

Martin's Menace or Four Fit - Stewart Coffin Design #217 by John Devost

This awesome tray design by Stewart is a classic puzzle design that has even stumped long time puzzle collectors.

There have been many laser cut and printed copies produced over the years but I thought I might make a few copies using my traditional method.

These are crafted using $\frac{3}{4}$ " cubes with my usual solid wood floating bottom and everything lacquered and triple buffed.

Here's a description from Stewart:

"For a while I became absorbed in the form of mathematical amusements that I call square root type puzzles. In 2001 I did a 22-page report, "Square Root Type Packing Problems", with limited distribution. It was included in the 2014 Appendix. I also wrote a couple articles on the subject. Out of all that came a deluge of requests for designs. Rather than the more usual category, I have selected just a few original designs. It was a thrill to share them. Here's one."

Enjoy
