Non-fluent Aphasia in a Multilingual World, 1995-01-01 Non fluent Aphasia in a Multilingual World is an up to date introduction to the language of patients with non fluent aphasia Recent research in languages other than English has challenged our old descriptions of aphasia syndromes while their patterns can be recognized across languages the structure of each language has a profound effect on the symptoms of aphasic speech However the basic linguistic concepts needed to understand these effects in languages other than English have rarely been part of the training of the clinician Non fluent Aphasia in a Multilingual World introduces these concepts plainly and concretely in the context of dozens of examples from the narratives and conversations of patients speaking most of the major languages of Europe North America and Asia Linguistic and clinical terms are carefully defined and kept as theory neutral as possible Non Fluent Aphasia in a Multilingual World is especially useful for speech language pathologists whose patients are immigrants and guestworkers and for the clinician who must deal creatively with the challenges of providing aphasia diagnosis and therapy in a multicultural multidialectal setting Indian Linguistics, 1993 The Structure of the Noun Phrase in English and Hindi Manindra K. Verma, 1971-01-01 The development of the transformational approach to the theory of language structure in the past decade has stimulated new ways of looking at a number of linguistic questions One such important area may be considered the comparative study of the surface structure behaviour of substantive universals This book seeks to provide an account of the structure of the noun phrase in English and Hindi within such a framework ERIC Educational Documents Index, 1966-69: Major descriptors, 1970 Computerworld, 1995-08-28 For more than 40 years Computerworld has been the leading source of technology news and information for IT influencers worldwide Computerworld s award winning Web site Computerworld com twice monthly publication focused conference series and custom research form the hub of the world s largest global IT media network Virtual Sites as Learning Spaces Sangeeta Bagga-Gupta, Giulia Messina Dahlberg, Ylva Lindberg, 2019-11-25 This volume fills a gap in the literature between the domains of Communication Studies and Educational Sciences across physical virtual spaces as they intersect in the 21st century The chapters focus on languaging communicative practices in the making and its intersection with analogue and virtual learning spaces bringing together studies that highlight the constant movement between analogue virtual dimensions that continuously re shape participants identity positionings Languaging is understood as the deployment of one or more than one language variety modality embodiment etc in human meaning making across spaces Languaging activities are explored through a multitude of literary artefacts genres media and modes produced in and across sites The authors go beyond best practice approaches and instead present how to explore communicative practices for researchers learners and teachers This book will be of interest to readers situated in the areas of literacy literature bi multilingualism multimodality linguistic anthropology applied linguistics and related fields Chapters 2 5 8 and 12 are open access under a CC BY 4 0 license at link springer com ERIC
