Hogerwaard, Calin Zamfirescu

Ib Geography Paper 2 November 2013:

The Shadow of Kenyan Democracy Dominic Burbidge, 2016-03-09 Why has democracy failed to reduce corruption in Kenya Framing the challenge in game theoretical terms Dominic Burbidge examines how mutual expectations between citizens dictate the success or failure of political reforms Since 1992 Kenya has conducted multiparty elections with the hope of promoting accountability and transparency in government This is being undermined by ongoing corruption and an increasingly centralised state response to terrorism Providing a nuanced assessment of democracy's difficult road in Kenya Burbidge discusses the independent role being played by widespread social expectations of corruption Through tracking average views of the average person it is possible to identify a threshold beyond which society suffers mutually reinforcing negative social expectations This trend is the shadow of Kenyan democracy and must be treated as a policy challenge on its own terms before institutional reforms will be successful

Survival
October-November 2020: Pandemics and politics The International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS), 2023-04-21 Survival the IISS's bimonthly journal challenges conventional wisdom and brings fresh often controversial perspectives on strategic issues of the moment In this issue Adam Roberts explores pandemics and politics through the ages arguing that trust in leadership is essential in the struggle against infectious diseases Rebecca Barber and Sarah Teitt contend that ASEAN should take a more activist approach to the Rohingya crisis to salvage its credibility Greg Austin assesses the strategic implications of China's weak cyber defences Ystein Tunsj casts doubt on the prospect of the Arctic becoming a theatre of great power conflict And eight more thought provoking pieces as well as our regular book reviews and Noteworthy column

Geopolitics and Development Marcus Power, 2019-01-25 Geopolitics and Development examines the historical emergence of development as a form of governmentality from the end of empire to the Cold War and the War on Terror It illustrates the various ways in which the meanings and relations of development as a discourse an apparatus and an aspiration have been geopolitically imagined and enframed The book traces some of the multiple historical associations between development and diplomacy and seeks to underline the centrality of questions of territory security statehood and sovereignty to the pursuit of development along with its enrolment in various bordering practices In making a case for greater attention to the evolving nexus between geopolitics and development and with particular reference to Africa the book explores the historical and contemporary geopolitics of foreign aid the interconnections between development and counterinsurgency the role of the state and social movements in re imagining development the rise of re emerging donors like China India and Brazil and the growing significance of South South flows of investment trade and development cooperation Drawing on post colonial and postdevelopment approaches and on some of the author's own original empirical research this is an essential critical and interdisciplinary analysis of the complex and dynamic political geographies of global development Primarily intended for scholars and post graduate students in development studies human geography African studies and international relations this book provides an engaging invaluable and up to date resource for making sense of the complex entanglement between geopolitics and development past and present

Geography in the 21st Century Jayson J. Funke, Waqar Ahmed, Ipsita Chatterjee, Stephen M. McCauley, 2025-03-06 Geography studies the relationship of humans and the natural environment and these 40 essays examine those geographical events that have most profoundly shaped global society in the opening decades of the 21st century Explore how these events have transformed how people interact with the environment from political and economic issues such as elections market practices and war to cultural and social issues such as racism and gender stereotyping at work Landscapes regions cities nature society development our entire existence is tied up with space and geography and thus geography is well placed to provide important insights and perspectives on the complex events and issues of our time Geography in the 21st Century studies the world's rapidly changing environments and its shifting economic political and cultural landscapes The entries address social political economic and environmental events from the Arab Spring Movements to the Mexico border crisis in the USA that are often complex transnational and interrelated Clear explanations help readers understand the historical and geographical continuity and confluence that underlie these defining moments All chapters follow the same structure to provide consistency throughout and allow students to compare multiple events Each begins with an overview of the event followed by a background section that describes the historical and geographic context within which the event occurred then a section on social political economic and environmental Impacts that describes the results of the event and a section that analyzes the event from a spatial or geographic perspective and explains why it is important Each chapter also includes a list of references and sources for further reading and a sidebar on a related topic

