

Air Pollution: Causes, Effects, And Solutions

The Earth is slowly dying, and one of the reasons why is because of us. We are hurting the planet through our actions. The world's air quality has been rapidly declining due to air pollution mainly caused by human activities. Air pollution is a mixture of particles and gases in the air that becomes harmful to everyone. It can have serious effects on the health of the entire planet; it affects people locally and the world as a whole. Air pollution can have both human-made and natural sources. The causes range from human activities such as the burning of fossil fuels, indoor burning of wood, biomass-based fuels to cook, heat, light, transportation emissions, increased industrial activities, and more. Some natural sources of air pollution contributions include volcanic activity, dust and wildfires, animals, and vegetation.

Humans are the primary cause of the rapid increase in air pollution in the past decades. They have caused air pollution in many different ways. Air pollution is connected and caused directly when we use transportation, electricity, fuels, gas, and etc. It can also be caused indirectly, when people buy goods and services that use energy and production processes that release the chemicals. Most of this air pollution we cause results from the burning of fossil fuels, such as coal, oil, natural gas, and gasoline to produce electricity and power our vehicles. Through activities such as the burning of fossil fuels, indoor burning of wood, biomass-based fuels to cook, heat, and light. Coal-burning power plants are a significant contributor. Industrial processes such as factories and the chemicals coming from those buildings pollute the air. Transportation also causes air pollution. Vehicle emissions contribute a lot to bad air quality. Another major factor is waste and the burning of waste in landfills. It produces and releases harmful chemicals
