African Theocology Ebenezer Yaw Blas, 2020-02-27 There is probably no set of issues of greater importance in the contemporary world than those that are to do with the Earth on which we live and depend The more alienated we become from it the more we contribute to our own destruction Christianity s complicity in this destruction is well documented and hotly debated Africa can ill afford to fall into the same trap that Western Christianity has in this regard One senses the urgency of these concerns in Blas s African Theocology Studies in African Religious Creation Care Extremely well informed in the field Blas not only draws on the three major religions in Africa Christianity Islam and African traditional religion but demonstrates familiarity with the most important recent contributions in the field from Western scholarship With its emphasis on pedagogics African Theocology will play a seminal role in the construction of curricula for an African Christian theology of the environment and is sure to be an essential contribution to all libraries in institutions of higher learning

Christianity and Ecological Theology E. M. Conradie, 2006-10-01 There has been a proliferation of publications in the field of Christian ecological theology over the last three decades or so These include a number of recent edited volumes each covering a range of topics and consolidating many of the emerging insights in ecological theology The call for Christian churches to respond to the environmental crisis has been reiterated numerous times in this vast corpus of literature also in South Africa

The Philosophical Roots of the Ecological Crisis Joshtrom Isaac Kureethadam, 2018-06-11 The Philosophical Roots of the Ecological Crisis Descartes and the Modern Worldview traces the conceptual sources of the present environmental degradation within the worldview of Modernity and particularly within the thought of Ren Descartes universally acclaimed as the father of modern philosophy The book demonstrates how the triple foundations of the Modern worldview in terms of an exaggerated anthropocentrism a mechanistic conception of the natural world and the metaphysical dualism between humanity and the rest of the physical world can all be largely traced back to Cartesian thought with direct ecological consequences

Biodiversity Conservation Ethics in Major Religions H. S. A. Yahya, 2010-10-22 Covering three broader issues biodiversity conservation religious doctrine and environment the book Biodiversity Conservation Ethics in Major Religions is the result of a unique approach It attempts to initiate scientific discourse through the fabric of religions Spread across 15 chapters the book covers the essence of 10 religions on biodiversity encompassing a wide range of issues related to conservation The book promises to be a useful resource for biodiversity students researchers and protected area managers and also for religious scholars who are invited to look at the broader themes of religions beyond theology

All Things New Gene L. Green, Stephen T. Pardue, K. K. Yeo, 2019-09-30 The Christian faith presents a distinctive vision of last things that God in Christ aims to reconcile the world to himself and through his Spirit and a new people to set all things to right This good news is for all nations and peoples but for too long the Christian doctrine of eschatology has focused on debates and arguments rooted solely in the Western church In All Things New leading theologians and biblical scholars from Africa Asia Latin America and North America offer readers a glimpse of how Christians around the globe are perceiving and describing the Christian hope The result is a remarkably refreshing and distinctive vision of eschatology guaranteed to raise new questions and add new insights to the global church's vision of the eschaton

Mission the "labour room" of theology Johannes Knoetze, 2022-11-09 Johannes Knoetze Associate Professor in Practical Theology and Missional Studies at the Faculty of Theology of the University of Pretoria served as the editor of this extremely important and relevant publication Mission the labour room of theology The book comprises of 21 chapters by various esteemed scholars in Missiology or Missional Studies The contributors engage critically with mission history and mission understandings from different contexts in Southern Africa The book is divided in three sections The first gives a historical denominational and current overview of mission in Africa A second section focuses on current theological understandings of the origin of mission the changing contexts of mission as well as importance of mission studies in the theological curriculum in Africa especially in the 21st century Africa A third section looks at the how of mission different modes or figure of mission under the title Mission as or mission in the context of It is an attractive publication with a wealth of information and a wide collection of reflections on the transmittance and reception of faith in Southern African contexts The chapters are written in a clear concise and understandable style This book will appeal to a wide audience ranging from undergraduate students ministers mission practitioners lecturers teaching practical theology missiology missional studies and scholars engaging in academic research

Christian in Public L. D. Hansen, 2008-02-01 Higher education has not escaped the imperative of transformation which has marked the post apartheid South African landscape The nature of the changes at universities however is open to critique Fundamental questions concerning the ideological moorings of knowledge and the politics of the curriculum have not yet been satisfactorily addressed During the apartheid era theology faculties played influential roles at traditional universities and were often characterised by unsettling exclusion of non Christian religions non Calvinist denominations and marginalised voices This volume of essays evidences a process at the University of the Free State s Faculty of Theology to reflect seriously about the need for transformation at the fundamental level that is of knowledge The challenge for theology at a public university is framed in terms of epistemological transformation A number of outstanding public intellectuals such as Jonathan Jansen Crain Soudien and Lis Lange have been invited to present papers to clarify the conceptual challenge and what this might entail for theology Well known theologians such as Conrad Wethmar Allan Boesak and Martin Prozesky reflect on the nature of theology and religion at universities amidst social exigencies Two international theologians Harold Attridge from the prestigious Yale Divinity School and Bram van de Beek from the Free University of Amsterdam share their experiences of institutions that exemplify excellence and ecumenical openness Theologians from the Departments of Practical Theology and Systematic Theology at the University of the Free State writing from the inside articulate the challenges they envision for theology in a post apartheid dispensation The essays represent a variety of perspectives but all attest to a commitment to rethink the nature and task of theology at a public university accepting the challenge of knowledge and power of plurality and otherness and of restorative intellectual justice These timely essays make a unique contribution to the discourses on transformation and on theology at a public university Mission in a Post Missionary Era Jonas Nwiyende Dah, 2008

