Alive In The Writing Crafting Ethnography In The Company Of Chekhov:

Alive in the Writing Kirin Narayan, 2022-12-22 A gem of a book of use to both beginning and seasoned ethnographers as well as to anyone who wants to improve his or her writing about social life Elizabeth Fine Journal of Folklore Research Anton Chekhov is revered as a boldly innovative playwright and short story writer but he wrote more than just plays and stories In Alive in the Writing an intriguing hybrid of writing guide biography and literary analysis anthropologist and novelist Kirin Narayan introduces readers to some other sides of Chekhov his pithy witty observations on the writing process his life as a writer through accounts by his friends family and lovers and his venture into nonfiction through his book Sakhalin Island By closely attending to the people who lived under the appalling conditions of the Russian penal colony on Sakhalin Chekhov showed how empirical details combined with a literary flair can bring readers face to face with distant different lives enlarging a sense of human responsibility Highlighting this balance of the empirical and the literary Narayan calls on Chekhov to bring new energy to the writing of ethnography and creative nonfiction alike Weaving together selections from writing by and about him with examples from other talented ethnographers and memoirists she offers practical exercises and advice on topics such as story theory place person voice and self A new and lively exploration of ethnography Alive in the Writing shows how the genre's attentive sustained connection with the lives of others can become a powerful tool for any writer A brief and brilliant book about what it means to be an ethnographer and how to do it responsibly and better James Wood The New Yorker

Chekhov's Sakhalin Journey Jonathan Cole, 2023-12-14 Chekhov often said that I am a doctor by trade and sometimes I do literary work in my free time a surprising claim given his status as a giant of 20th century drama This literary biographical study uncovers new sides to him as both a medical professional and humanitarian and tells the story of Chekhov's trip to Sakhalin Island in the harsh wastes of Siberia Anton Chekhov practiced medicine for most of his life and engaged in humanitarian work which took him away from writing for months He placed one such trip though across the unforgiving terrain of Siberia to write about the penal island of Sakhalin above all others Chekhov's Sakhalin Journey written by a neuroscientist and practicing clinician uses this trip and Chekhov's own account of it to shed light on hitherto overlooked aspects of his life In doing so it shows that to understand the man we need his medicine as well as his literature and we need to assess his life from his perspective as well as ours Crumpled Paper Boat Anand Pandian, Stuart J. McLean, 2017-03-30

Crumpled Paper Boat is a book of experimental ventures in ethnographic writing an exploration of the possibilities of a literary anthropology These original essays from notable writers in the field blur the boundaries between ethnography and genres such as poetry fiction memoir and cinema They address topics as diverse as ritual expression in Cuba and madness in a Moroccan city the HIV epidemic in South Africa and roadkill in suburban America Essays alternate with methodological reflections on fundamental problems of writerly heritage craft and responsibility in anthropology Crumpled Paper Boat engages writing as a creative process of encounter a way of making and unmaking worlds and a material practice no less participatory and dynamic than fieldwork itself These talented writers show how inventive appealing and intellectually adventurous prose can allow us to enter more profoundly into the lives and worlds of others breaking with conventional notions of representation and subjectivity They argue that such experimentation is essential to anthropology's role in the contemporary world and one of our most powerful means of engaging it Contributors Daniella Gandolfo Angela Garcia Tobias Hecht Michael Jackson Adrie Kusserow Stuart McLean Todd Ramon Ochoa Anand Pandian Stefania Pandolfo Lisa Stevenson Kathleen Stewart A School for Advanced Research Advanced Seminar Theorizing

Fieldwork in the Humanities Shalini Puri, Debra A. Castillo, 2016-12-13 This volume the first of its kind launches a conversation amongst humanities scholars doing fieldwork on the global south It both offers indispensable tools and demonstrates the value of such work inside and outside of the academy The contributors reflect upon their experiences of fieldwork the methods they improvised their dilemmas and insights and the ways in which fieldwork shifted their frames of analysis They explore how to make fieldwork legible to their disciplines and how fieldwork might extend the work of the humanities The volume is for both those who are already deeply immersed in fieldwork in the humanities and those who are seeking ways to undertake it The SAGE Handbook of Interview Research Jaber F. Gubrium, James A. Holstein, Amir B. Marvasti, Karyn D. McKinney, 2012-02-11 The second edition of this landmark volume emphasizes the dynamic interactional and reflexive dimensions of the research interview Contributors highlight the myriad dimensions of complexity that are emerging as researchers increasingly frame the interview as a communicative opportunity as much as a data gathering format The book begins with an overview of the history and conceptual transformations of the interview which is followed by chapters that discuss the main components of interview practice Taken together the contributions to the handbook encourage readers to simultaneously learn the frameworks and technologies of interviewing and reflect on the epistemological foundations of the interview craft The handbook has been updated to address recent developments especially in qualitative interviewing Twenty six chapters are completely new the remaining twelve chapters have been substantially revised to give readers access to the state of the art of interview research Three entirely new sections include Logistics of Interviewing Self and Other in the Interview and Ethics of the Interview

