Africa's World War Congo The Rwandan Genocide And Making Of A Continental Catastrophe Gerard Prunier:

Africa's World War Gerard Prunier, 2008-12-31 The Rwandan genocide sparked a horrific bloodbath that swept across sub-Saharan Africa ultimately leading to the deaths of some four million people In this extraordinary history of the recent wars in Central Africa Gerard Prunier offers a gripping account of how one grisly episode laid the groundwork for a sweeping and disastrous upheaval Prunier vividly describes the grisly aftermath of the Rwandan genocide when some two million refugees a third of Rwanda's population fled to exile in Zaire in 1996 The new Rwandan regime then crossed into Zaire and attacked the refugees slaughtering upwards of 400 000 people The Rwandan forces then turned on Zaire's despotic President Mobutu and with the help of a number of allied African countries overthrew him But as Prunier shows the collapse of the Mobutu regime and the ascension of the corrupt and erratic Laurent Desiré Kabila created a power vacuum that drew Rwanda Uganda Angola Zimbabwe Sudan and other African nations into an extended and chaotic war The heart of the book documents how the whole core of the African continent became engulfed in an intractable and bloody conflict after 1998 a devastating war that only wound down following the assassination of Kabila in 2001 Prunier not only captures all this in his riveting narrative but he also indicts the international community for its utter lack of interest in what was then the largest conflict in the world Africa's World War is a gripping eyewitness account of the most bloody upheaval of recent times a book of passionate and unblinking intensity that is our best record to date of one of the great tragedies of the post Cold War era The SAGE

Peace, Preference, and Property Sandra F Joireman, 2022-11-29 Growing numbers of people are displaced by war and violent conflict In Ukraine Afghanistan Ethiopia Myanmar Syria and elsewhere violence pushes civilian populations from their homes and sometimes from their countries making them refugees In previous decades millions of refugees and displaced people returned to their place of origin after conflict or were resettled in countries in the Global North Now displacements last longer the number of people returning home is lower and opportunities for resettlement are shrinking More and more people spend decades in refugee camps or displaced within their own countries raising their children away from their home communities and cultures In this context international policies encourage return to place of origin Using case studies and first person accounts from interviews and fieldwork in post conflict settings such as Uganda Liberia and Kosovo Sandra F Joireman highlights the divergence between these policies and the preferences of conflict displaced people Rather than looking from the top down at the rights that people have in international and domestic law the perspective of this text is from the ground up examining individual and household choices after conflict Some refugees want to go home some do not want to return some want to return to their countries of origin but live in a different place and others are repatriated against their will when they have no other options Peace Preference and Property suggests alternative policies that would provide greater choice for displaced people in terms of property restitution and solutions to displacement Women's Perspectives on

Stability in Postcolonial African States

Emmanuel Bueya,2017-11-22 This book explores the instability of the African postcolonial state and demonstrates that such a fundamental crisis can be solved only through discourses and practices that are designed beyond the Westphalian model of the modern state and out of the neo patrimonialistic system of African governance The challenge of instability will not be overcome by rebuilding the African nation state undermined by social contradictions and complex emergencies rather stability will be achieved by opening a public space of agonistic democracy that is supported mainly by an overlapping consensus on justice The author argues that by reading critically the African philosophy of solidarity is contradicted by structural violence and inequality The political instrumentalization of kinship provokes the exclusion of minorities the marginalization of masses and the instability of the entire society Governance is reduced to mere conflict management The solution of legitimate violence becomes another version of the problem of institutional incapacity The author's contention is people are the ultimate and permanent agents of stability and the ground of stability must not be a strong state but the politics of reciprocity and union among people that implies a sense of justice in the power sharing and in the decision making process

Narrating Human

Rights in Africa Eleni Coundouriotis,2020-12-13 Narrating Human Rights in Africa claims human rights from the perspective of artists from the African continent and situates the key theoretical concepts in African perspectives undercutting the stereotypes of victimhood and voicelessness Instead of positioning literary texts as illustrative of points already theorized elsewhere the author foregrounds the literature itself to show the concepts it offers the ideas and responses stemming from complex historical circumstances in Africa and expressed by African writers The book focuses on how narrative creates new categories of thought challenging human rights dogma whereas the sum of the literary voices evoked also stands by the values of social justice and protection of human rights. The chapters take up key challenges to the narration of human rights in which the contribution of African writers is particularly important. This includes human dignity in the resistance to apartheid, the figure of the child soldier, how humanitarianism's images affect representational strategies of contemporary African writers, the challenge of testifying about rape in war, how to evoke the disappeared body of the torture victim, the centrality of flight in the refugee and migrant experiences, and finally the long shadow of the heart of darkness motif. Offering a sustained examination of the narrative treatment of key human rights concerns as expressed by African writers, this book will be of interest to scholars of African literature, postcolonial studies, African studies, and human rights.

