ABSTRACT

The study in is a comprehensive investigation to identify the important writing tasks, major areas of difficulty in academic writing, the factors causing these difficulties and the corrective measures in the Saudi EFL academic context. It attempted to identify gender-based differences for the above-mentioned factors and the results of independent-samples t-test did not show major differences in the perceptions of both the groups partially accepting the null hypotheses. Several research studies were reviewed and a 40-item Likert-scale agree-disagree questionnaire was developed by the researcher. It was translated into Arabic and piloted before it was administered to 204 Saudi EFL learners (108 male & 96 female) studying at Taif University. Descriptive analyses and independent-samples t-test were run using SPSS version 17. The findings reported that these particular Saudi EFL learners have serious problems in their academic writing due to their weaknesses in using appropriate lexical items, organization of ideas and grammar. The other weaker areas include wrong use of prepositions, spellings, irregular verbs, articles, punctuation, suffixes and prefixes. It is recommended to implement a stricter admission policy, increase language courses, develop tailor-made activities, provide increased practice in academic writing, explicit modern teaching techniques and equip the classrooms with modern teaching aids to improve Saudi EFL learners' academic writing.

Field of Research: Academic Writing, Perception, Synoptic Error, Gender

1. Introduction

Because of the English language being a storehouse of world knowledge, it has been chosen as the medium of instruction for higher studies in general in many regions of the world including the gulf countries and, of course, the English language teaching in particular (Crystal, 2005).

When it comes to the teaching and learning of language skills, writing comes at the end according to the natural order hypothesis of language learning, but this does not make writing skill insignificant. Rather, its significance increases manifold in the academic contexts in which students are required to apply this skill as a main tool to show what they have learnt. A growing mass of research has offered valuable insights into the significance of this skill for academic success. Bark and Hansen (1997, p. 8) argue that

We highlight the importance of writing in all university curricula not only because of its immediate practical application, i.e. as an isolated skill or ability, but because we believe that, seen from a broader perspective,

Proceedings of the 2nd International Conference on Emerging Technologies and Intelligent Systems Mohammed A. Al-Sharafi, Mostafa Al-Emran, Mohammed Naji Al-Kabi, Khaled Shaalan, 2022-12-12 This book sheds light on the recent research directions in intelligent systems and their applications. It involves four main themes: artificial intelligence and data science, recent trends in software engineering, emerging technologies in education, and intelligent health informatics. The discussion of the most recent designs, advancements, and modifications of intelligent systems, as well as their applications, is a key component of the chapters contributed to the aforementioned subjects.

Arab Students' Writing in English at the College Level Ruwaida Abu Rass, 2024-12-02 This book contains detailed theoretical information as well as practical strategies, techniques, and pedagogical tips. It also includes analysis of the problems and challenges that face ESL/EFL students in general and Arab learners in specific. The book could be of interest not only to EFL researchers in academic writing, writing instructors, EFL educators at the college level, policymakers, and undergraduate and graduate students, but also for any second or foreign language teachers.

English for Academic Purposes in the EMI Context in Asia Bin Zou, Trevor Mahy, 2024-09-11 This edited book focuses on English for Academic Purposes (EAP) within the English as a Medium of Instruction (EMI) context in Asia, with a specific emphasis on the impact of EAP at Xi'an Jiaotong Liverpool University (XJTLU) in China. Celebrating over 15 years of EAP provision at the university, the authors showcase research and best practices in EAP across various academic disciplines and address the growing need for tailored EAP teaching resources in the EMI environment. The volume presents evidence of XJTLU's dedication to pedagogical innovations and to the professional development of its teaching staff and includes studies of EAP pedagogies at undergraduate, taught Master's, and doctoral levels, with diverse instructional and innovative foci. This book will be of interest to teachers, researchers, postgraduate students, and university policy makers, as well as anyone with a background in English for Academic Purposes (EAP) or English as a foreign language (EFL) teaching.

Critical Issues in Teaching English and Language Education Salah Troudi, 2020-11-05 This edited book brings together a collection of research-based chapters that address a variety of topics related to the teaching of English in different contexts around the world. The chapters are informed by a critical approach to research, employing a variety of research methods to question and problematize taken-for-granted definitions and practices in areas such as classroom pedagogy, testing, curriculum, language policy, the position of English as a medium of instruction, educational management, teacher education, materials, and evaluation. This book addresses a major gap in theoretical and research literature in the area of teaching English and it will be of interest to trainee and practising teachers, research students, and scholars of EFL and TESOL, and researchers in applied linguistics.
