Investigating Media Discourse ANNE O'KEEFFE, 2006-09-27 Investigating Media Discourse explores spoken interactions in the media drawing on contemporary sources from the English speaking world including chat shows radio phone ins and political interviews with leaders such as Tony Blair and George W Bush The main theoretical framework used in this work is influenced by Goffman where each media encounter is viewed as a three way participation framework involving the broadcaster interviewee and audience all of whom shape the interaction The spoken media interactions are analysed from this viewpoint to illustrate how they are managed how pseudo relationships are established and maintained and how others are created O Keefe brings together methodologies of discourse analysis conversation analysis and corpus linguistics allowing the media extracts to be explored from different perspectives whilst providing multiple insights Investigating Media Discourse will appeal to students and researchers of applied linguistics english language and media Anne O Keefe is Lecturer in Applied Linguistics at the Department of English Language and Literature Mary Immaculate College University of Limerick Ireland

Conversation in Context Christoph Rühlemann, 2007-12-24 Conversation in Context examines real life speech data from the British National Corpus to show how language is used in natural conversation The monograph describes the composition annotation and transcription of the corpus as well as providing a discussion of the methodology used in corpus analysis The book uses a situational framework for conversation and argues that conversation is adapted to constraints set by the situation and to speaker needs arising from these constraints Such a contextual view reveals a greater complexity to conversation construction than could have been anticipated without the use of corpus based methods This book will be of interest to academics researching corpus linguistics discourse analysis and sociolinguistics

Linguistic Data Science and the English Passive Axel Bohmann, Julia Müller, Mirka Honkanen, Miriam Neuhausen, 2025-11-13 The choice between BE and GET as auxiliary verbs as in She was promoted vs She got promoted is a central grammatical feature yet the many proposed nuances conditioning this phenomenon have escaped large scale empirical validation to date This book fills this gap using multivariate statistical analyses of several large corpora to explore different factors determining the choice of English passive auxiliary Addressing both diachronic developments using the Corpus of Historical American English and synchronic regional variation using the Corpus of Global Web based English the book employs methods that combine traditional corpus linguistics with newer machine learning tools in an innovative and intricate manner To circumscribe the variable context the authors train a statistical model to distinguish central from peripheral passives The study tests the influence of various predictors derived from the previous literature on the passive with the use of automated sentiment analysis and subject detection manual animacy coding distributional semantics and a mixed effects regression model Putting forward an automatic way of distinguishing more stative from more dynamic passives the book demonstrates how to examine the passive construction in a
