Gendered Peace Womens Struggles For Post War Justice And Reconciliation Routledgeunrisd Research In Gender And Development:

Gendered Peace Donna Pankhurst, 2008 This volume contributes to the growing literature on women conflict and peacebuilding by focusing on the moments after a peace accord or some other official ending of a conflict often denoted as a post conflict e tm or e post war e tm Such moments often herald great hope for holding to account those who committed grave wrongs during the conflict and for a better life in the future For many women both of these hopes are often very quickly shattered in starkly different ways to the hopes of men Such periods are often characterized by violence and insecurities and the official ending of a war often fails to bring freedom from sexual violence for many women Within such a context efforts on the part of women and those made on their behalf to hold to account those who commit crimes against them and to access their rights are difficult to make are often dangerous and are also often deployed with little effect Gendered Peace explores international contexts and a variety of local ones in which such struggles take place and evaluates their progress The volume highlights the surprising success in the development of international legal advances for women but contrasts this with the actual experience of women in cases from Sierra Leone Rwanda South Africa Afghanistan Bangladesh East Timor Peru Central America and the Balkans The Gendered Impacts of Liberalization Shahra Razavi, 2009-01-13 This volume addresses key issues and questions surrounding the debates about globalization and liberalization policies including whether states have the capacity to remedy the social distress unleashed by liberalization and whether the proposed social policy reforms can redress gender based inequalities in access to resources and power Social Justice and Gender Equality Günseli Berik, Yana van der Meulen Rodgers, Ann Zammit, 2012-10-12 The contributors to this edited volume explore the effects of various development strategies and associated macroeconomic policies on women s well being and progress towards gender equality Detailed analyses of major UN reports on gender reveal the different approaches to assessing absolute and relative progress for women and the need to take into account the specifics of policy regimes when making such assessments The book argues that neoliberal policies especially the liberalization of trade and investment make it difficult to close gender wage and earnings gaps and new gender sensitive policies need to be devised These and other issues are all examined in more detail in several gendered development histories of countries from Latin America and Asia Governing Women Anne Marie Goetz, 2009-01-13 Using case studies from around the world this volume argues that good governance from a gender perspective requires more than just additional women in politics it requires fundamental incentive changes to orient public action and policy to support gender equality Time Use Studies and Unpaid Care Work Debbie Budlender, 2010-09-13 Across the world unpaid care work unpaid housework care of persons and volunteer work is done predominantly by women This book presents and compares unpaid care work patterns in seven different countries It analyzes data drawn from large scale time use surveys carried out under the auspices of the United Nations Research Institute for Social Development UNRISD With its in depth concentration on time use patterns in developing nations this book will offer many new insights for scholars of gender and care Global Perspectives on Gender Equality Naila Kabeer, Agneta Stark, Edda Magnus, 2008-01-07 The Nordic countries have long been seen as pioneers in promoting gender equality The book brings together scholars from the global South and post socialist economies to reflect on Nordic approaches to gender equality The contributors to the book seek to explore from a comparative perspective the vision values policies mechanisms coalitions of interests and political processes that help to explain Nordic achievements on gender equality While some contributors explore the Nordic experience through the prism of their own realities others explore their own realities through the Nordic prism By cutting across normal geographical boundaries disciplinary boundaries and the boundaries between theory and policy this book will be of interest to all readers with an interest in furthering gender equality UNRISD News ,2008 Global Variations in the Political and Social Economy of Care Shahra Razavi, Silke Staab, 2012 1 Introduction global variations in the political and social economy of care worlds apart Shahra Razavi and Silke Staab 2 Democratic care politics in an age of limits Joan Tronto 3 Advanced economy modern welfare state and traditional care regimes the case of Switzerland Mascha Mad rin Brigitte Schnegg and Nadia Baghdadi 4 The struggle against familism reconfiguring the care diamond in Japan Emiko Ochiai et al 5 The boss the worker his wife and no babies South Korean political and social economy of care in a context of institutional rigidities Ito Peng 6 Beyond maternalism the political and social organization of childcare in Argentina Valeria Esquivel and Eleonor Faur 7 The limits of family and community care challenges for public policy in Nicaragua Juliana Martinez Franzoni and Koen Voorend 8 Care in South Africa a legacy of family disruption Debbie Budlender and Francie Lund 9 Unpaid and overstretched coping with HIV et AIDs in Tanzania Debbie Budlender and Ruth Meena 10 Between the state market and family structures policies and practices of care in India Rajni Palriwala and Neetha N 11 Claims and frames in the making of care policies Fiona Williams 12 Harmonizing global care policy care and the commission on the status of women Kate Bedford 13 The globalisation of paid care labour migration dynamics impacts and policy Nicola Yeates The Peacebuilding Process in Postwar Liberia Alžběta Šváblová, 2021 Who are the most important actors in the peacebuilding process in post war Liberia How do they interact in specific institutions on the ground and what are the factors behind the slow pace of the post war reform process This book designed as a qualitative case study with a strong descriptive component provides answers to these questions It highlights the importance of the domestic political landscape for the ultimate fate of the reforms and the role of influential individuals in the process Its findings indicate that despite a rich critical academic debate the current practice of peacebuilding remains shaped by the neo liberal paradigm and remains rather disconnected from the post conflict realities and individuals on the ground Gender Matters in Global Politics Laura J. Neue Bücher und Aufsätze in der Bibliothek Germany. Bundestag. Bibliothek,2008 Women, Gender Equality, and Post-Conflict Transformation Joyce P. Kaufman,Kristen P. Williams,2016-10-04 The end of formal hostilities in any given conflict provides an opportunity to transform society in order to secure a stable peace This book builds on the existing feminist international relations literature as well as lessons of past cases that reinforce the importance of including women in the post conflict transition process and are important to our general understanding of gender relations in the conflict and post conflict periods Post conflict transformation processes including disarmament demobilization and reintegration DDR programs transitional justice mechanisms reconciliation measures and legal and political reforms which emerge after the formal hostilities end demonstrate that war and peace impact and are impacted by women and men differently By drawing on a strong theoretical framework and a number of cases this volume provides important insight into questions pertaining to the end of conflict and the challenges inherent in the post conflict transition period that are relevant to students and practitioners alike

