

Handwriting Analysis

Handwriting analysis, or graphology, is the study of the way in which a person writes.

Handwriting is unique to each individual. Although some people's handwriting may have similar styles and characteristics to others, no two people's handwriting is exactly the same. By comparing letters and words, that tend to look the same in different people's handwriting, we can learn about their personality and their emotional state.

Generally, one cannot determine the age or sex of a person or whether they are left-handed or right-handed from a small writing sample. Compare types of formation and characteristics in writing style and detailed assessment of an individual's handwriting can give hints at some of these characteristics.

In handwriting analysis, one should look for variations in the shape, style, alignment, and spacing of letters.
