The Films of Arturo Ripstein Manuel Gutiérrez Silva, Luis Duno Gottberg, 2019-10-24 This book gathers eleven scholarly contributions dedicated to the work of Mexican director Arturo Ripstein. The collection, the first of its kind, constitutes a sustained critical engagement with the twenty-nine films made by this highly acclaimed yet under-studied filmmaker. The eleven essays included come from scholars whose work stands at the intersection of the fields of Latin American and Mexican Film Studies, Gender and Queer Studies, Cultural Studies, History, and Literary studies. Ripstein's films, often scripted by his long-time collaborator Paz Alicia Garciadiego, represent an unprecedented achievement in Mexican and Latin American film. Unlike many of his contemporaries, Ripstein has successfully maintained a prolific output unmatched by any director in the region. Though several book-length studies have been published in Spanish, French, German, and Greek to date, no analogue exists in English. This volume provides a much-needed contribution to the field.

Hollywood in the Holy Land Nickolas Haydock, E.L. Ridsden, 2014-01-10 This collection of essays analyzes film representations of the Crusades, other medieval East-West encounters, and the modern inheritance of encounters between orientalist fantasy and apocalyptic conspiracy. From studies of the filmic representations of popular figures such as El Cid, Roland, Richard I, and Saladin to examinations of such topics as Templar romance and the role of set design, location, and landscape, the essays make significant contributions to our understanding of orientalist medievalism in film. Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here.

The Tudors on Film and Television Sue Parrill, William B. Robison, 2013-02-06 With its mix of family drama, sex, and violence, Britain's Tudor dynasty (1485-1603) has long excited the interest of filmmakers and moviegoers. Since the birth of movie-making technology, the lives and times of kings Henry VII, Henry VIII, and Edward VI, and queens Mary I, Jane Grey, and Elizabeth I have remained popular cinematic themes. From 1895's The Execution of Mary Stuart to 2011's Anonymous, this comprehensive filmography chronicles every known movie about the Tudor era, including feature films, made-for-television films, mini-series, and series documentaries, animated films, and shorts. From royal biographies to period pieces to modern movies with flashbacks or time travel, this work reveals how these films both convey the attitudes of Tudor times and reflect the era in which they were made.

Echoes of the Holocaust Klas-Göran Karlsson, Ulf Zander, 2003-01-01 The result of a research project conducted by Swedish scholars, this text examines interpretations and representations of the Holocaust in European societies, primarily focusing on the most recent decades. Using specific case studies, the articles in this anthology study how, when, and why the collective memory of the Holocaust has been expressed and activated for cultural, economic, political, and social reasons.

Notes from the Dream House Philip French, 2018-10-25 Notes from the Dream House is a best-of selection of reviews by the celebrated Observer film critic Philip French. Spanning half the history of cinema, his reviews cover a great variety of films, from westerns and gangsters to art movies and musicals.

the hits and the misses the good the bad and the ugly French takes on films as disparate as The Gospel According to St Matthew and Ted The Remains of the Day and Caligula His reviews are personal witty and sharply perceptive Time and again he reveals not only an encyclopaedic knowledge of cinema but also an erudition an enthusiasm and a boundless curiosity Taken together they form an illuminating commentary on modern culture but above all they are a distillation of one man's lifelong love of cinema a worthy memorial to one of the most respected and beloved of modern critics Quantitative

Multidisciplinary Approaches in Human Capital and Asset Management Russ, Meir, 2015-11-05 In the knowledge economy it is widely recognized that the effective engagement and utilization of human capital and the other facets of intellectual capital are critical if not the only means to organizations short term success and long term survival Quantitative Multidisciplinary Approaches in Human Capital and Asset Management provides robust scientific research and multidisciplinary perspectives on the theory behind the governance of human capital and human assets Focusing on insight from the diverse fields of economics finance accounting IT biology and development this timely publication is designed to fit the research needs of researchers practitioners graduate level students and executives seeking methods for managing intellectual capital in the new knowledge economy The Eastern Fleet and the Indian Ocean, 1942-1944 Charles Stephenson, 2022-04-06 A study of the British Royal Navy's activities in the Indian Ocean during World War II led by Admiral Sir James Somerville The story of the British Eastern Fleet which operated in the Indian Ocean against Japan has rarely been told Although it was the largest fleet deployed by the Royal Navy prior to 1945 and played a vital part in the theatre it was sent to protect it has no place in the popular consciousness of the naval history of the Second World War So Charles Stephenson's deeply researched and absorbing narrative gives this forgotten fleet the recognition it deserves British pre war naval planning for the Far East is part of the story as is the disastrous loss of the battleship Prince of Wales and battlecruiser Repulse in 1941 but the body of the book focuses on the new fleet commanded by Admiral Sir James Somerville and its operations against the Japanese navy and aircraft as well as Japanese and German submarines Later in the war once the fleet had been reinforced with an American aircraft carrier it was strong enough to take more aggressive actions against the Japanese and these are described in vivid detail Charles Stephenson's authoritative study should appeal to readers who have a special interest in the war with Japan in naval history more generally and Royal Navy in particular Praise for The Eastern Fleet and the Indian Ocean 1942-1944 This meticulously researched outstandingly clear well written and absorbing account is long overdue and will most likely become a standard work The text is most helpfully supported by over 80 pages of detailed end notes referenced to each chapter and a detailed index This is not only a book for naval historians but also for anyone with an interest in the War in the Indian Ocean region Highly recommended Military Historical Society I enjoyed this book it gives us an account of an often neglected part of the war at sea and of the achievements of Admiral Somerville who kept his fleet intact in the face of a potentially overwhelming opponent then was willing to acknowledge that his fleet needed to improve

Clothes Make the Character Lora Ann Sigler, 2021-02-26 Clothes make the man or woman This is especially true in early Hollywood silent films where a character's appearance could show an immense number of different things about them For example Theda Bara's role in A Fool There Was 1915 was known for her revealing clothing seductive appearance and being the first Vamp Wardrobe and costume design played a larger role in silent films than in modern movies The character's clothes told the audience who they were and what their role was in the movie In this in depth analysis the author provides examples and explanations about noteworthy characters who used their appearance to further their fame

Carceral Spaces Nick Gill, 2016-04-15 This book draws together the work of a new community of scholars with a growing interest in carceral geography, the geographical study of practices of imprisonment and detention. It combines work by geographers on mainstream penal establishments where people are incarcerated by the prevailing legal system with geographers' recent work on migrant detention centres where irregular migrants and refused asylum seekers are detained, ostensibly pending decisions on admittance or repatriation. Working in these contexts, the book's contributors investigate the geographical location and spatialities of institutions, the nature of spaces of incarceration and detention and experiences inside them, governmentality and prisoner agency, cultural geographies of penal spaces and mobility in the carceral context. In dialogue with emergent and topical agendas in geography around mobility, space and agency and in relation to international policy challenges such as the disfunctionality of imprisonment and the search for alternatives to detention, this book presents a timely addition to emergent interdisciplinary scholarship that will prompt dialogue among those working in geography, criminology and prison sociology.
