

An abstract sculpture featuring two main components: a large, glossy black curved form and a large, matte white curved form. They are intertwined in a dynamic, flowing manner, creating a sense of movement and balance. The black form has a smooth, reflective surface, while the white form is more solid and matte. The background is a plain, light color, which makes the sculpture stand out.

A Companion to Contemporary Design since 1945 Anne Massey, 2019-04-22 A critical overview of contemporary design and its place within the broader context of art history A Companion to Contemporary Design since 1945 introduces readers to a collection of specially commissioned essays exploring the complex areas of design that emerged through the latter half of the twentieth century design history design methods design studies and more recently design thinking The book delivers a thoughtful overview of all design disciplines and also strives to stimulate inter disciplinary debate and examine unconsidered convergences among design applications in different fields By offering a new perspective on design the articles assembled here present a challenging account of the boundaries between design history and its cognate disciplines especially art history The volume comprises five sections Time Place Space Objects and Audiences that discuss environments for design and how we interact with designed objects and spaces Notable features include 24 new essays reflecting the current state of design history and theory and examining developments on a global basis Contributions by eminent scholars and practitioners from around the globe Enriched throughout with illustrations A Companion to Contemporary Design since 1945 provides a new and thought provoking revision of our conception and understanding of contemporary design that will be essential reading for students at both undergraduate and graduate levels as well as researchers and teachers working in design history theory and practice and in related fields

The Color Revolution Regina Lee Blaszczyk, 2012-08-31 A history of color and commerce from haute couture to automobile showrooms to interior design When the fashion industry declares that lime green is the new black or instructs us to think pink it is not the result of a backroom deal forged by a secretive cabal of fashion journalists designers manufacturers and the editor of Vogue It is the latest development of a color revolution that has been unfolding for more than a century In this book the award winning historian Regina Lee Blaszczyk traces the relationship of color and commerce from haute couture to automobile showrooms to interior design describing the often unrecognized role of the color profession in consumer culture Blaszczyk examines the evolution of the color profession from 1850 to 1970 telling the stories of innovators who managed the color cornucopia that modern artificial dyes and pigments made possible These color stylists color forecasters and color engineers helped corporations understand the art of illusion and the psychology of color Blaszczyk describes the strategic burst of color that took place in the 1920s when General Motors introduced a bright blue sedan to compete with Ford's all black Model T and when housewares became available in a range of brilliant hues She explains the process of color forecasting not a conspiracy to manipulate hapless consumers but a careful reading of cultural trends and consumer taste And she shows how color information flowed from the fashion houses of Paris to textile mills in New Jersey Today professional colorists are part of design management teams at such global corporations as Hilton Disney and Toyota The Color Revolution tells the history of how colorists help industry capture the hearts and dollars of consumers