Migration and the Politics of Methodology

Kirsten Emiko McAllister,Ayaka Yoshimizu,Daniel Ahadi,2025-05-30 This volume examines the politics of fieldwork and the challenges of researching migrants constructed as outsiders both nationally and transnationally Based on research with undocumented migrants temporary workers refugees international students and those who having received citizenship status find their lives to be discursively and legally restricted it shows how interdisciplinary fieldwork based approaches can provide detailed accounts of migrants voices and their conditions of existence offering insights into the ways in which they understand and take part in producing their transnational worlds Applying critical self reflexive methodological approaches that challenge assumptions about who has the authority to produce knowledge and what types of knowledge have the authority of truth Migration and the Politics of Methodology will appeal to scholars of sociology anthropology geography and communication and cultural studies with interests in research methods and migration

Exceptional Experiences

Petra Rethmann,Helena Wulff,2023-07-14 Looking at encounters that can puncture or jolt us this volume uses art as a lens through which to register and understand exceptional experiences The volume also includes the fieldworker s experience of unexpected events that can lead to key understandings as well as revelatory moments that happen during artistic creation and while looking at art By exploring exceptional experiences through art the volume asks probing questions for anthropology In recognizing that art is all encompassing including as it does narrative performance dance and images

Exceptional Experiences situates itself within a number of conversations on methodological and conceptual issues in anthropology and beyond

Remorse and Criminal Justice

Steven Tudor,Richard Weisman,Michael Proeve,Kate Rossmanith,2021-11-28 This multi disciplinary collection brings together original contributions to present the best of current thinking about the nature and place of remorse in the context of criminal justice Despite the widespread and long standing nature of interest in offender remorse the topic has until recently been peripheral in academic studies The authors are scholars from North America the United Kingdom Europe South Africa and Australia from diverse academic disciplines They reflect on the role of remorse in law for better or for worse on how expressions of remorse are affected by the legal contexts in which they arise and on the impact of these expressions on the individual the court and the community The work is divided into four parts Part I Judging Remorse addresses issues concerning the task of assessing remorse in the courtroom usually

prior to determining sentence Part II Remorse Beyond the Courtroom explores the place and significance of remorse in various post court settings Part III Remorse War and Social Trauma addresses remorse in the context of political violence and social trauma in the former Yugoslavia and South Africa Finally Part IV Reflections seeks to underscore the multi disciplinary and inter disciplinary nature of the collection as a whole through personal and disciplinary reflections on remorse The work provides a showcase for how diverse academic disciplines can be brought together through a focus on a common topic As such the collection will become a standard reference work for further research across a range of disciplines and promote inter disciplinary dialogue The Ashgate Research Companion to Modern Theory, Modern Power, World Politics Nevzat Soguk, Scott G Nelson, 2016-04-28 Deliberately eschewing disciplinary and temporal boundaries this volume makes a major contribution to the de traditionalization of political thinking within the discourses of international relations Collecting the works of twenty five theorists this Ashgate Research Companion engages some of the most pressing aspects of political thinking in world politics today The authors explore theoretical constitutions critiques and affirmations of uniquely modern forms of power past and present Among the themes and dynamics examined are textual appropriation and representation materiality and capital formation geopolitical dimensions of ecological crises connections between representations of violence and securitization subjectivity and genderization counter globalization politics constructivism biopolitics post colonial politics and theory as well as the political prospects of emerging civic and cosmopolitan orders in a time of national religious and secular polarization Radically different in their approaches the authors critically assess the discourses of IR as interpretive frames that are indebted to the historical formation of concepts and to particular negotiations of power that inform the main methodological practices usually granted primacy in the field Students as well as seasoned scholars seeking to challenge accepted theoretical frameworks will find in these chapters fresh insights into contemporary world political problems and new resources for their critical interrogation Beyond Description Paolo Heywood, Matei Candea, 2023-12-15 Beyond Description brings anthropologists and other social scientists together to examine the problem of explanation What is an explanation What can it add What makes it authoritative clarifying or misleading Whom does it serve and how is it produced These questions lie at the heart of recent public crises of confidence in expertise political representation and classic liberal visions of whom we can rely on for true and trustworthy accounts In a world beset by events and processes that seem to defy expert predictions of their impossibility and in which post hoc accounts can often feel more like rationalizations than explanations competing voices vie for public presence and seek to silence one another Anthropology and the social sciences face such questions too making contemporary explanatory practice both an empirical and a reflexive challenge By combining ethnographic studies of practices of explanation in a range of contemporary political medical artistic religious and bureaucratic settings the essays in Beyond Description offer critical examinations of changing norms and forms of explanation in the world and within anthropology itself Storytime in India Helen Priscilla