Fluid Modernity Gilberto Conde, 2022-10-31 Fluid Modernity offers an innovative encompassing historical grasp of the politics of water in the Middle East in the context of modern capitalism and world politics Drawing upon conceptions of power by Foucault and Agamben it examines how water through its modern capitalist production is transformed into a water apparatus that binds people to power In trans boundary watercourses states get involved in the formation of international governmentalities The book revisits the history of fluid modernity in the Middle East from late Ottoman times to the present It focuses on water conflict and cooperation between states Israel and Arab states and Turkey Syria and Iraq on state policies towards subaltern subjects Israel and Turkey in relation to Palestinians and Kurds respectively and on the water politics of rebellious movements After a conceptual chapter discussing fluid modernity the book traces water politics in the region in a diachronic perspective It explores how water diplomacy infrastructure loans reservoir construction discourses of sovereignty and conflict have weighed on the development of governance and governmentality in the region Fluid Modernity will be of great interest to postgraduates researchers academics and intellectuals interested in Middle East Studies Hydropolitics Water and Society Geopolitics Political Theory Resistance as well as to NGOs dealing with water

The Foreign Policy of Modern Turkey Ozgur Tufekci, 2017-01-30 In the last three decades Turkey has attempted to build close relationships with Russia Iran and the Turkic World As a result there has been ongoing debate about the extent to which Turkey's international relations axis is shifting eastwards Ozgur Tufekci argues that Eurasianist ideology has been fundamental to Turkish foreign policy and continues to have influence today The author first explores the historical roots of Eurasianism in the 19th century comparing this to Neo Eurasianism and Pan Slavism The Ozal era 1983 1993 the Cem era 1997 2002 and Davutoglu era since 2003 are then examined to reveal how foreign policy making has been informed by discourses of Eurasianism and how Eurasianist ideas were implemented through internal and external socio economic and political factors

Border Work Madeleine Reeves, 2014-04-15 Drawing on extensive and carefully designed ethnographic fieldwork in the Ferghana Valley region where the state borders of Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan and Uzbekistan intersect Madeleine Reeves develops new ways of conceiving the state as a complex of relationships and of state borders as socially constructed and in a constant state of flux She explores the processes and relationships through which state borders are made remade interpreted and contested by a range of actors including politicians state officials border guards farmers and people whose lives involve the crossing of the borders In territory where international borders are not always clearly demarcated or consistently enforced Reeves traces the ways in which states attempts to establish their rule create new sources of conflict or insecurity for people pursuing their livelihoods in the area on the basis of older and less formal understandings of norms of access As a result the book makes a major new and original contribution to scholarly work on Central Asia and more generally on the anthropology of border regions and the state as a social process Moreover the work as a whole is presented in a lively and accessible style The individual lives whose tribulations and small triumphs Reeves so vividly documents and the relationships she establishes with her subjects are as revealing as they are engaging Border Work is a well deserved winner of this year s Alexander Nove Prize Fragile World William T. Cavanaugh,2018-05-22 In Fragile World Ecology and the Church scholars and activists from Christian communities as far flung as Honduras the Philippines Colombia and Kenya present a global angle on the global ecological crisis in both its material and spiritual senses and offer Catholic resources for responding to it This volume explores the deep interconnections for better and for worse between the global North and the global South and analyzes the relationship among the physical environment human society culture theology and economics the integral ecology described by Pope Francis in Laudato Si Integral ecology demands that we think deeply about humans and the physical environment but also about the God who both created the world and sustains it in being At its root the ecological crisis is a theological crisis not only in the way that humans regard creation and their place in it but in the way that humans think about God For Pope Francis in Laudato Si the root of the crisis is that we humans have tried to put ourselves in God s place According to Pope Francis therefore A fragile world entrusted by God to human care challenges us to devise intelligent ways of directing developing and limiting our power Jane Austen Embroidery Jennie Batchelor,Alison Larkin,2020-05-21 Beautiful antique embroidery patterns re purposed into 15 modern sewing projects are complemented by lively historical features quotes from Jane Austen s letters and novels enchanting illustrations clear instructions and inspirational project photography
