black British literature is not only a commentator on and a reflector of this makeover but that it is simultaneously an agent that is integral to the processes of cultural and social change Conceptualizing the novel of transformation this comprehensive study of British black literature provides a compelling analytic framework for charting these processes The Promise of Happiness Sara Ahmed,2010-04-06 This provocative cultural critique of the imperative to be happy draws on the work of feminist black and queer critics showing how happiness is used to justify social oppression Identity Construction in Andrea Levy's "Fruit of the Lemon" Bettina Siebert,2019-03-01 Seminar paper from the year 2016 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1 7 University of Rostock Anglistik Amerikanistik language English abstract Andrea Levy s novel Fruit of the Lemon confronts issues of migration racism belonging and identification in Britain by following the coming of age of a young British woman with Afro Caribbean roots Issues concerning identity formation are at the centre of the term paper The backgrounds of individual and cultural identity formation are reviewed critically focusing on theories by Stuart Hall and others Identity is understood to be a construct that is changeable and situational thus becoming fluent in response to varying social situations Conflicts of identity arise within individual identity through the friction between self understanding and public representation The paper proposes that the main character and narrator of the story experiences processes of identity formation which enable her to find her place in British society and confront racism This identity formation is triggered by conflicts created by racist confrontations that lead to the destabilization of the character The protagonist s re discovery of her ancestral cultural heritage provide her with a base for forming a multi faceted identity which enhances her self understanding and self esteem The Earlier Works of Andrea Levy (ebook omnibus) Andrea Levy,2022-08-18 A collection that brings together Andrea Levy s three early novels EVERY LIGHT IN THE HOUSE BURNIN NEVER FAR FROM NOWHERE and FRUIT OF THE LEMON While Andrea Levy is best known for two of her later works SMALL ISLAND and THE LONG SONG these novels have a power all of their own Her emotional debut EVERY LIGHT IN THE HOUSE BURNIN was longlisted for the Orange Prize for Fiction and tells the story of Angela as she casts her mind back to a childhood spent on a council estate in Highbury as she helps her mother care for an ailing father NEVER FAR FROM NOWHERE is Andrea s passionate and perceptive sophomore novel full of the pain and humour of growing up It is the story of two sisters Olive and Vivien born in London to Jamaican parents and brought up on a council estate They go to the same grammar school but while Vivien s life becomes a chaotic mix of friendships youth clubs skinhead violence A levels discos and college Olive three years older and a skin shade darker has a very different tale to tell The collection finishes on FRUIT OF THE LEMON a masterful novel which centres on young ambitious Faith Jackson Furious and perplexed when her parents announce their intention to retire back home to Jamaica Faith makes her own journey there where she is immediately welcomed by her Aunt Coral keeper of a rich cargo of family history Through the weave of her aunt s storytelling a cast of characters unfolds in a novel that sweeps through continents Clever Girls and the Literature of

Women's Upward Mobility Mary Eagleton, 2018-02-15 This book follows the figure of the clever girl from the post war to the present and focuses on the fiction plays and memoirs of contemporary British women writers Spurred on by an ethic of meritocracy the clever girl is now facing austerity and declining social mobility Though suggesting optimism a public discourse of opportunity aspiration and choice is often experienced as an anxious and chancy process In a wide ranging study the book explores the struggle to move away from home and traditional notions of femininity the persistent problems associated with women s embodiment the pressures of class and racial divisions the new subjectivities of the neoliberal era and the generational conflict underpinning austerity The book ends with a consideration of feminism s place as a phantom presence in this history of clever girls This study will appeal to readers of contemporary women s writing and to those interested in what has been one of the dominant social narratives of the post war period from upward to declining mobility

Reading/Speaking/Writing the Mother Text; Essays on Caribbean Women's Writing Cristina Herrera, Paula Sanmartín, 2015-08-01 While scholarship on Caribbean women s literature has grown into an established discipline there are not many studies explicitly connected to the maternal subject matter and among them only a few book length texts have focalized motherhood and maternity in writings by Caribbean women Reading Speaking Writing the Mother Text Essays on Caribbean Women s Writing encourages a crucial dialogue surrounding the state of motherhood scholarship within the Caribbean literary landscape to call for attention on a theme that although highly visible remains understudied by academics While this collection presents a similar comparative and diasporic approach to other book length studies on Caribbean women s writing it deals with the complexity of including a wider geographical linguistic ethnic and generic diversity while exposing the myriad ways in which Caribbean women authors shape and construct their texts to theorize motherhood mothering maternity and mother daughter relationships

