Mason, 2001-08-13 This text tackles some of the issues facing practitioners and researchers in the field of management of technology. Special attention is given to the challenges facing nations and companies at the dawn of a new millennium where technology is expected to dominate every aspect of human endeavour. It presents thoughts in this field especially with respect to technological change, economic growth, globalization and sustainable development. This collection contains a number of papers contributed by authors from around the world. The papers were selected from those presented at the 9th International Conference on Management of Technology held in Miami, Florida, in February 2000. This is the official conference of the International Association for Management of Technology IAMOT, an international association concerned with the promotion of education, research and practice in this growing field.

International Journal of Technology Management, 1996 Global Technology Transfer John Chumack, 2002 Governments the world over fret continuously about the low level of transfer of technology, especially within their own countries. The general problem is military to industry, although the variations are numerous. Problems of presentation, offering and support complicate an already byzantine world. Yet somewhere within this dilemma lie the seeds of tomorrow's economic uptick. Besides the nontrivial problems involved here, the reluctance of the people having the technology to share it with someone who can profit from it stands out This book presents the issues and offers a comprehensive bibliography for easy access
