Pension Systems and Old-Age Income Support in East and Southeast Asia Donghyun Park, 2012-03-15 Old age income support will be one of the biggest social and economic challenges facing Asia in the twenty first century The growing spotlight on old age income support is largely due to exceptionally rapid population aging which is fundamentally reshaping Asia's demographic profile A young continent reaping the demographic dividend of a large youthful workforce is giving way to a greying continent where the ratio of retirees to workers is on the rise In contrast to industrialized countries most Asian countries do not yet have mature well functioning pension systems As a result they are ill prepared to provide economic security for the large number of retirees who loom on the region's horizon This book takes a close look at the pension systems of eight countries in East and Southeast Asia namely China Indonesia Korea Malaysia Philippines Singapore Thailand and Vietnam which encompass a wide range of income and development levels The book provides a comprehensive overview of pension systems in the eight countries including an in depth diagnosis to identify their major weaknesses and shortcomings On the basis of the diagnosis the book sets forth concrete and specific policy options for reforming Asia's pension systems Many policy options for reform are country specific For example a top priority in China is to extend the pension system to rural areas At the same time a number of reforms such as the need to extend coverage resonate across the entire region Appropriate reform will enable the region's pension systems to deliver affordable adequate and sustainable old age economic security

Pension Systems in East and Southeast Asia Donghyun Park, 2012-08-01 Population aging poses two major challenges for Asian policy makers i sustaining rapid economic growth in the face of less favorable demographic conditions and ii providing affordable adequate sustainable old age income support for a large and growing elderly population This book explores the second issue by examining the pension systems of eight countries in East and Southeast Asia the People's Republic of China Indonesia the Republic of Korea Malaysia the Philippines Singapore Thailand and Viet Nam It also puts forward both country specific and region wide reforms to address two critical areas of pension reform namely fairness and sustainability

Ageing and Pension Reform Around the World Giuliano Bonoli, Toshimitsu Shinkawa, 2006-01-01 This is an admirable example of a multi authored comparative book The two editors set the scene very carefully in the opening chapter and the subsequent chapters follow the framework set out and use the concepts explored there In this never simple policy area national systems are explained as clearly as possible by each author Michael Hill Journal of Social Policy This is an enlightening introduction to the global dimensions and complexity of pension reform Recommended J F O Connell Choice Population ageing and the resulting pressures on existing pension systems constitutes one of the most important challenges

modern societies will have to face over the coming decades Although governments have responded to such pressures by adopting a plethora of pension reforms the adaptation process is far from over This book comprehensively documents developments in pension policy in eleven advanced industrial countries in Western Europe East Asia and North America In order to explore what population ageing means for the sustainability of pension systems the authors present a detailed review of pension policy making over the past two decades and provide up to date analysis of current pension legislation They examine the factors that can facilitate or impede the adaptation of pension systems and the features that shape and determine reforms They also highlight the fact that although the path of reform taken by each country is somewhat different the processes at work are often very similar Ageing populations throughout the world are extremely reluctant to see their pension systems dismantled and are therefore prepared to mobilise in their defence This process of mobilisation interacts with demographic pressures and institutional constraints to help determine the future direction of pension policy The breadth of geographic coverage provides an almost global picture of the impact of ageing on pension reform at least in terms of high income countries Academics and students with an interest in economics social policy sociology and political science will find this a worthwhile and rewarding volume It will also be of value to policymakers interested in how the problem of unsustainable pension systems can be resolved

Aging Populations and Public Pension Schemes Sheetal K.

Chand, Mr. Albert Jaeger, 1996-12-30 This paper discusses a study analyzing aging populations and public pension schemes An aging society is characterized by a growing proportion of the retired to the active working population The study examines the pension related aging problem primarily from a fiscal perspective It analyzes how prospective demographic developments that affect the proportion of the pensionable elderly affect pension outlays It confirms that very serious fiscal stresses are in prospect for most industrial economies Addressing such problems satisfactorily will require major actions early given the long lead times involved in reforming a pension fund's financial position
