Managing Employee Attitudes and Behaviors in the Tourism and Hospitality Industry Salih Kusluvan,2003 The tourism industry of which the hospitality industry is the core element is one of the largest and the fastest growing industries world wide According to World Tourism Organisation forecasts the industry will continue to grow and employ more people in the twenty first century In parallel with the growth of the tourism and hospitality industry world wide consumer expectations and demands for quality are rising while consumer tastes are varying on the one hand and competition among the firms both nationally and internationally is intensifying on the other In this business environment of heightened consumer expectations distinct market segments that demand unique products and services and stiff competition tourism and hospitality organisations are looking for ways to excel in service quality customer satisfaction competition and performance This book takes the view that employees are one of the most if not the most important resources or assets for tourism and hospitality organisations in their endeavour to provide excellent service meet and exceed consumer expectations achieve competitive advantage and exceptional organisational performance The purpose of this book is to emphasise the critical role of employees for tourism and hospitality organisations and to examine the ways and means of managing their attitudes and behaviours for the mutual benefit of both parties tourism and hospitality organisations and their employees

Human Resources and Tourism Darren Lee-Ross,Josephine Pryce,2010-05-07 The tourism industry provides employment for literally millions of individuals Despite global recessions terrorist attacks and other catastrophes this is likely to remain unchanged in the long term Resilience of this nature helps tourism remain a major global employer in both developed and emerging economies The important role played by tourism workers cannot be overstated some argue that they actually define the product on offer Accordingly mediocre or poor performance gives rise to an unremarkable service experience or one to which customers would not return willingly The inextricable link between the calibre and performance of staff and service delivery is a key issue for human resources management This challenge is further complicated by a number of structural characteristics including dominance of unaffiliated small to medium sized organizations high levels of labour turnover and a heterogeneous workforce with individuals having a wide variety of cultural differences and employment aspirations This book accounts for the above factors using an approach which is part prescriptive and part enquiry or research oriented In doing so espoused HRM convention may be understood against HRM in practice Additionally by using this method we hope to instil a sense of enquiry in the reader This is a necessary intellectual asset for the future and will also allow the individual to make a positive contribution in the workplace
