Discourse, Identities and Roles in Specialized Communication Giuliana Garzone, James Archibald, 2010 The studies presented in this volume focus on two distinct but related areas of specialized communication professional and academic settings resting on an anti essentialist notion of identity as a phenomenon that emerges from the dialectic between individual and society The authors start from a detailed analysis of discourse practices as evidenced in texts their production and the professional performance patterns which underlie such practices and explore the way the actors roles and identities are constructed in language and discourse In particular by highlighting discursive attitudes and aptitudes they underscore the need to understand discourse in light of norms of professional responsibility showing that not only do professionals and academics use discourse to create self identity but they also use identity constructed through discourse to influence society

English for aviation Aline Pacheco, 2022-08-22 Communication in aviation is a challenge for pilots air traffic controllers aviation personnel and consequently for professionals who are in charge of teaching and assessing the language used in the aeronautical context The growing demand in the market along with constant commitment with safer skies have posed the need for more and more studies that try to contribute to this issue especially those which attempt to describe and explain the use of English in aviation The book brings introductory information about teaching Aviation English regarding general guidelines for teachers in addition to data from academic research conducted in the area Specific studies based on the analysis of aeronautical accidents and incidents interviews with pilots and ATCOs and corpus research show that the use of the English language in aviation should be further addressed Native English Speakers and Aviation Communication Dominique Estival, 2025-09-30 The increased globalisation of aviation requires a large number of aviation professionals pilots and air traffic controllers who must cooperate and communicate to ensure safety as well as efficiency Native English Speakers and Aviation Communication argues for the need to train and test native English speakers NES as well as non native English speakers NNES in aviation communication While Aviation English is the lingua franca of the skies it is not a variety of English it has no native speakers and NES must learn and practise it Based on the practical experience of the author as a flight instructor and an Aviation English assessor combined with academic research in language and communication this book provides strong arguments for the need to teach standard aviation communication to native English speakers It describes the challenges of aviation communication and the ongoing problems posed by the lack of relevant training or testing for NES reviews the current state of affairs regarding regulations across a range of countries and suggests training solutions to be integrated in the ground school curriculum and during flight training This book is an essential resource for researchers and advanced students working in English for Specific Purposes Aviation English and Aviation Communication as well as for professionals in aviation and aviation training The Social Construction of Knowledge in Mission-Critical Environments Theodoros Katerinakis, 2018-06-27 This volume analyzes real in flight communications to explain the dynamics of knowledge construction With the use of a grounded theory approach real life scenarios for in depth interviews with aviation informants were developed and analyzed using discourse analysis The study revealed aspects of tacit knowledge and expertise behavior that develop in mission critical environments Among the findings the author discovered Silence is an interactional element and a substantial contributing factor to both completed flights and aviation incidents accidents Hesitation is an early reaction when situational awareness is lacking The aviation sub cultures contain several distinct micro cultures which affect professional responsibility and decision making in micro environments Human errors should be acknowledged discussed and repaired by all actors of the flight model Non verbal communication in institutional settings and mediated environments is instrumental to safe and efficient operations The results suggest fruitful applications of theory to explore how knowledge is generated in highly structured high risk organizational environments such as hospitals nuclear plants battlefields and crisis and disaster locations Katerinakis explains the emergent knowledge elements in communication command with messages spoken heard understood applied from multiple stakeholders The interplay of theory and real flight examples with key interlocutors creates a valuable narrative both for the expert reader and the lay person interested in the insights of hospitals nuclear plants battlefields safety and rescue systems and crisis and disaster locations Ilias Panagopoulos PhD Command Fighter Pilot Col Ret Senior Trainer Joint Aviation Authorities JAA Training Organisation Safety Manager NATO Airlift Management Programme In this path breaking work Theodore Katerinakis brings the study of human communication to the airplane cockpit as a knowledge environment Toward that end drawing on his own experience with the Air Force and Aviation Authorities and interviews with flight controllers and scores of pilots Katerinakis both builds on moves beyond human factors research and ecological psychology It is a work of theoretical value across disciplines and organizational settings and of practical importance as well His lively narrative adds to translational research by translating knowledge or evidence into action in mission critical systems Douglas V Porpora PhD Professor of Sociology Director Communication Culture and Media Drexel University The AOPA Pilot ,1988 The Controller ,1977 Aeroplane and Commercial Aviation News ,1954-07 Air Pictorial ,1996 The Aeroplane ,1954
