Identity Jilted, Or, Re-imagining Identity? Alemseged Abbay,1998 In this bold study of modern ethno regional nationalism the author examines the divergent paths taken by the nationalist insurgencies in Tigray and Eritrea The author argues that Tigrayans south of the Mereb River and Kebessa highlands Eritreans north of the Mereb are ethnically one people tied by common history political economy myth language and religion Both fought against a common enemy an oppressive Amhara ethnic state for a period of seventeen and thirty years respectively In the process of the armed struggle however each evolved separate political identities and after jointly marching to military victory in 1991 they followed separate political paths Eritreans created the newest state in Africa and Tigrayans remained within the Ethiopian body politic

Unity in Diversity Christophe van der Beken,2012 This book argues that the development of federalism in Ethiopia fits in with a global trend towards increased attention to ethnic minority rights and to federalism as a mechanism for ethnic conflict prevention and management The Ethiopian federation is designed as a framework within which the Ethiopian ethnic groups can protect their rights and within which they are stimulated to develop a cooperative relationship To put it differently the constitutional objective of the federal structure is the creation of unity in diversity The book evaluates the capacity of Ethiopian federalism to achieve this objective by investigating the relevant historical political and legal aspects Series Recht und Politik in Afrika Law and Politics in Africa Vol 10

Paths toward the Nation Joseph L. Venosa,2014-05-15 In the early and mid 1940s during the period of British wartime occupation community and religious leaders in the former Italian colony of Eritrea engaged in a course of intellectual and political debate that marked the beginnings of a genuine national consciousness across the region During the late 1940s and 1950s the scope of these concerns slowly expanded as the nascent nationalist movement brought together Muslim activists with the increasingly disaffected community of Eritrean Christians The Eritrean

Muslim League emerged as the first genuine proindependence organization in the country to challenge both the Ethiopian government's calls for annexation and international plans to partition Eritrea between Sudan and Ethiopia. The league and its supporters also contributed to the expansion of Eritrea's civil society, formulating the first substantial arguments about what made Eritrea an inherently separate national entity. These concepts were essential to the later transition from peaceful political protest to armed rebellion against Ethiopian occupation. Paths toward the Nation is the first study to focus exclusively on Eritrea's nationalist movement before the start of the armed struggle in 1961.

Secessionism in African Politics Lotje de Vries, Pierre Englebert, Mareike Schomerus, 2018-08-20. Secessionism perseveres as a complex political phenomenon in Africa, yet often a more in-depth analysis is overshadowed by the aspirational simplicity of pursuing a new state. Using historical and contemporary approaches, this edited volume offers the most exhaustive collection of empirical studies of African secessionism to date. The respected expert contributors put salient and lesser-known cases into comparative perspective, covering Biafra, Katanga, Eritrea, and South Sudan, alongside Barotseland, Cabinda, and the Comoros, among others. Suggesting that African secessionism can be understood through the categories of aspiration, grievance, performance, and disenchantment, the book's analytical framework promises to be a building block for future studies of the topic.

The 1998-2000 Eritrea-Ethiopia War and Its Aftermath in International Legal Perspective Andrea de Guttery, Harry H. G. Post, Gabriella Venturini, 2021-04-01. This book centres on the war that raged between Eritrea and Ethiopia from 1998 to 2000, a war that caused great loss of life and tremendous devastation. It analyses the war in great detail from an international legal perspective: the nature and the state of the boundary conflict preceding the actual armed conflict; the military actions themselves; the role of the UN peacekeeping mission; the responsibility for the multitude of explosive remnants of the war left behind. Ample attention is paid to the decisions of the Eritrea-Ethiopia Claims Commission and the Eritrea-Ethiopia Boundary Commission. This study is not limited to the war and the period immediately following it; it also examines its more extended aftermath, prolonging the analysis as far as the more recent improvement in the relations between Eritrea and Ethiopia away from a situation of no war, no peace that prevailed after the armed conflict ended. The analysis of the war and its aftermath is not only in terms of international legal issues; it has been placed in a wider than strictly legal perspective. The book is a valuable work for academics and practitioners in international law, human rights, and humanitarian law, in particular for political scientists, diplomats, civil servants, historians, and all those others seriously interested in the Horn of Africa. Andrea de Guttery is Full Professor of Public International Law at the Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna in Pisa, Italy. Harry H. G. Post is Adjunct Professor in the Facult  Libre de Droit of the Universit  Catholique de Lille in Lille, France. Gabriella Venturini is Professor Emerita in the Dipartimento di Studi internazionali giuridici e storico-politici of the Universit  degli Studi di Milano in Milan, Italy.

