tradition of humanitarianism On the other it suffers from a crisis of authority that cannot be blamed entirely on the history of colonialism and stigmatisation to which Muslims have undoubtedly been subjected most recently as a result of the war on terror This study offers an in depth analysis of the current status of Islamic charities from a wide range of approaches theological historical diplomatic legal sociological and ethnographic and makes use of primary data from the United States Britain Israel Palestine Mali and Indonesia The discussion is widened to explore the potential for a twenty first century Islamic humanism devised by Muslims in the light of the human sciences and consolidated in durable institutions throughout the Muslim world With this in mind contentious issues such as religious toleration and the meaning of jihad need to be addressed The readership includes academics and students at all levels professionals concerned with aid and development and all who have an interest in the future of Islam

Learning Spaces in Africa Ola Uduku, 2018-06-14 With a key UN Sustainable Development Goal for 2030 being to make basic education available to all the world s children Learning Spaces in Africa explores the architectural socio political and economic policy factors that have contributed to school design the main spaces for education and learning in Africa It traces the development of school building design focusing on Western and Southern Africa from its emergence in the 19th century to the present day Uduku s analysis draws attention to the past historic links of schools to development processes from their early 19th century missionary origins to their re emergence as development hubs in the 21st century Learning Spaces in Africa uses this research as a basis to suggest fundamental changes to basic education which respond to new technological advances and

Nationalism and Identity Construction in Central Asia Mariya Y. Omelicheva,2014-12-17 More than two decades after the break up of the Soviet Union Central Asian republics Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan continue to reexamine and debate whom and what they represent Nationalism and Identity Construction in Central Asia explores the complex and controversial process of identity formation in the region using a 3D framework which stands for Dimensions Dynamics and Directions of nation building The first part of the framework dimensions underscores the new and complex ways in which nationalisms and identities manifest themselves in Central Asia The second part dynamics is premised on the idea that nationalisms and identity construction in the Central Asian republics may indicate some continuities with the past but are more concerned with legitimation of the present power politics in these states It calls for the identification of the main actors strategies tactics interests and reactions to the processes of nationalism and identity construction The third part of the framework directions addresses implications of nationalisms and identity construction in Central Asia for regional and international peace and cooperation Jointly the chapters of the volume address domestic and international level dimensions dynamics and directions of identity formation in Central Asia What unites these works is their shared modern and post modern understanding of nations nationalisms and identities as discursive strategic and tactical formations They are viewed as constructed and imagined and therefore continuously changing but also fragmented and contested

Addressing Inequality in South Asia The World Bank,2014-10-08 Inequality in South Asia appears to be moderate when looking at standard indicators such as the Gini index which are based on consumption expenditures per capita But other pieces of evidence reveal enormous gaps from extravagant wealth at one end to lack of access to the most basic services at the other Which prompts the question How bad is inequality in South Asia And why would that matter This book takes a comprehensive look at the extent nature and drivers of inequality in this very dynamic region of the world It discusses how some dimensions of inequality such as high returns to investments in human capital contribute to economic growth while others such as high payoffs to rent seeking or broken aspirations undermine it Drawing upon a variety of data sources it disentangles the contribution that opportunity in young age mobility in adult years and support throughout life make to inequality at any point in time Equally important the book sheds light on the prospects of escaping disadvantage over time The analysis shows that South Asia performs poorly in terms of opportunity Access to basic services is partial at best and can be traced to characteristics at birth including gender location and caste Conversely the region has had a robust performance in terms of geographical and occupational mobility despite its cluttered urbanization and widespread informality Migration and jobs have served disadvantaged groups better than the rest highlighting the importance of the urbanization and private sector development agendas Support falls somewhere in between Poverty alleviation programs are pervasive But the mobilization of public resources is limited and much of it is wasted in regressive subsidies while inter government transfers do not do enough to mitigate spatial inequalities