Myers, Umesh Chandra Pandey, 2019-06-14 An American ethnomusicologist and her Indian collaborator recount their experiences researching Bhojpuri wedding songs in India. Stories are the backbone of ethnographic research. During fieldwork, subjects describe their lives through stories. Afterward, ethnographers come home from their journeys with stories of their own about their experiences in the field. Storytime in India is an exploration of the stories that come out of ethnographic fieldwork. Helen Priscilla Myers and Umesh Chandra Pandey examine the ways in which their research collecting Bhojpuri wedding songs became interwoven with the stories of their lives, their work together, and their shared experience reading The Eustace Diamonds by Anthony Trollope. Moving through these intertwined stories, the reader learns about the complete Bhojpuri wedding tradition through songs sung by Gangajali and access to the original song recordings and their translations. In the interludes, Pandey reads and interprets The Eustace Diamonds, confronting the reader with the ever-present influence of colonialism both in India and in ethnographic fieldwork. Interwoven throughout are stories of the everyday, highlighting the ups and downs of the ethnographic experience. Storytime in India combines the style of the Victorian novel with the structure of traditional Indian village tales in which stories are told within stories. This book questions how we can and should present ethnography as well as what we really learn in the field. As Myers and Pandey ultimately conclude, writers of scholarly books are storytellers themselves, and scholarly books are a form of art just like the traditions they study.

Companion to Feminist Studies Nancy A. Naples, 2020-11-24 A comprehensive overview of feminist scholarship edited by an internationally recognized and leading figure in the field. Companion to Feminist Studies provides a broad overview of the rich history and the multitude of approaches, theories, concepts, and debates central to this dynamic interdisciplinary field. Comprehensive yet accessible, this edited volume offers expert insights from contributors of diverse academic, national, and activist backgrounds, discussing contemporary research and themes while offering international, postcolonial, and intersectional perspectives on social, political, cultural, and economic institutions, social media, social justice movements, everyday discourse, and more. Organized around three different dimensions of Feminist Studies, the Companion begins by exploring ten theoretical frameworks, including feminist epistemologies, examining Marxist and Socialist Feminism, the activism of radical feminists, the contributions of Black feminist thought, and interrelated approaches to the fluidity of gender and sexuality. The second section focuses on methodologies and analytical frameworks developed by feminist scholars, including empiricists, economists, ethnographers, cultural analysts, and historiographers. The volume concludes with a detailed discussion of the many ways in which pedagogy, political ecology, social justice, globalization, and other areas within Feminist Studies are shaped by feminism in practice. A major contribution to scholarship on both the theoretical foundations and contemporary debates in the field, this volume provides an international and interdisciplinary range of essays of high relevance to scholars, students, and practitioners alike. Examines various historical and modern approaches to the analysis of gender and sexual differences. Addresses timely issues such as the difference between radical and cultural feminism the lack of women working as scientists in academia and other research positions and how activism continues to reformulate feminist approaches Draws insight from the positionality of postcolonial comparative and transnational feminists Explores how gender class and race intersect to shape women s experiences and inform their perspectives Companion to Feminist Studies is an essential resource for students and faculty in Women s Gender and Sexuality Studies Feminist Studies programs and related disciplines including anthropology psychology history political science and sociology and for researchers scholars practitioners policymakers activists and advocates working on issues related to gender sexuality and social justice Becoming the Writer You Already Are Michelle R. Boyd,2022-10-25 This book helps scholars uncover their unique writing process and design a writing practice that fits how they work Author Michelle R Boyd introduces the Writing Metaphor as a reflective tool that can help you understand and overcome your writing fears going from stuck to unstuck by drawing on skills you already have at your fingertips She also offers an experimental approach to trying out any new writing strategy so you can easily fill out the parts of your writing process that need developing The book is ideal for dissertation writing seminars graduate students struggling with the transition from coursework to dissertation work scholars who are supporting or participating in writing groups and marginalized scholars whose write struggles have prompted them to internalize the bias that others have about their ability to do exemplary research Transcribing Silence Kristine L Muñoz,2016-07 Kristine Mu oz s volume of short narrative works both autoethnographies and fictional stories framed with synthesizing introduction and conclusion explore silence and the unspoken as consequential phenomena in human communication Screen Production Research Craig Batty,Susan Kerrigan,2017-12-19 Aimed at students and educators across all levels of Higher Education this agenda setting book defines what screen production research is and looks like and by doing so celebrates creative practice as an important pursuit in the contemporary academic landscape Drawing on the work of international experts as well as case studies from a range of forms and genres including screenwriting fiction filmmaking documentary production and mobile media practice the book is an essential guide for those interested in the rich relationship between theory and practice It provides theories models tools and best practice examples that students and researchers can follow and expand upon in their own screen production projects Handbook of Methods in Cultural Anthropology H. Russell Bernard,Clarence C. Gravlee,2014-07-08 The Handbook of Methods in Cultural Anthropology now in its second edition maintains a strong benchmark for understanding the scope of contemporary anthropological field methods Avoiding divisive debates over science and humanism the contributors draw upon both traditions to explore fieldwork in practice The second edition also reflects major developments of the past decade including the rising prominence of mixed methods the emergence of new technologies and evolving views on ethnographic writing Spanning the chain of research from designing a project through methods of data collection and interpretive analysis the Handbook features new chapters on ethnography of online communities social survey research and network and geospatial analysis Considered discussion of ethics epistemology and the presentation of research results to diverse audiences round out the volume The result is an essential guide for all scholars professionals and advanced students who employ fieldwork

