

I Acknowledge Mine

By Jane Goodall.

Jane developed a close bond with the chimpanzees and became, to this day, the only human ever accepted into chimpanzee society. She was the lowest ranking member of a troop for a period of 22 months.

The Real Chimpanzee Christophe Boesch, 2009-07-23 The Real Chimpanzee encapsulates the fascinating behaviour of wild chimpanzees and discusses the differences observed in different populations across the species and across the many levels of their social behaviour It explains why sex competition and predation pressures in a forest chimpanzee population made the females of the group highly social and gave the males a high level of within group solidarity making them very xenophobic towards outsiders Love is what makes war possible Christophe Boesch brings back to the table the debate over ecological pressures and social organization and the influence they have over issues such as the evolution of warfare co operation altruism and the position of females Written in an accessible style for a general audience as well as for undergraduate and graduate students he presents insightful views to give readers the background information to understand the struggle for survival of our closest living relative the chimpanzee and through this to find some keys to the ever so intriguing question of what makes us human Postcontinental Realism Ernesto Castro, 2022-10-17 Is philosophy still alive Are there any alternatives to univocal postmodernist thought Is there any point in asking age old questions about the existence of reality and the possibility of knowledge about being ontology and knowing epistemology In this book Ernesto Castro issues a resounding yes to these and many other questions plaguing philosophy today Postcontinental realism is the term coined by Castro to designate a group of realist thinkers who have overcome contemporary philosophy's time honored division between the analytic tradition concerned with epistemological and scientific questions and the continental tradition concerned with artistic and ontological questions Written in a perfectly plain style that is accessible to readers from all walks of life including those without a previous academic education the author introduces the readers to the works and ideas of important living philosophers such as Quentin Meillassoux Ray Brassier Graham Harman Iain Hamilton Grant Maurizio Ferraris or Markus Gabriel Published with the support of Fundacion Sicomoro The Illustrated London News ,1853