Gendered Agency in War and Peace Maria O'Reilly,2017-11-03 This book examines how gendered agency emerges in peacebuilding contexts It develops a feminist critique of the international peacebuilding interventions through a study of transitional justice policies and practices implemented in Bosnia Herzegovina and local activists responses to official discourses surrounding them Extending Nancy Fraser's tripartite model of justice to peacebuilding contexts the book also advances notions of recognition redistribution and representation as crucial components of gender just peace It argues that recognising women as victims and survivors of conflict achieving a gender equitable distribution of material and symbolic resources and enabling women to participate as agents of transitional justice processes are all essential for transforming the structural inequalities that enable gender violence and discrimination to materialise before during and after conflict This study establishes a new avenue of analysis for understanding responses and resistances to international peacebuilding by offering a sustained engagement with feminist social and political theory Gender and Peacebuilding

Maureen P. Flaherty,Thomas G. Matyók,Sean Byrne,Hamdesa Tusó,2015-10-16 The twenty first century has brought with it a shift from the notion of human security being located in secure national borders to the need to secure the safety freedom and dignity of all. Despite efforts to equalize women's status in the world evidenced by changes in many international projects requiring a gender focus, women and men experience most of the world in very different ways according to gender. Further, the reality is that humans who do not all fall neatly into one of these categories, male or female, often find their lives further challenged. In the 1980s, Peace and Conflict Studies first began to acknowledge and study the different experiences males and females have during war and peace. Since then, there have been books about women and war, women working at grassroots levels to build peace, women and transitional justice, women and peace education, and women's views of human security. All of these works have contributed to the discourse of our changing world. This book brings together some of those themes and voices and adds more, with the final product being more than the sum of its parts. We add to the conversation a book that considers foundational fundamental issues that span from the interpersonal to the global. Many of the chapters describe empirical research completed with author and community shared here for the first time. Part One is a collection of case studies documenting challenges and responses to peacebuilding by women from various parts of the world. Part Two focuses on Peace and Conflict Studies (PACS) as a discipline examining not only what is but also what should be taught. This section critiques today's efforts at teaching Peace and Conflict Studies and provides suggestions of how this important work might be shared in more open and equitable ways. Part Three enters territory found even less in the PACS literature. In this section, our authors confront patriarchy, engage in a discussion about the contribution queer theory makes to PACS, and tussle with the notion of inclusivity with considerations of both gender and disability. It then ends with a discussion about the contribution feminist methodologies make to PACS.