Conflict Among Rebels Costantino Pischedda, 2020-11-24 Why do rebel groups frequently clash instead of cooperating against their shared enemy the state This pattern occurs in conflicts around the world yet it flies in the face of common notions of strategic logic Weaving together insights from international relations theory and the study of ethnic politics Costantino Pischedda presents an original theory to unravel the puzzle of inter rebel conflict Examining the dynamics of civil wars in Iraq Ethiopia Lebanon Sri Lanka and Syria Pischedda argues that infighting is a calculated response by rebel groups to perceived opportunities and vulnerabilities Conflicts break out between groups when one sees the potential to eliminate weaker rivals at a low cost or fears the deterioration of its power relative to a competitor and embarks on a desperate gamble Counterintuitively Pischedda finds that rebels sharing an ethnic identity are especially prone to violent conflict as they see each other as both potential existential threats and enticing opportunities for expansion Since coethnic rebels aspire to control the same community their antagonism is stark and immediate In addition insurgents expect to be able to draw on the resources of defeated rivals from the same ethnic group more easily than they could on those of outsiders Marshaling a range of data Pischedda's mixed methods study features original interviews conducted with former insurgent leaders The first book length examination of inter rebel fighting Conflict Among Rebels sheds new light on a key question of civil war dynamics why the enemy of my enemy is not always my friend

Borders & Borderlands as Resources in the Horn of Africa Dereje Feyissa, Markus Virgil Höhne, 2010 Borders offer opportunities as well as restrictions and in the Horn of Africa they are used as economic political identity and status resources by borderland peoples State borders are more than barriers They structure social economic and political spaces and as such provide opportunities as well as obstacles for the communities straddling both sides of the border This book deals with the conduits and opportunities of state borders in the Horn of Africa and investigates how the people living there exploit state borders through various strategies Using a micro level perspective the case studies which include the Horn and Eastern Africa particularly the borders of Djibouti Eritrea Ethiopia Sudan Somalia Kenya Uganda and Tanzania focus on opportunities highlight the agency of the borderlanders and acknowledge the permeability but consequentiality of the borders DEREJE FEYISSA Max Planck Institute of Social Anthropology Halle Germany MARKUS VIRGIL HOEHNE Max Planck Institute of Social Anthropology Halle Germany

National Identity and State Formation in Africa Manuel Castells, Bernard Lategan, 2021-03-17 This book examines how the interplay between globalization and the assertion of local identities is reshaping the political landscape of Africa While defending their values against external forces people simultaneously and paradoxically use the interconnectivity of global networks to maximize their particular interests Focusing on the relation between national identity and state formation the authors explore the far reaching consequences of these contradictory dynamics Although Africa shares many common trends with other parts of the world it also displays distinctive features A region characterized by the increased mobility of people goods and ideas challenges some conventional assumptions of statecraft and also highlights the advantages of federalism not merely as a constitutional option but as a pragmatic device for managing diversity and holding fragile states together The book further explores emerging types of state formation in the same political space as exemplified by the combination of elements of a kingdom an independent state and a national power base in the province of KwaZulu Natal and the careful crafting of an alternative state within a state by the Solidarity Movement in South Africa Informed by examples and case studies drawn from different parts of Africa this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Africa politics sociology media studies and the social sciences more generally

Seeking Salaam Sandra M. Chait, 2011-12-01 Prolonged violence in the Horn of Africa the northeastern corner of the continent has led growing numbers of Ethiopians Eritreans and Somalis to flee to the United States Despite the enmity created by centuries of conflict they often find themselves living as neighbors in their adopted cities with their children as class mates in school In many ways they are successfully navigating life in their new home however they continue to struggle to bridge old ethnic divisions and find salaam or peace with one another News from home fuels historical grievances and perpetuates tensions within their communities delaying acculturation undermining attempts at reconciliation and sabotaging the opportunity to reach the American Dream In conversations with forty East African immigrants living in Seattle Washington and Portland Oregon Sandra Chait captures the immigrants struggle for identity in the face of competing stories and documents how some individuals have been able to transcend the ghosts from the past and extend a tentative hand to their former enemies

