

KATE L. TURABIAN 8th Edition

A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations

Turabian Quick Guide

Kate L. Turabian's Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations presents two basic documentation systems: notes-bibliography style (or simply bibliography style) and author-date style (sometimes called reference list style). These styles are essentially the same as those presented in The Chicago Manual of Style, sixteenth edition, with slight modifications for the needs of student writers.

Bibliography style is used widely in literature, history, and the arts. This style presents bibliographic information in footnotes or endnotes and, usually, a bibliography.

The more concise author-date style has long been used in the physical, natural, and social sciences. In this system, sources are briefly cited in parentheses in the text by author's last name and date of publication. The parenthetical citations are amplified in a list of references, where full bibliographic information is provided.

Aside from the use of notes versus parenthetical references in the text, the two systems share a similar style. Click on the tabs below to see some common examples of materials cited in each style. For a more detailed description of the styles and numerous specific examples, see chapters 16 and 17 of the 8th edition of Turabian for bibliography style and chapters 18 and 19 for author-date style. If you are uncertain which style to use in a paper, consult your instructor.

Notes-Bibliography Style: Sample Citations

The following examples illustrate citations using notes-bibliography style. Examples of notes are followed by shortened versions of citations to the same source. For more details and many more examples, see chapters 16 and 17 of Turabian. For examples of the same citations using the author-date system, click on the Author-Date tab above.

Teaching in the Life of the Church Darin R. Clements, 2025-04-28 I chose to publish my dissertation for two reasons First though quite narrow in scope as good qualitative research should be this research makes a modest contribution to the growing scholarship on Christianity in Cambodia Second this research makes an empirical contribution to the field of nonformal Christian Education from an Asian context in which Christians are a tiny minority As my literature review indicates the field of nonformal CE is dominated by a North American point of view which ironically is facing a general breakdown of historical CE institutions like Sunday school While much of the literature is useful in the Majority World it does not take into account the education levels educational contexts and social dynamics of places like Cambodia For example the findings from my cases indicate that nonformal CE in Cambodia has more in common with the Sunday school movement in the 19th century than with the functions organizational structures and teaching approaches discussed in current literature As I have presented these ideas in class feedback from students has consistently confirmed that my findings resonate with contexts across Asia Pacific
