

Welcome to the IEC 60617 database

IEC 60617 contains graphical symbols for use in electrotechnical diagrams. All the parts (Part 1 or 3) of the previously published IEC 60617 have been incorporated into this database that currently includes some 1 750 symbols. This database is the official source of IEC 60617.

Subscriptions and On-line Restrictions

Access to the database is on a subscription basis. Subscriptions can be purchased through the IEC National Committees, National Commissions, approved Sales Offices, or directly from the IEC. More Online details search for IEC 60617. All subscriptions are subject to the conditions applying to the IEC Open Source Products License Agreement.

Scope

The following areas are covered in the database:

- Conductors and connecting devices
- Basic passive components
- Semiconductor and vacuum tubes
- Protection and conversion of electrical energy
- Switchgear, relays and protective devices
- Measuring instruments, lamps and signalling devices
- Telecommunications equipment, switching and peripheral equipment
- Architectural and topographical installation plans and diagrams
- Heavy light elements
- Analogous and hybrid elements

New features and search capability

The incorporation of the symbols into the database has been accompanied by the addition of a considerable amount of new material not present in the previous publications (symbol names, alternative names, remarks, notes etc.) and/or by related symbols and application notes. The database also provides important notes (by usage, function and applications) and a search facility. It is therefore a much richer and more user friendly tool for those concerned to understand and apply graphical symbols in electrotechnical diagrams.

Management

This database is maintained by a validation team appointed by the IEC National Committees. Requests for modifications and new symbols are processed via change requests addressed to the validation team by IEC National Committees and TCs.

National Committees

National Committees should send a list of staff members who can be contacted to update the database. The list should include the name and address for each person (preferably in that country where the relevant working documents on the IEC work area). The list should be sent by e-mail to:
