Gender, Violence and Politics in the Democratic Republic of Congo Jane Freedman, 2016-03-09 The Democratic Republic of Congo DRC has been called the worst place in the world for women with reports of widespread and horrific incidents of rape and sexual violence and almost complete impunity for the perpetrators of such violence However despite the high profile media reporting on sexual violence in the DRC and the widely publicized responses of the international community there is still very little real analysis of the real situation of women in the country This book provides such detailed analysis of gender relations in the DRC and goes beyond the usual explanations of sexual violence as a product of conflict to examine the complex and socially constructed gender norms and roles which underlie incidences of violence The book benefits from a comprehensive account of men's and women's roles in conflict violence peace building and reconstruction and evaluates the impacts of national and international political responses In doing so this book provides valuable new evidence and analysis of the complex and multilayered conflicts in the DRC

Tamaryn Crankshaw, Jane Freedman, Carolien Aantjes, Nana K. Poku, 2024-10-29 This important book provides a critical examination of the sexual and reproductive health and rights SRHR of young women and girls in Southern Africa examining the ways in which current policies and programmes aimed at improving SRHR often fail to reach the most marginalised populations Addressing key regional challenges such as high rates of HIV unintended pregnancies unsafe abortions and sexual and gender based violence the book highlights how health inequalities in the region are in fact increasing despite the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development of leaving no one behind The book draws on theoretical analysis and empirical data gathered from studies carried out in five Southern African countries Madagascar Mozambique South Africa Zambia and Zimbabwe arguing that a continued focus on HIV and interventions that target health in a narrow sense often fail to understand the wider socio economic determinants of poor sexual and reproductive health and the ways in which girls and young women are made vulnerable Written by leading scholars in the field this will be essential reading for students and researchers in Global Health International Development Women s Studies and all related fields Tales from the

Frulli, 2023-12-11 This Commentary provides the first comprehensive analysis of the Council of Europe CoE Convention on preventing and combating violence against women and domestic violence the Istanbul Convention It offers a complete article by article guide to the Convention with reference to the explanatory report the findings of the monitoring body GREVIO and relevant State practice Understanding Domestic Violence as a Gender-based Human Rights Violation Jurgita

Bukauskaitė, 2023-04-14 Examining the prevalent issue of domestic violence this book breaks down the reasons behind the ineffectiveness of existing human rights instruments and the gaps in current legal systems failing those in need Through a variety of key case studies it reveals significant gaps in the legal conceptualisation of domestic violence between human rights standards on the one hand and the national legal systems examined those of Ireland and Lithuania on the other. The book reveals that contrary to gender based universal human rights approaches and despite recent legislative reforms the legal concept of domestic violence is gender blind. It fails to capture gender based empirical realities on the ground rendering national legal systems devoid of an empirically informed theoretical basis for addressing the problem. Despite the differences in the contextual backgrounds of the two case study countries the legislation on domestic violence is underpinned by patriarchal beliefs in both. This book employs a gender based examination of the issue that will be of key interest to scholars, legal practitioners, civil society actors and students of feminist legal theory, gender equality, gender in international law, gender and human rights and conceptual democracy.

Frontiers of Gender Equality Rebecca J. Cook, 2023-05-30. In Frontiers of Gender Equality editor Rebecca Cook enlarges the chorus of voices to introduce new and different discourses about the wrongs of gender discrimination and to explain the multiple dimensions of gender equality. This volume demonstrates that the wrongs of discrimination can best be understood from the perspective of the discriminated and that gender discrimination persists and grows in new and different contexts widening the gap between the principle of gender equality and its realization particularly for subgroups of women and LGBTQ peoples. Frontiers of Gender Equality provides retrospective views of the struggles to eliminate gender discrimination in national courts and international human rights treaties. Focusing on gender equality enables comparisons and contrasts among these regimes to better understand how they reinforce gender equality norms. Different regional and international treaties are examined: those in the forefront of advancing gender equality; those that are promising but little known; and those whose focus includes economic, social and cultural rights to explore why some struggles were successful and others less so. The book illustrates how gender discrimination continues to be normalized and camouflaged and how it intersects with other axes of subordination such as indigeneity, religion and poverty to create new forms of intersectional discrimination. With the benefit of hindsight the book's contributors reconstruct gender equalities in concrete situations. Given the increasingly porous exchanges between domestic and international law, various national, regional and international decisions and texts are examined to determine how better to breathe life into equality from the perspectives for instance of Indigenous and Muslim women, those who were violated sexually and physically and those needing access to necessary health care including abortion. The conclusion suggests areas of future research including how to translate the concept of intersectionality into normative and institutional settings which will assist in promoting the goals of gender equality.