Routledge Handbook of Feminist Peace Research Tarja

Väyrynen, Swati Parashar, Élise Féron, Catia Cecilia Confortini, 2021-03-11. This handbook provides a comprehensive overview of feminist approaches to questions of violence, justice, and peace. The volume argues that critical feminist thinking is necessary to analyse core peace and conflict issues and is fundamental to thinking about solutions to global problems and promoting peaceful conflict transformation. Contributions to the volume consider questions at the intersection of feminism, gender, peace, justice, and violence through interdisciplinary perspectives. The handbook engages with multiple feminisms, diverse policy concerns, and works with diverse theoretical and methodological contributions. The volume covers the gendered nature of five major themes: Methodologies and genealogies including theories, concepts, histories, methodologies; Politics, power, and violence including the ways in which violence is created, maintained, and reproduced; and the gendered dynamics of its instantiations; Institutional and societal interventions to promote peace including those by national, regional, and international organisations and civil society or informal groups, bodies, sexualities, and health including sexual health, biopolitics, sexual orientation; Global inequalities including climate change, aid, global political economy. The Production of Gendered Knowledge of War Annika Björkdahl, Johanna Mannergren, 2025-04-02 This edited volume critically investigates women's knowledge about war and explores the epistemic agency of women in a range of contemporary settings across the globe. Women are deeply affected by war, participate in war and resist war. At the same time, knowledge production often ignores and marginalizes women's experiences and gendered ways of knowing war. From Colombia to Israel and Palestine, Liberia, Mali, Myanmar, Nepal, North America, Northern Iraq and Ukraine, the chapters in this book illuminate gendered knowledge production in and about different conflict-affected sites. By taking the embodied and narrative epistemic agency of local knowers seriously, new insights are thereby presented about the role women play in producing knowledge about war. This book proposes new theoretical vantage points in order to understand how epistemic power and epistemic violence are closely related. Bringing the topic of knowledge production into the so-called Women, Peace and Security (WPS) agenda, it analyses how knowledge of the gendered nature of war and security is produced and circulated and argues that the WPS agenda is a system of knowledge with its own omissions and silences. By theorizing gendered knowledge production and amplifying the voices of women as epistemic agents, this book advances scholarship on gender and war. This book will be of much interest to students of feminist studies, peace studies, war and conflict studies and International Relations.

Female Combatants after Armed Struggle Niall Gil Martin, 2018-12-07 This book stems from a simple feminist curiosity that can be succinctly summed up into a single question: what happens to combatant women after the war? Based on in-depth interviews with 40 research participants, mostly former combatants within the Irish Republican Army (IRA), this book offers a critical exploration of republican women and conflict transition in the North of Ireland. Drawing on the feminist theory of a continuum of violence, this book finds that the dichotomous separation of war and peace within conventional approaches represents a gendered fiction. Despite undertaking wartime roles that were empowering, agentic and subversive, this book finds that the post-conflict moment as experienced by female combatants represents not peace and security but a continuity of gender discrimination, violence, injustice and insecurity. The experiences and perspectives contained in this book challenge the discursive deployment of terms such as post-conflict peace and security and moreover shed light on the many forms of post-war activism undertaken by combatant women in pursuit of peace, equality and security. The book represents an important intervention in the field of gender, political violence and peace and more specifically female combatants and conflict transition. It is analytically significant in its exploration of the ways in which gender operates within non state military movements emerging from conflict and will be of interest to students and scholars alike Gendering Peace Sarah Smith, 2018-09-26 In 1999 after 24 years of violent military occupation by Indonesian forces the small country of Timor Leste became host to one of the largest UN peace operations The operation rested on a liberal paradigm of statehood including nascent ideas on gender in peacebuilding processes This book provides a critical feminist examination of the form and function of a gendered peace in Timor Leste Drawing on policy documents and field research in Timor Leste with national organisations international agencies and UN staff the book examines gender policy with a feminist lens exploring and developing a more complex account of gender and women in peace operations It argues that gendered ideologies and power delimit the possibilities of building a gender just peace and contributes deep insight into how gendered logics inform peacebuilding processes and specifically how these play out through the implementation of policy that explicitly seeks to reorder gender relations at sites in which peace operations deploy By utilising a single case study the book provides space to examine both international and national discourses and contextualises its analysis of Women Peace and Security within local histories and contexts This book will be of interest to scholars and students of gender studies global governance International Relations and security studies Female

Ex-Combatants, Empowerment, and Reintegration Michanne Steenbergen, 2022-02-24 Female Ex Combatants Empowerment and Reintegration investigates the role of United Nations led Disarmament Demobilization and Reintegration DDR programs in undermining female ex combatants empowerment The participation of female combatants in conflict has increasingly been recognized in feminist literatures and in policies and programs concerned with reintegrating ex combatants and building peace This has illustrated that female ex combatants often experience empowerment through their role as combatant however this empowerment is often lost upon reintegration UN led DDR plays an important role in the broader peacebuilding process as it is one of the largest interventions and directly aims to reintegrate ex combatants into civilian life This book draws on extensive field research and interviews with female ex combatants and DDR officials in Liberia and Nepal to develop a nuanced and comprehensive picture of female ex combatants empowerment and how this is undermined by DDR Through reconceptualized frameworks of empowerment and an emancipatory peace the book explores the pivotal role that DDR programs play in undermining female ex combatants empowerment The author argues that this is detrimental to peacebuilding because DDR officials and documentation narrate female ex combatants in limited and gendered ways which reproduces gendered inequalities and define how female ex combatants should behave This book will be of great interest to scholars and practitioners working on gender conflict peace security and development