Oceans of Feeling Ryan Walmsley, 2025-11-13 A groundbreaking exploration of postwar Caribbean migration to Britain Oceans of Feeling offers the first historical analysis of this defining moment in modern British history using the tools methods and theories of the history of emotions Decoding the emotional experiences and expressions of Windrush era Caribbean migrants this book reconstructs the migrant experience by asking not just what happened but how it felt individually and collectively and how these feelings shaped and configured the course of historical events Taking cues from spatial studies the history of the senses and the history of the body Ryan Walmsley charts a rich and affectively meaningful course through the experiential content of the migrant condition in a specific historical moment From the emotional bonds of the Mother Country ideology to the unique affective sensory atmospheres of transatlantic liners bound for Britain Oceans of Feeling reveals exciting new dimensions to Windrush era migration which have been masked under the canopies of social and political approaches A reflection of the history of emotions power to revivify historical narratives this book interrogates the emotional causes and consequences of racist violence In doing so it reframes racism as a cluster of specific emotional concepts and expressions which provides fascinating insights into the lives of Caribbean migrants in this period This includes linking the disproportionate designation of Caribbean children as educationally subnormal in British schools to a constellation of emotional stereotypes and experiences It also explores private spaces such as dub and reggae house parties which migrants constructed as emotional refuge from the hostile atmosphere of public spaces and demonstrates how love and sex were politicised in the increasingly racialised atmosphere of postwar Britain

Eating Identities Wenying Xu, 2018-03-31 The French epicure and gastronome Brillat Savarin declared Tell me what you eat and I will tell you who you are Wenying Xu infuses this notion with cultural political energy by extending it to an ethnic group known for its cuisines Asian Americans She begins with the general argument that eating is a means of becoming not simply in the sense of nourishment but more importantly of what we choose to eat what we can afford to eat what we secretly crave but are ashamed to eat in front of others and how we eat Food as the most significant medium of traffic between the inside and outside of our bodies organizes signifies and legitimates our sense of self and distinguishes us from others who practice different foodways Narrowing her scope Xu reveals how cooking eating and food fashion Asian American identities in terms of race ethnicity gender class diaspora and sexuality She provides lucid and informed interpretations of seven Asian American writers John Okada Joy Kogawa Frank Chin Li Young Lee David Wong Louie Mei Ng and Monique Truong and places these identity issues in the fascinating spaces of food hunger consumption appetite desire and orality Asian American literature abounds in culinary metaphors and references but few scholars have made sense of them in a meaningful way Most literary critics perceive alimentary references as narrative strategies or part of the background Xu takes food as the central site of cultural and political struggles waged in the seemingly private domain of desire in the lives of Asian Americans Eating Identities is the first book to link food to a wide range of Asian American concerns such as race and sexuality Unlike most sociological studies which center on empirical analyses of the relationship between food and society it focuses on how food practices influence psychological and ontological formations and thus contributes significantly to the growing field of food studies For students of literature this tantalizing work offers an illuminating lesson on how to read the multivalent meanings of food and eating in literary texts Contemporary British Fiction Nick Bentley, 2017-11-15 This essential guide provides a comprehensive survey of the most important debates in the criticism and research of contemporary British fiction Nick Bentley analyses the criticism surrounding a range of British novelists including Monica Ali Martin Amis Pat Barker Alan Hollinghurst Kazuo Ishiguro Ian McEwan David Mitchell Ali Smith Zadie Smith Sarah Waters and Jeanette Winterson Exploring experiments with literary form this authoritative book considers cutting edge concerns relating to the neo historical novel the relationship between literature and science literary geographies and trauma narratives Engaging with key literary theories and identifying present trends and future directions in the literary criticism of contemporary British fiction this is an invaluable resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students of English literature teachers researchers and scholars Market Aesthetics Elena Machado Sáez, 2015-03-24 In

Market Aesthetics Elena Machado Sáez explores the popularity of Caribbean diasporic writing within an interdisciplinary comparative and pan ethnic framework She contests established readings of authors such as Junot Díaz Julia Alvarez Edwidge Danticat and Robert Antoni while showcasing the work of emerging writers such as David Chariandy Marlon James and Monique Roffey By reading these writers as part of a transnational literary trend rather than within isolated national ethnic traditions the author is able to show how this fiction adopts market aesthetics to engage the mixed blessings of multiculturalism and globalization via the themes of gender and sexuality New World Studies Modern Language Initiative