Subnationalism in Africa Joshua Forrest, 2004 This examination of the politics of ethnicity and nation building in Africa stresses the trend towards subnationalist autonomy and away from a singular state centric system based on the Western model Forrest ranges across the continent to explore a variety of subnational movements

Dealing With Conflict in Africa J. Boulden, 2003-12-04 Dealing with Conflict in Africa analyzes the role of the various organizations involved in conflict resolution in Africa The bulk of the chapters examine case studies of the major conflicts in Africa such as the Congo War For each case study the author looks at what responsibilities and tasks were taken on by different organizations the relationship between the organizations and seeks to determine which kind of organization is the most effective in working towards successful conflict resolution The contributors also examine the effectiveness of coalitions of states or eminent leaders to that of UN cooperation with regional organizations and what directions this cooperation should take in the future The contributors are an international group of scholars and consultants all of whom are well positioned to analyze these issues Third World Colonialism and Strategies of Liberation Awet Tewelde Weldemichael,2013 This book shows how Eritrea and East Timor developed sophisticated strategies to liberate their countries from colonialism and emphasizes that these insurgencies avoided terrorism Africa since Independence Paul Nugent,2012-06-13 An indispensable introductory textbook that provides students with a genuinely comparative study of the different trajectories and experiences of independent African states Paul Nugent explores a range of key concerns including the impact of HIV and AIDS the contagion of warfare and efforts at achieving national reconciliation both in the past and today This is an ideal core text for modules on Modern African History African Politics or Africa since Independence or a supplementary text for broader modules on African History which may be offered at the upper levels of an undergraduate History Politics or African Studies degree In addition it is a crucial resource for students who may be studying modern African history for the first time as part of a taught postgraduate degree in African History African Politics or African Studies New to this Edition Revised and updated throughout in light of the latest research Reflects recent developments on issues such as AIDS urbanization the secession of South Sudan questions of citizenship and the importance of transnational spaces This second edition now features photographs Tigray: The Hysteresis of War ,2024-11-17 The Tigray War 2020 2022 may have claimed as many as 700 000 lives Fought between the national defence forces of Ethiopia and Eritrea and the Tigray Defence Forces the conflict unleashed horrific atrocities on civilians including widespread massacres The war was shrouded in secrecy due to a communications blackout and a siege on Tigray making it nearly impossible for people in the region to report on events and for the outside world to grasp the scale of the tragedy This book the first in a three part series uncovers Eritrea s concealed role in the war including its involvement in massacres and particularly cruel and inhumane sexual violence These acts were designed not only to terrorise but to break the spirit of the Tigrayan people with the aim of erasing Tigray as an ethnic and cultural group This book also explores how the war has fundamentally altered the Tigray region a transformation that may be difficult to reverse described through the lens of the concept of hysteresis Drawing on a collaborative investigation between universities inside and outside Ethiopia and primarily employing an ethnographic approach the study concludes that genocide may have occurred in Tigray The international community it argues has a duty to investigate these claims Frontiers of Violence in North-East Africa Richard J. Reid,2011-03-24 Relates violent conflict through the 19th and 20th centuries in the region of Ethiopia and Eritrea and the Sudanese and Somali frontiers to ethnic political and religious conflict and the violent state and empire building processes which have defined the region The Horn of Africa as Common Homeland Leenco Lata,2010-10-30 Contemporary states are generally presumed to be founded on the elements of nation people territory and sovereignty In the Horn of Africa

however the attempts to find a neat congruence among these elements created more problems than they solved Leenco Lata demonstrates that conflicts within and between states tend to connect seamlessly in the region When these conflicts are seen in the context of pressures on the state in an era of heightened globalization it becomes obvious that the Horn needs to adopt multidimensional self determination In Structuring the Horn of Africa as a Common Homeland Leenco Lata discusses the history of conflicts within and between Ethiopia Eritrea Somalia and the Sudan and investigates local and global contributory factors He assesses the effectiveness of the nation state model to forge a positive relationship between these governments and the people Part 1 summarizes the history of self determination and the state from the French Revolution to the post Cold War period Part 2 shows how the states of the Horn of Africa emerged in a highly interactive way and how these developments continue to reverberate throughout the region underscoring the necessity of simultaneous regional integration and the decentralization of power as an approach to conflict resolution Motivated by a search for practical answers rather than a strict adherence to any particular theory this significant work by a political activist provides a thorough analysis of the regions complicated and conflicting goals