Human Rights and Humanitarian Intervention Elizabeth M. Bruch, 2016-05-12. Human rights, peacekeeping, and humanitarian intervention have emerged in the past decades as important components of international law and practice. Adopting a methodology of Institutional Ethnography informed by Actor Network Theory, this book traces the practices of law and expertise from global IGO headquarters to the field and back again, and through various contemporary field missions from Bosnia to Afghanistan and East Timor to Sierra Leone. It answers several fundamental questions: How is human rights law engaged in establishing the peace, rebuilding the nation, and restoring the rule of law in post-conflict situations? How do human rights experts use law in their everyday work in the context of humanitarian intervention? How are law and expertise established, sustained, and transformed in the field? Offering a complex and nuanced explanation of humanitarian intervention based upon a multi-dimensional understanding of law and power, this book will be of interest and use to scholars, students, and practitioners in international law and policy, human rights, and humanitarian intervention. Its cross-disciplinary approach should also appeal to the professional communities engaged directly and indirectly with projects of humanitarian intervention, including staff at inter-governmental organizations, international lawyers and practitioners, and activists.

Globalizing Somalia Emma Leonard, Gilbert Ramsay, 2013-11-07 This collection of essays demonstrates how chronic state failure and the inability of the international community to provide a solution to the conflict in Somalia has had transnational repercussions Following the failed humanitarian mission in 1992 93 most countries refrained from any direct involvement in Somalia but this changed in the 2000s with the growth of piracy and links to international terrorist organizations The deterritorialization of the conflict quickly became apparent as it became transnational in nature In part because of it lacked a government and was unable to work with the international community Somalia came to be seen as a testing ground by many international actors Globalizing Somalia demonstrates how China Japan and the EU among others have all used the conflict in Somalia to project power test the bounds of the national constitution and test their own military capabilities Contributed by international scholars and experts the work examines the impact of globalization on the internal and external dynamics of the conflict arguing that it is no longer geographically contained By bringing together the many actors and issues involved the book fills a gap in the literature as one of the most complete works on the conflict in Somalia to date It will be an essential text to any student interested in Somalia and the horn of Africa as well as in terrorism and conflict processes

African Countries and the Global Scramble for China Ngonlardje Kabra Mbaidjol, 2018-12-10 In this new book on Africa China relations Ngonlardje Kabra Mbaidjol strongly engages in the heated debates on African cooperation with China an increassingly rich and powerful partner The current dominant view highlights the neo colonial and exploitative nature of these relations with a denial of any positive results for African people However the growing China Africa partnership took its roots at Bandung 1955 conference to culminate with an overt competition between China and other nations over African resources For many a new scramble for Africa emerges The author argues there is rather a global scramble for China a fierce battle to get the PRC s kind attention Africa is right to engage the struggle to access China s development funding Africa may wish to avoid being distracted by rival voices but to endeavor doing its own homework and rehearse for the global competiton in the only interest of African people Mbaidjol s book unpacks Africa s preparedness and rehearsal strategy

Rethinking Internal Displacement Frederick Laker, 2021-11-01 Internal displacement has become one of the most pressing geo political concerns of the twenty first century There are currently over 45 million internally displaced people worldwide due to conflict state collapse and natural disaster in such high profile cases as Syria Yemen and Iraq To tackle such vast human suffering in the last twenty years a global United Nations regime has emerged that seeks to replicate the long established order of refugee protection by applying international law and humanitarian assistance to citizens within their own borders This book looks at the origins structure and impact of this new UN regime and whether it is fit for purpose

Massacres and Morality Alex J. Bellamy, 2012-09-27 Most cultural and legal codes agree that the intentional killing of civilians whether in peacetime or war is prohibited This is the norm of civilian immunity widely considered to be a fundamental moral and legal principle Yet despite this fact the deliberate killing of large numbers of civilians remains a persistent feature of global political life What is more the perpetrators have often avoided criticism and punishment Examining dozens of episodes of mass killing perpetrated by states since the French Revolution late eighteenth century this book attempts to explain this paradox It studies the role that civilian immunity has played in shaping the behaviour of perpetrators and how international society has responded to mass killing The book argues that although the world has made impressive progress in legislating against the intentional killing of civilians and in constructing institutions to give meaning to that prohibition the norm's history in practice suggests that the ascendancy of civilian immunity is both more recent and more fragile than might otherwise be thought In practice decisions to violate a norm are shaped by factors relating to the norm and the situation at hand so too is the manner in which international society and individual states respond to norm violations Responses to norm violations are not simply matters of normative obligation or calculations of self interest but are instead guided by a combination of these logics as well as perceptions about the situation at hand existing relations with the actors involved and power relations between actors holding different accounts of the situation Thus whilst civilian immunity has for the time being prevailed over anti civilian ideologies which seek to justify mass killing it remains challenged by these ideologies and its implementation shaped by individual circumstances As a result whilst it has become much more difficult for states to get away with mass murder it is still not entirely impossible for them to do so
