Ian McEwan The Child In Time :

The Child in Time Ian McEwan, 1988 Stephen Lewis is shopping at the grocery store with his three year old daughter Kate. She disappears without a trace and time as Stephen knows it ceases. Uncertainty and grief overwhelm him and his wife as they drift apart until the passage of time both forgiving and punishing can bring them back to one another. The Child in Time Ian McEwan, 1998 A young couple have their child snatched from them and are subsequently driven apart by despair.

The Child in Time Ian McEwan, 1987-01-01 Stephen and Julie's lives are shattered when their daughter Kate vanishes during a shopping trip to the supermarket. They both set out to search for their lost child and in themselves each going their separate ways. Task Force on Justices of the Peace and Coroners, 1988 Task Force established to redress issues raised by the 1984 Ronald Walton Supreme Court appeal challenging the competence of the Territorial Justices of the Peace for their perceived lack of necessary independence and impartiality as required by the 1982 Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. Stresses judicial appointments to reflect the sharp linguistic and cultural differences of the region. His spiral of guilt and bereavement has effects on his marriage his psyche and time itself. The Cement Garden When their mother suddenly dies four siblings hide her body in the basement to prevent others from discovering her death and placing them in foster care. But their dark secret sets them on a path of isolation and boundary crossing intimacy. The Comfort of Strangers Colin and Mary are vacationing in Venice in hopes of reigniting their relationship. But after losing their way in the winding streets their acquaintance with another couple takes turns that are likewise erotic and violent in nature. The Cambridge Introduction to Modern British Fiction, 1950-2000 Dominic Head, 2002-03-07 In this introduction to post war fiction in Britain Dominic Head shows how the novel yields a special insight into the important areas of social and cultural history in the second half of the twentieth century. Head's study is the most exhaustive survey of post war British fiction available. It includes chapters on the state and the novel class and social change gender and sexual identity national identity and multiculturalism. Throughout Head places novels in their social and historical context. He highlights the emergence and prominence of particular genres and links these developments to the wider cultural context. He also provides provocative readings of important individual novelists particularly those who remain staple reference points in the study of the subject.