Staging Authority Eva Giloi, Martin Kohlrausch, Heikki Lempa, Heidi Mehrkens, Philipp Nielsen, Kevin Rogan, 2022-10-24 Staging Authority Presentation and Power in Nineteenth Century Europe is a comprehensive handbook on how the presentation embodiment and performance of authority changed in the long nineteenth century It focuses on the diversification of authority what new forms and expressions of authority arose in that critical century how traditional authority figures responded and adapted to those changes and how the public increasingly participated in constructing and validating authority It pays particular attention to how spaces were transformed to offer new possibilities for the presentation of authority and how the mediatization of presence affected traditional authority The handbook's fourteen chapters draw on innovative methodologies in cultural history and the aligned fields of the history of emotions urban geography persona studies gender studies media studies and sound studies Visual Merchandising Louisa Iarocci, 2017-07-05 Situated at the crossroads of visual culture and consumerism this essay collection examines visual merchandising as both a business and an art It seeks to challenge that scholarly ambivalence that often celebrates the spectacle but denies the agenda of consumerism The volume considers strategies in the imaging of selling from the mid nineteenth century to the present in terms of the visual interaction that occurs between the commodity and the consumer and between body and space Under the categories of Promotion Product and Place contributors to the volume examine the strategies in the presentation of retail goods and environments that range from print advertising to product design to store display and architecture Visual Merchandising The Image of Selling is located directly at the nexus of business practice and cultural myth where the spectator never loses sight of their status as buyer and the object of desire is always still a commodity A History of Interior Design John F. Pile, 2005 Delivers the inside story on 6 000 years of personal and public space John Pile acknowledges that interior design is a field with unclear boundaries in which construction architecture the arts and crafts technology and product design all overlap , The Management of Research Institutions Hans landscape of role playing games Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Architecture R. Stephen Sennott, 2004 For more information including the introduction a full list of entries and contributors a generous selection of sample pages and more visit the Encyclopedic of 20th Century Architecture website Focusing on architecture from all regions of the world this three volume set profiles the twentieth century's vast chronicle of architectural achievements both within and well beyond the theoretical confines of modernism Unlike existing works this encyclopedia examines the complexities of rapidly changing global conditions that have dispersed modern architectural types movements styles and building practices across traditional geographic and cultural boundaries A Wealth of Buildings: Marking the Rhythm of English History Richard Barras, 2016-09-23 This two volume book explores how the great buildings of England bear witness to a thousand years of the nation's history In every age investment in iconic buildings reaches a climax when the prevailing mode of production is operating most effectively surplus wealth is most plentiful and the dominant class rules supreme During such periods of stability and prosperity the demand for new buildings is strong structural and stylistic innovations abound and there is fierce competition to build for lasting fame Each such climax produces a unique vintage of hegemonic buildings that are monuments to the wealth and power of those who ruled their world This second volume presents three case studies of iconic building investment from the eighteenth century to the present day During the eighteenth century the wealth of the great landed estates funded the golden age of country house building by aristocracy and gentry During the nineteenth century the Industrial Revolution unleashed an unprecedented wave of infrastructure investment and civic building by the ascendant capitalist class Since the late twentieth century the power of global financial capital has been symbolized by the relentless rise of city centre office towers A final chapter argues that these different forms of hegemonic building are a physical manifestation of the underlying rhythm of English history Architecture, from Prehistory to Postmodernity Marvin Trachtenberg, Isabelle Hyman, 2002 Moving back and forth between the long shot on historical trends and close ups on major works and crucial architectural themes this insightful lively and original analysis also accepts the conventional period and thematic structures of architectural history and the canon of great buildings Designed to help readers understand and appreciate what great architecture is in its full dimensions of use structure and aesthetic qualities as well as its history this lavishly illustrated book explains specific qualities of each period and the often complex illuminating differences between the periods This comprehensive volume examines all aspects of architectural history from the Ancient world the Middle Ages the Renaissance and Baroque periods through the modern world For historians and architectural enthusiasts American Architects and the Mechanics of Fame Roxanne Kuter Williamson, 2011-03-01 Why does one talented individual win lasting recognition in a particular field while another equally talented person does not While there are many possible reasons one obvious answer is that something more than talent is requisite to produce fame The something more in the field of architecture asserts Roxanne Williamson is the association with a famous architect at the moment he or she first receives major publicity or designs the building for which he or she will eventually be celebrated In this study of more than six hundred American architects who have achieved a place in architectural histories Williamson finds that only a small minority do not fit the right person right time pattern She traces the apprenticeship connection in case studies of Louis Sullivan Frank Lloyd Wright Henry Hobson Richardson the firm of McKim Mead White Latrobe and his descendants the Bulfinch and Renwick Lines the European immigrant masters and Louis Kahn Although she acknowledges and discusses the importance of family connections the right schools self promotion scholarships design competition awards and promotion by important journals Williamson maintains that the apprenticeship connection is the single most important predictor of architectural fame She offers the intriguing hypothesis that what is transferred in the relationship is not a particular style or approach but rather the courage and self confidence to be true to one s own vision Perhaps she says this is the case in all the arts American Architects and the Mechanics of Fame is sure to provoke thought and comment in architecture and other creative fields
