contagious bovine pleuropneumonia - A policy for coordinated actions Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2019-03-27 Contagious bovine pleuropneumonia CBPP is an insidious disease that lingers in herds causing significant morbidity and mortality The policies to address the control and management of CBPP are in disarray at both the national and international levels There has not been significant improvement in the efficacies of available vaccines or diagnostic assays for several decades Classic strategies of mass vaccination and strict movement control that once were perceived as successful in rolling back the disease have largely fallen due to high costs concerns of declining impact and growing public resistance Officially treatment with antibiotics is discouraged or prohibited yet their use is widespread CBPP is by all means an enigmatic disease whose control probably requires a new paradigm or out of the box thinking and executing approach The purpose of this document is to provide an evidence based policy for the implementation of sound control of CBPP by all stakeholders at all levels global regional and national It describes a road map to CBPP control that is cognizant of the situation on the ground While not being prescriptive the document includes examples of combinations of interventions and control measures that should offer the opportunity to improve impact and hence offer better livelihoods to livestock producers Food Safety in Low and Middle Income Countries Delia Grace, Bassirou Bonfoh, Hung Nguyen-Viet, Barbara Häsler, 2024-02-23 Foodborne diseases FBD are an important externality of agriculture and food systems but only recently have they risen up the development agenda as the result of growing awareness of the health and economic burdens of FBD and how they relate to food systems with a focus on low income and middle income countries LMIC particularly African nations The health burden of FBD is comparable with that of malaria and over 90% falls on people in LMIC with an economic burden of more than US 100 million per year FBD have many other less well estimated effects on nutrition gender equity and the environment While understanding of food safety in domestic markets of LMICs has advanced greatly risk management is in its infancy This Research Topic will bring together leading regional perspectives on food safety in LMICs The economics of pastoralism in Argentina, Chad and Mongolia Wane, A.; Cesaro, J.D.; Duteurtre, G.; Touré, I.; Ndiaye, A.; Alary, V.; Juanès, X.; Ickowicz, A.; Ferrari, S. and Velasco, G., 2020-10-19 Pastoralists make the most of resources distributed unevenly over space and time to provide a range of goods and services Operating in a shock prone environment pastoralists deploy endogenous strategies such as mobility diversification in agriculture or in non agricultural activities management of social networks etc However accurate and reliable knowledge about the economics of pastoralism is yet to be understood and absorbed at the local regional and national levels based on reliable data In the absence of such knowledge governments and private firms neglect investment that would allow those systems to better connect to markets and are unable to provide appropriate services infrastructure and tenure security With Argentina Chad and Mongolia as pilot cases this study by CIRAD commissioned by FAO funded by IFAD and facilitated by pastoralist associations Fundaci n Gran Chaco Rseau Billital Maroob and the National Federation of Pasture User Groups aimed to fulfil this knowledge gap through a multifunctional assessment of pastoral production systems and their economic contribution Importantly incorporating self consumption of pastoralist households productions themselves as an key component of gross revenue shows a significant increase in their contribution to national GDPs The diversified sources of revenue and the importance of self consumption also indicate that pastoral systems fulfil a range of functions income food security flexible labor etc Further the study promotes close cooperation between pastoralist associations research institutions and development partners Such new partnerships allow strengthening the capacity of those pastoralist associations in collecting and managing their own data as well as using this data in policy dialogue Qualitative risk assessment for African swine fever virus introduction Rozstalnyy, A., Roche, X., Tago Pacheco, D., Kamata, A., Beltran Alcrudo, D., Khomenko, S., Lockhart, C., Urdaz, J., Gioia, G., Gonzalez Serrano, A., Von Dobschuetz, S., Dhingra, M., Sumption, K., 2022-02-28 Following the re introduction of the African swine fever virus ASFV in the Americas after 40 years of absence FAO conducted a qualitative risk assessment for the likelihood of entry of ASF from the Dominican Republic and Haiti to unaffected countries and territories of the Americas and the likelihood of exposure to susceptible animal populations should the disease be introduced In addition the potential economic and social impact of ASFV spreading across the continent was assessed The risk assessment covers the period of December 2021 to February 2022 and considered six risk pathways of introduction and spread The methodology information used and results of the risk assessment and economic impact assessment are available in this publication along with recommendations for prevention and control of ASFV introduction and spread in the region In addition the publication compiles information collected from 35 countries territories in the Americas through a questionnaire and presents evidence on the complex swine pork value chains in the region retrieved from various sources

Village Chicken Production Systems in Rural Africa Aichi J.