Matria Redux Tegan Zimmerman, 2023-06-23 In Matria Redux Caribbean Women Novelize the Past author Tegan Zimmerman contends that there is a need for reading Caribbean women's texts relationally This comprehensive study argues that the writer's turn to maternal histories constitutes the definitive feature of this transcultural and transnational genre Through an array of Caribbean women's historical novels published roughly between 1980 and 2010 this book formulates the theory of matria an imagined maternal space and time as a postcolonial psychoanalytic feminist framework for reading fictions of maternal history written by and about Caribbean women Tracing the development of the historical novel in four periods of the Caribbean past slavery colonialism revolution and decolonization this study argues that a pan Caribbean generation of women writers of varying discursive racialized realities has depicted similar matria constructs and maternal motifs A politicized concept matria functions in the historical novel as a counternarrative to traditional historical and literary discourses Through close readings of the mother daughter plots in contemporary Caribbean women's historical fiction such as Andrea Levy's The Long Song Edwidge Danticat's The Farming of Bones Paule Marshall's Praisesong for the Widow and Marie Elena John's Unburnable Matria Redux considers the concept of matria an important vehicle for postcolonial psychoanalytic feminist literary resistance and political intervention Matria as a psychoanalytic postcolonial strategy

therefore envisions by returning to history alternative feminist fictions futures and Caribbeans

Politics and Poetics of Belonging Mounir Guirat, 2018-04-18 The contributions gathered in this volume bear witness to the fact that belonging is a multi faceted concept that necessitates different and shifting idioms of expression It continually requires reconsideration and redefinition of our affiliations in response to the rapid social cultural and political changes of our world The literary paradigms linguistic practices and cultural formations of belonging testify to the impossibility of confining it to conventional and established structures of knowledge The different reflections on belonging introduced in this book are instrumental in reassessing and remodelling the general assumptions that have informed its definition and representation The current global reality and the self other encounter make inevitable the continuous search for new forms of belonging that are in tune with one s evolving and changing sense of self Theoretically informed by and substantially grounded in lively and heated debates on cultural identity and belonging this book proposes new critical directions in understanding national and transnational belonging

Under Postcolonial Eyes Efraim Sicher, Linda Weinhouse, 2013-01-01 In the Western literary tradition the Jew has long been a figure of ethnic exclusion and social isolation the wanderer the scapegoat the alien But it is no longer clear where a perennial outsider belongs This provocative study of contemporary British writing points to the figure of the Jew as the litmus test of multicultural society Efraim Sicher and Linda Weinhouse examine the Jew as a cultural construction distinct from the Jewishness of literary characters in novels by among others Salman Rushdie Anita Desai Doris Lessing Monica Ali Caryl Philips and Zadie Smith as well as contemporary art and film Here the image of the Jew emerges in all its ambivalence from postcolonial migrant and modern everyman to more traditional representations of the conspirator and malefactor The multicultural discourses of ethnic and racial hybridity reflect dissolution of national and personal identities yet the search for transnational cultural forms conceals both the acceptance of marginal South Asian Caribbean and Jewish voices as well as the danger of resurgent antisemitic tropes Innovative in its contextualization of the Jew in the multiculturalism debate in contemporary Britain Under Postcolonial Eyes Figuring the Jew in Contemporary British Writing analyzes the narrative of identities in a globalized culture and offers new interpretations of postmodern classics

Literature and Ethnicity in the Cultural Borderlands, 2016-08-29 This volume stems from the idea that the notion of borders and borderlines as clear cut frontiers separating not only political and geographical areas but also cultural linguistic and semiotic spaces does not fully address the complexity of contemporary cultural encounters Centering on a whole range of literary works from the United States and the Caribbean the contributors suggest and discuss different theoretical and methodological grounds to address the literary production taking place across the lines in North American and Caribbean culture The volume represents a pioneering attempt at proposing the concept of the border as a useful paradigm not only for the study of Chicano literature but also for the other American literatures The works presented in the volume illustrate various aspects and manifestations of the textual border lands and explore the double voiced discourse of border texts by writers like Harriet E Wilson Rudolfo Anaya Toni Morrison Cormac McCarthy Louise Erdrich Helena Viramontes Paule Marshall and Monica Sone among others This book is of interest for scholars and researchers in the field of comparative American studies and ethnic studies

New Women's Writing Subashish Bhattacharjee, Girindra Narayan Ray, 2018-12-14 The uptake of women's writing as a distinct genre in literature since the 1960s has been rapid and multifarious This development has fuelled a generation of literary and cultural studies and can be seen in the growing influence of women's and gender studies even in literary studies programs The study of women's writing has alerted literature to crucial social political and cultural problems with which the discipline must continue to grapple New Women's Writing addresses this legacy and reflects upon the following questions What is a critical history of women's writing How has women's writing challenged literature's rigid disciplinary construction How can we derive a distinct philosophy of women's writing and literary studies How does an engagement with women's writing contribute to a literary understanding of the complex politics of literature This book is designed to interest both the seasoned scholar of women's writing as well as fledgling scholars who wish to grapple with the broad concept of women's writing and its manifestations in the twentieth century and thereafter