Towards a Credible Environmental Ethics for Africa Aidan G. Msafiri, 2007 Religious and Theological Abstracts, 2004 Creation and Humanity Veli-Matti Karkkainen, 2015-04-14 Ecology and Theology in the Ancient World Ailsa Hunt, Hilary F. Marlow, 2019-03-21 This multi disciplinary volume brings together the voices of biblical scholars classicists philosophers theologians and political theorists to explore how ecology and theology intersected in ancient thinking both pagan Jewish and Christian Ecological awareness is by no means purely a modern phenomenon Of course melting icecaps and plastic bag charges were of no concern in antiquity frequently what made examining your relationship with the natural world urgent was the light this shed on human relationships with the divine For in the ancient world to think about ecology was also to think about theology This ancient eco theological thinking whilst in many ways worlds apart from our own environmental concerns has also had a surprisingly rich impact on modern responses to our ecological crisis As such the voices gathered in this volume also reflect on whether and how these ancient ideas could inform modern responses to our environment and its pressing challenges Through multi disciplinary conversation this volume offers a new and dynamic exploration of the intersection of ecology and theology in ancient thinking and its living legacy

The Human Right to Water: Justice . . . or Sham? Evelynne Fiechter-Widemann, 2017-05-05 Water is a matter of life and death Advanced technology and engineering enable humans to gain better access to it Nonetheless the conditions and effort required to reach this goal remain colossal in many countries Building a lasting infrastructure for adequate treatment before and after use is costly Therefore the author believes that a radical change of thinking among people around the world from the domestic to the large scale users becomes a priority Even if the United Nations entitles all people to justice for water more responsible and ethical use of it by all interested parties is more important than the spreading of promises which in practice may turn out to be a sham Only a better understanding that access to water rests on the efforts of everyone without exception will reduce overuse waste and pollution of the indispensable resource This volume while written from a theological philosophical and legal perspective focusing on John Calvin John Rawls and Paul Ricoeur demonstrates that water cannot be merely understood as a human right but also has to be dealt with from an economic point of view as well as under the authority of the Golden Rule

What Is a Person? Nancy S. Jekcer, Professor of Bioethics and Humanities Nancy S Jekcer, Caesar A. Atuire, 2024-12-03 Stepping back from the above analysis it is helpful to ask whether the shift to a more individualistic conception of persons carries traction for those who do not share its religious underpinnings Judeo Christian personhood was grounded on the idea that all and only human beings are made in the image of God imago dei for contemporary secular philosophers there seems to be no corollary justification for claiming that all and only human beings qualify as persons Some contemporary Christians such as Noonan have sought to defend an exclusive moral status for human beings by arguing that possessing the human genetic code affords the secular underpinnings for such a position Yet this proposal was eventually rebuffed as speciesist Speciesism a term coined in the 1970s by Ryder and popularized by Singer is the position that assigning moral standing on the basis of species membership is morally arbitrary

Diversifying Philosophy of Religion Nathan R. B. Loewen, Agnieszka Rostalska, 2023-06-01 Much philosophical thinking about religion in the Anglophone world has been hampered by the constraints of Eurocentrism colonialism and orientalism Addressing such limitations head on this exciting collection develops models for exploring global diversity in order to bring philosophical studies of religion into the globalized 21st century Drawing on a wide range of critical theories and methodologies and incorporating ethnographic feminist computational New Animist and cognitive science approaches an international team of contributors outline the methods and aims of global philosophy of religion From considering the importance of orality in African worldviews to interacting with Native American perspectives on the cosmos and investigating contemplative studies in Hinduism each chapter demonstrates how expertise in different methods can be applied to various geographical regions building constructive options for philosophical reflections on religion Diversifying Philosophy of Religion raises important questions regarding who speaks for and represents religious traditions setting the agenda for a truly inclusive philosophy of religion that facilitates multiple standpoints Christian hermeneutics in South Africa Hendrik Goede, Nico Vorster, 2024-02-26 Hermeneutics remains a divisive and polarizing topic within scholarly and ecclesiastical communities in South Africa These tensions are not limited to theoretical differences but often crystallize on a grassroots level when local churches and church assemblies have to make important decisions on controversial ethical topics such as ordaining women in church offices assessing the ethics of gay marriages and taking a stance on the land debate in South Africa This book makes a unique contribution in two ways firstly it focuses on the uniquely South African hermeneutical landscape secondly it relates theories to practical ethical application The unique scholarly contribution of this consists in it relating hermeneutics to ethics within the South African landscape A diverse group of scholars have been invited to partake in the project and the views expressed are often quite diverse This allows readers to develop an understanding and sensitivity of the various angles employed and the interests at stake in addressing difficult societal problems