Special Treatment Anna Ruddock,2021-07-06 The All India Institute of Medical Sciences AIIMS is iconic in the landscape of Indian healthcare Established in the early years of independence this enormous public teaching hospital rapidly gained fame for the high quality treatment it offered at a nominal cost at present an average of ten thousand patients pass through the outpatient department each day With its notorious medical program acceptance rate of less than 0.01% AIIMS also sits at the apex of Indian medical education To be trained as a doctor here is to be considered the best In what way does this enduring reputation of excellence shape the institution's ethos How does elite medical education sustain India's social hierarchies and the health inequalities entrenched within In the first ever ethnography of AIIMS Anna Ruddock considers prestige as a byproduct of norms attached to ambition aspiration caste and class in modern India and illustrates how the institution's reputation affects its students' present experiences and future career choices Ruddock untangles the threads of intellectual exceptionalism social and power stratification and health inequality that are woven into the health care taught and provided at AIIMS asking what is lost when medicine is used not as a social equalizer but as a means to cultivate and maintain prestige

From Notes to Narrative Kristen Ghodsee,2016-05-10 Ethnography centers on the culture of everyday life So it is ironic that most scholars who do research on the intimate experiences of ordinary people write their books in a style that those people cannot understand In recent years the ethnographic method has spread from its original home in cultural anthropology to fields such as sociology marketing media studies law criminology education cultural studies history geography and political science Yet while more and more students and practitioners are learning how to write ethnographies there is little or no training on how to write ethnographies well From Notes to Narrative picks up where methodological training leaves off Kristen Ghodsee an award winning ethnographer addresses common issues that arise in ethnographic writing Ghodsee works through sentence level details such as word choice and structure She also tackles bigger picture elements such as how to incorporate theory and ethnographic details how to effectively deploy dialogue and how to avoid distracting elements such as long block quotations and in text citations She includes excerpts and examples from model ethnographies The book concludes with a bibliography of other useful writing guides and nearly one hundred examples of eminently readable ethnographic books

Leprosy and a Life in South India James Staples,2014-06-05 Drawing on solid ethnographic fieldwork as well as many hours of interviews Leprosy and a Life in South India Journeys with a Tamil Brahmin tells the life story of Das a Tamil Brahmin born in the newly post colonial India of the early 1950s After being diagnosed with leprosy Das spent over a decade on the streets of Bombay and Madras learning to survive as an unofficial station porter hotel bellhop and sometimes tourist guide He won and lost fortunes on horses he gambled and he learned firsthand of the pleasures to be had in Bombay's red light district But for all the joy that comes through so vividly in his account Das's story unfolds against a backdrop of everyday violence and hardship. Reinvestigated through the prism of an individual life, what are often presented as the rigid social categories of caste, religion, and kinship come to be seen in fresh new ways. Through this life history account, Leprosy in South India captures all this in ways conventional accounts do not, offering a unique take on what it is to be an Indian in contemporary India.
